REGGIE WHITE

Position: Defensive End
Height, Weight: 6-5, 285
Born: 12/19/61 in Chattanooga, TN
High School: Howard, Chattanooga, TN
College: Tennessee

Acquired by Eagles: 01-84 (4th overall) in NFL Supplemental Draft of USFL players
Years with Eagles: 1985-1992
Other NFL Experience: 1984-85 Memphis Showboats (USFL). 1993-98 Green Bay Packers (NFL). 2000 Carolina Panthers (NFL)

One of the most dominating players of his era, Reggie White set the NFL standard for defensive ends. His size, strength, and speed left offensive linemen helpless while he devoured ballcarriers and quarterbacks alike. He was the most prolific pass rusher of his time, ranking second in NFL history with 198 career sacks.

Career Highlights:

- Earned 13 consecutive Pro Bowl berths (1986-98)
- Holds the sack record for the Eagles (124.0) and the Packers (68.5), the only player to hold the mark for multiple clubs
- By the conclusion of 1992, had become the NFL's all-time leading sacker with 124.0 surpassing Lawrence Taylor's 121.5.
- Twice led the NFL in sacks, sharing the NFL record for number of seasons leading the league. In 1987 (while playing just 12 games due to the player's strike) set the NFC mark with 21 sacks that stood until NYG's DE Michael Strahan eclipsed the mark with 22.5 in 2001. His nine consecutive seasons with 10-or-more sacks remain an NFL record and his 12 seasons with 10-or-more sacks is surpassed by only Bruce Smith's 13
- Played six seasons in Green Bay and capped the 1996 campaign with a victory in Super Bowl 31

Philadelphia Eagles

Lincoln Financial Field

Upon purchasing the Eagles in 1994, Jeffrey Lurie stated, unequivocally, that building a new, state-of-the-art stadium would be a key component in the effort to build the Eagles into an elite NFL franchise.

"Winning the Super Bowl is the ultimate goal," said Lurie, the team's Chairman/CEO. "Stadiums and training facilities, however, are a vital element in the success and stability of franchises on both a present and long-term basis. As an organization, you want to assemble the best staff and players, but you also have to provide them with the best facilities and environment in which to achieve success.

"That's what we want to do with Lincoln Financial Field and the NovaCare Complex. With regard to each venue, we have made a dramatic leap. Both are striking in terms of their architecture and amenities, and can be seen as icons for the Eagles and for Philadelphia."

NovaCare™ COMPLEX

In grand fashion, the Eagles opened their NovaCare Complex practice facility in 2001. The spectacular 108,000-square-foot facility offers the very best in terms of space, amenities and care and effort put forth for the players, coaches and staff of the Eagles.

"The NovaCare Complex allowed us to go from having one of the worst facilities in the National Football League to the very best of facilities," said team Chairman/CEO Jeffrey Lurie. "It means so much for everyone in this organization to go to work each day and be proud of where they are working, from the executives, to the assistants, to the trainers, and, of course, to the players. Everyone in the organization, I think, is very proud of where they are working. It provides the whole organization with a great atmosphere and enhances the degree of camaraderie because there are all sorts of rooms people can actually spend time with each other as opposed to the setup we had to endure whereby people were so compartmentalized."

EAGLES YOUTH PARTNERSHIP GAME PLAN

EAGLES YOUTH PARTNERSHIP

Serving more than 50,000 low-income children each year with programs that unlock their potential.

OUR MISSION

To enhance opportunities and improve the quality of life for children and youth in the Greater Philadelphia region through health and education partnerships.

OUR STRATEGY FOR WINNING

Eagles Youth Partnership teams the resources of our corporate and nonprofit partners with the star power of the Eagles organization and its players to:

- capture the attention of young people
- inspire kids to learn and to embrace healthy lifestyles
- deliver critical services to those school-age youth who would be difficult to reach without the leverage of the football team

OFFENSE

EDUCATING youth to achieve their life goals

Eagles Book Mobile

The Eagles Book Mobile visits underserved children in schools, shelters, libraries, recreation centers, after-school/summer programs and parks. At each stop, the "Storybook Man" reads aloud to the children and invites them aboard to select their very own books to keep. Since 2000, the Eagles Book Mobile program has distributed more than 235,000 books to children, most of whom had never owned a book. Partners include: Lincoln Financial Group Foundation, Sovereign Bank, AMETEK Foundation, Target, First Book and the United Way of Southeastern Pennsylvania.

Eagles Chess Tournament

For the past two years, Eagles Youth Partnership has supported chess clubs in the schools and has hosted the Annual Eagles Chess Tournament, where more than 900 Philadelphia public school children compete in a full day tournament at Lincoln Financial Field.

DEFENSE

Tackling HEALTH problems that block children from achieving their maximum potential

Eagles Eye Mobile

In nine successful seasons on the road, the Eagles Eye Mobile program has provided free eye exams for more than 13,000 children in the Philadelphia and Chester-Upland public schools. During the 2004-2005 school year, the Eagles Eye Mobile provided comprehensive eye exams to more than 3,000 children in elementary and middle school. Of those examined, 82% needed and received free prescription eyeglasses through the program and several underwent vision-saving surgery. Former Eagles Pro Bowl Offensive Lineman Jermane Mayberry helped to establish the Eagles Eye Mobile in 1996. This innovative partnership of St. Christopher's Hospital for Children, Lincoln Financial Group Foundation, Independence Blue Cross, Merck, Inc. and the School Districts of Philadelphia and Chester Upland was the centerpiece of both a regional and national award in 2005 (see National Recognition on page 9).

EAGLES YOUTH PARTNERSHIP GAME PLAN

EAGLES CARNIVAL & AUCTION

The 11th Annual Eagles Carnival & Auction will be held on Sunday August 28, 2005 from 3:00-8:00 PM at Lincoln Financial Field - Rain or Shine.

This is the fans' chance to join every Philadelphia Eagles player, coach and cheerleader for a day of excitement including autographs, carnival games, locker room tours, coaches' chalk talks, a silent auction and plenty of food, fun & prizes.

All Eagles Carnival proceeds fund EYP's charitable programs, serving approximately 50,000 kids/year through the Eagles Book Mobile, Eye Mobile and other programs listed in this section.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Leveraging the Philadelphia Eagles to INSPIRE youth and communities toward a better "field position" in their lives

Eagles Playground Builds

Each year Eagles Youth Partnership and the Eagles organization devote a full day to transforming a neighborhood or school in an underserved community. Eagles players, staff, coaches and management work together with neighborhood adults and children to landscape, paint murals, inlay tile mosaic and build play structures. A grant from Eagles Youth Partnership covers the cost of each transformation.

Eagles Top Achiever Awards

EYP created the Top Achiever Awards to recognize academic excellence among area high school football players. Varsity football players from Allentown, Camden, Chester, Coatesville, Philadelphia, and Reading who maintain a 3.0 GPA are invited to an awards reception and are treated like MVPs at the Eagles Summer Training Camp. Since 1997, more than 750 scholar athletes have won this award. Eagles Sheldon Brown, Dhani Jones and Darwin Walker have joined Andy Reid and Jeff Lurie in honoring Top Achievers.

500 Gallons of Paint and 250 Gallons of Hope

Across the street from Lincoln Financial Field, Eagles Youth Partnership commissioned a mural entitled "Moving Toward Your Dreams." Mural artist, Don Gensler, spent nine months on the project and included 250 Philadelphia children in the design and painting of it. One section of the mural shows a boy, jumping into the clouds -- into his future. Where he lands is up to all of us.

EYP is Nationally Recognized

In 2005, EYP was recognized with two prestigious awards for leadership and excellence that together stradled the fields of sports philanthropy and community health. Jeffrey Lurie
Chairman/Chief Executive Officer

Jeffrey Lurie has shaped the Eagles into one of the most competitive organizations in professional sports on and off the field. During his tenure, Lurie has fueled energy, optimism, and pride throughout the entire organization, and has surrounded this team with state-of-the-art working facilities along with a family atmosphere. The results have been dramatic.

Since 1995, Lurie's first full season owning the Eagles, Philadelphia has been in the playoffs seven times, appeared in four NFC Championship games and in one Super Bowl. Only Green Bay (8) has been in the postseason more. With 101 combined wins in the regular season and playoffs, the Eagles are one of just five NFL franchises to have accumulated 100-or-more victories in that span.

In the last five seasons, the Eagles have won an NFL-best 66 games (including playoffs). Only one other team in professional sports (San Antonio Spurs) has advanced as many times in their respective playoffs than the Eagles current consecutive streak of five. Under Lurie, the Eagles have a greater overall winning percentage (.580) and appeared in more playoff games (15) and won more (8) than any other ownership group in team history.

In addition, the Eagles play at Lincoln Financial Field, the cutting edge NFL stadium featuring unparalleled fan amenities, are housed in the state-of-the-art NovaCare Complex, their day-to-day workplace since 2001, and have founded and nurtured one of professional sports most dynamic charitable foundations, Eagles Youth Partnership.

"I'm very pleased with the direction of the organization from top to bottom," said Lurie. "It takes a real commitment doing what we believe in, and we're all together in our focus to be the best sports franchise possible on and off the field."

Armed with team president Joe Banner, one of the league's sharpest minds and top salary cap experts, two-time NFL coach of the year Andy Reid, who was boldly hired in 1999 after a two-year stint as Green Bay's quarterback coach, and a franchise quarterback in Donovan McNabb, the Eagles are prime contenders for a Super Bowl championship.

"I'm very confident in our strategies and the excellent people we have working for the Eagles," said Lurie. "Our strategies never related to what was meant to be popular. I always felt that the decisions had to be best for the franchise and they often were very unpopular. If you want to succeed in the NFL with the salary cap, you have to make unpopular decisions."

The Eagles have reached double-digit wins in five straight seasons and are the only NFL team to do so since San Francisco in the previous decade. With 12-plus wins in each of the last three seasons, Philadelphia joined six other teams in league history to accomplish that feat. Lurie is proud of all the accomplishments but his goals are set much higher.

"I have said so many times, winning the Super Bowl is the ultimate goal of this organization," said Lurie, who serves on the NFL's Finance Committee, Broadcast Committee, Diversity in the Workplace Committee, Super Bowl Policy Committee, and is on the Board of Directors of NFL Charities. "Stadiums and training facilities, however, are a vital element in the success and stability of sports franchises. As an organization, you want to assemble the best coaching staff and best players, but you also have to provide them with the best facilities and environment in which to achieve that success."

* * * *

On May 6, 1994, NFL owners approved the sale of the Eagles from Norman Braman to Lurie, who fulfilled a lifelong dream of owning an NFL franchise.

Since becoming owner of the Eagles, Lurie, who was named NFL owner of the year by The Sporting News in 1995 and by Pro Football Insider in 2000, has gone about the business of shaping the football team and the franchise on and away from the playing venue, a venue packed with the most rabid fan base in the NFL.

"These fans are extremely, extremely deserving of having terrific football played here in Philadelphia," says Lurie. "We appreciate them. On the road, they are there by the thousands. At home, they are always a 12th man. You just so badly want to deliver winning football and championship football to them. This is an amazing football city."

Describing his philosophy of ownership as a "partnership between the city, the fans and the team," one of Lurie's primary objectives early in his time in Philadelphia was the formation of Eagles Youth Partnership, the team's non-profit, charitable wing. Now in its 11th year, EYP has developed into one of the most innovative and dynamic non-profit organizations in Philadelphia and in the entire world of sports philanthropy.

In 1996, Lurie was the recipient of the Torch of Liberty Award conferred by the Anti-Defamation League of Philadelphia and a year later was honored by Philadelphia's Operation Understanding, an acclaimed group that fosters interracial harmony among future leaders of the African-American and Jewish communities.

In addition, Lurie is a director of the Autism Research Foundation and the NLM Family Foundation. NLM co-funded a short documentary film entitled, "Autism is a World," that received a nomination for the 2005 Academy Award.

"Autism is one of the most under-funded conditions in the country, and we need to raise awareness," said Lurie. "Those who have autism are wonderful people, usually highly intelligent, sweet and caring. They are often unable to effectively communicate with others. A great deal more research needs to be done."

Prior to entering business, Lurie served as an adjunct assistant professor of social policy at Boston University.

He earned a B.A. from Clark University, a master's degree in psychology from Boston University and a Ph.D in social policy from Brandeis University. Lurie also served as the president and chief executive officer of Chestnut Hill Productions, a Los Angeles-based film company, since forming it in 1985. Lurie and his family are also primary shareholders of the Neiman Marcus Group.

Born on Sept. 8, 1951 in Boston, MA, Lurie now resides in the Philadelphia area with his wife and their 2 children.

Joe Banner
President

Long known as one of the NFL's top executives, Joe Banner has played an integral role in transforming the Eagles into one of the most successful and progressive organizations in professional sports, both on and off the field.

"Joe plays a crucial role in most everything we accomplish. His determination, intelligence and desire for success are invaluable assets to the Philadelphia Eagles," said Jeffrey Lurie, chairman/chief executive officer of the Eagles. "He's a great team player, unselfish and wants what's best for the franchise, our fans and our players."

The results on the field are very tangible. Since 1995, Lurie and Banner's first full year with the Eagles, only one team has appeared in the postseason more than Philadelphia (seven out of 10 seasons). Only one other team in professional sports (San Antonio Spurs) has advanced as many times in their respective playoffs than the Eagles current consecutive streak of five. In addition, the Eagles have won an NFL-best 59 regular season games since 2000.

One of the league's brightest football minds, Banner is lauded not only for his salary cap expertise, but for his negotiation skills and compatibility with head coach Andy Reid and the player personnel department in managing the Eagles roster on a long-term basis.

Esteemed Dallas Morning News columnist Rick Gosselin stated, "The Eagles [under Banner] have developed a strategy for the salary cap. And now it's the blueprint for financial success in the NFL: Draft well, play them young, extend them early." The New York Times hailed him as "the Joe Montana of the salary cap. He's simply the best." ESPN.com's Len Pasquarelli says he "should be the poster child for crafty and responsible salary cap management."

After three straight NFC championship game appearances, Banner's disciplined salary cap management in recent years allowed the Eagles to acquire two of the highest-priced players available in DE Jevon Kearse and WR Terrell Owens during the spring of 2004. In fact, Banner negotiated an intricate three-way trade with Baltimore and San Francisco that sent Owens to Philadelphia.

Banner does not go unnoticed within the Eagles organization. "With all the recent success of the team, most of the credit usually goes to the players and coaches," said Reid. "But without the support and hard work of the front office, we would not have that success. Joe Banner is a big part of that support. As I've said many times before, Joe is the best as far as managing that salary cap."

With Banner leading the charge, the results have been dramatic off the field, as well. His tireless efforts to forge a partnership with the City of Philadelphia to build a football-based stadium in Philadelphia came to fruition when Lincoln Financial Field opened in 2003.

Banner, who has been overseeing the day-to-day operations of the franchise since May 6, 1994, was also key in the Eagles successful efforts to secure a partnership with NovaCare, which resulted in the building of the spectacular NovaCare Complex, the 108,000-square foot training facility, the largest and most state-of-the-art such facility in sports.

"As I've told Jeff Lurie many times," said Philadelphia Mayor John Street, "deals of this nature wouldn't get done without having someone who demonstrates the tenacity and diligence of Joe Banner."

Banner, who was named to his current post of team president on August 1, 2001, has also been involved in the creation and execution of every department in the organization. Whether it was the restructuring of the football operation and bold hiring of Andy Reid, the creation of the league's most respected marketing operation, or the formation of the nationally-acclaimed Eagles Youth Partnership, he was at the center of those decisions.

In 2004, Banner was the driving force behind the Eagles Tackling Breast Cancer campaign. By selling over 32,000 pink hats adorned with the Eagles logo in October, the team raised $208,760 for the Abramson Cancer Center of the University of Pennsylvania.

The Eagles have earned several awards over the past few years, including being selected the best overall web site amongst NFL teams, securing 20 sports Emmys and 19 Tellys for the Eagles Television Network, and earning 11 Philadelphia ADDY awards for the "You Can't Script This Stuff" campaign in 2005. In addition, the Eagles media relations department earned the Pete Rozelle Award for the league's top public relations operation.

Under Banner's leadership, the Eagles popularity has soared in recent years. The waiting list for season tickets is over 60,000 people, merchandise sales and internet hits have increased yearly, and media attention is at an all-time high.

While football is a huge focus in his life, Banner also has time for being a devoted husband to his wife, Helaine, and a loving father to daughter Jill (16) and sons Jason (10) and Jonathan (8). The Banner family resides in the suburban Philadelphia area.

Banner also devotes a lot of time and energy to community service and is active in non-profit groups. He is the co-chair of the Philadelphia City Year Board and is responsible for bringing that program to Philadelphia. Most recently, Banner joined City Year's national Board of Trustees and is also the chair of its National Leadership Committee.

Of City Year, Banner says: "City Year is extremely important to me because I believe we live in a community and we each have an obligation to try to make our communities better places. For me, City Year epitomizes the values and beliefs by which I have tried to live my life."

For his efforts, he was named Citizen of the Year by the American Red Cross in 2004 for outstanding corporate leadership and commitment to Southeastern Pennsylvania's civic and charitable organizations.

In 2001, Banner also received a prestigious leadership award from the renowned PARTNERS Program, a charitable organization that aims to enhance social and race relations in the Philadelphia region.

Said Lurie of Banner's community involvement: "Joe is invaluable not only to the Philadelphia Eagles organization but to the Philadelphia community as a whole. On the professional side, Joe has been the point person on the most crucial issues facing our organization. Joe's impact on the community, however, is of equal importance."

Banner's expertise has led to a great deal of respect within the field of higher education. In 2004, he lectured at a class on creating a corporate culture at the Harvard Business School and a class on leadership at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

In 1995, President Bill Clinton appointed Banner to a panel of 10 judges nationwide, which selected the 15 recipients of the prestigious President's Service Award. He is also on the board of the Maxwell Football Club and the Philadelphia Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Banner (born 2/13/53) is a graduate of Denison University and was a sports producer and reporter at Philadelphia radio station WCAU 1210 AM.

Tom Heckert
Vice President of Player Personnel

One of the league's top executives, Tom Heckert is in his 5th season in Philadelphia. He was promoted to his current role of vice president of player personnel in 2003 and, on December 24, 2004, signed a contract extension through 2009. In this role, he works closely with Andy Reid in all player personnel matters while managing the player personnel department, which includes both college and pro scouting.

"Tom has done an excellent job with our player personnel department over the last four years and we're fortunate to be able to keep him for the next several seasons," said Reid. "He is one of the hardest working people I have ever met and is one of the best talent evaluators in the NFL."

Said team president Joe Banner, "The lifeblood of building a successful NFL team is having a strong player personnel department, specifically their success in the draft. Tom has been a tremendous asset in that area. He's bright and is very diligent in his work."

Since Heckert's arrival in 2001, the Eagles have acquired 13 starters (7 through draft, 2 via trade, 4 free agents). Included in those 13 players are five 2005 Pro Bowl selections. Prior to the 2004 draft, he also engineered the trade of 3rd-string QB A.J. Feeley to the Miami Dolphins for their 2nd round pick in the 2005 draft.

Heckert, 38, joined the Eagles as the club's director of player personnel on May 21, 2001, after a 10-year stint as a member of the Miami Dolphins player personnel department.

"In the interview, I just felt comfortable with him," Reid said, "felt comfortable with what he knew. I knew he wouldn't be afraid to tell me his honest opinion. I knew it wouldn't matter what the scouts or the coaches said. He was going to give me a straight shot."

Heckert's first draft with the Eagles in 2002 produced three Pro Bowl players: CB Lito Sheppard (1st round), SS Michael Lewis (2nd) and RB Brian Westbrook (3rd). CB Sheldon Brown (2nd) has also proven to be productive starter. Heckert has also shown a knack for finding key rookie free agents (G/T Artis Hicks, CB Roderick Hood, S Quintin Mikell, DT Sam Rayburn, and WR Greg Lewis among others) who not only earned roster spots, but have been solid contributors to the Eagles recent success.

In 1999, he served as the Dolphins assistant director of pro personnel/college scout and was promoted to director of pro personnel in 2000. Heckert served as both a pro scout and as a college scout during his first nine seasons in South Florida.

Heckert's scouting talents have been valued by the NFL. In 2003, he was appointed by the league to the 12-person College Advisory Committee, which advises college football juniors on their draft status.

Over his 14-year career in the NFL, Heckert's teams have never had a losing season, won their division seven times and made the playoffs 11 times, including the last four in Philadelphia.

During Heckert's tenure in Miami, he worked under two of the most successful head coaches in NFL history - Don Shula and Jimmy Johnson - who both personally recommended Heckert for his current post with the Eagles.

Said Johnson when Heckert was hired, "I told Coach Reid if I were to come back as a head coach, Tom would be one of the first guys I'd try to hire."

A native of Adrian, Michigan, Heckert joined the Dolphins after spending two years as an assistant coach at Hillsdale College in Michigan. He also was a defensive back at Hillsdale.

Heckert's father, Tom, began his coaching career in 1961 and spent 20 years in the NFL player personnel ranks, his last 13 with Miami before retiring in 2004. Recalled the younger Heckert, "I was around the football field and football offices probably more than I was home. I was always there. After school, I'd watch his practices. We'd go to every game. When I was really young, he'd be upstairs in his office working and I'd just watch tape, because it was there."

Heckert (born 7/17/67) and his wife, Kathy, have a son, Griffin (10), and a daughter, Madison (8), and reside in Glen Mills, PA.

Don Smolenski

Senior Vice President/ Chief Financial Officer

Serving as the club's senior vice president/chief financial officer, Don Smolenski is a valuable member of the Eagles front office. In his role, Smolenski works closely with team president Joe Banner and senior vice president of business operations Mark Donovan in developing and implementing initiatives and strategies throughout the organization. He also plays a major part in instituting policies and procedures for all employees.

Known for his effective, easy-going style, Smolenski oversees all aspects of the facility operation teams at Lincoln Financial Field and the NovaCare Complex, the organization's financial operations (including stadium financing, debt management, budgeting, and financial reporting), human resources, information services, insurance, and team travel.

"With his broad range of thinking, Don has helped to develop ways of melding the business facets of the Eagles organization with the football," said Banner.

With that macro view of the entire organization in mind, Smolenski successfully led a collaborative effort in the opening of Lincoln Financial Field in 2003. He continues to lead the organization's efforts to maintain a first class venue with a priority on quality customer service.

He also currently sits on the board of the Sports Complex special services district, a non-profit entity charged with improving the quality of life for the neighborhoods surrounding the stadium. He was also recently named to the Board of Leadership, Inc. a non-profit organization that promotes leadership and community involvement in the city of Philadelphia.

Smolenski joined the Eagles in 1998 as the club's vice president/chief financial officer and was promoted to his current post two years later.

Smolenski came to the Eagles from the International Hockey League where he was the chief financial officer. During his tenure, he oversaw all league financial issues and played an integral role in the expansion of the league. Through the development of expansion models and the analysis of league performance models, Smolenski saw the league expand from 12 to 19 teams. He also spearheaded the development of a salary cap and several other cost management programs as well as interfaced with each of the team finance directors.

Prior to his term with the IHL, Smolenski worked as a public accountant with Arthur Andersen.

An avid runner, Smolenski has completed the Detroit, Pittsburgh and Boston Marathons. After graduating with a BA in biology from Amherst College, he continued on to earn his masters in accounting from the University of Hartford. Don and his wife, Karen, have two sons, Jake (7) and Shane (5).

Mark Donovan

Senior Vice President of Business Operations

Now in his third season as the senior vice president of business operations, Mark Donovan is responsible for all revenue generating, marketing, and branding activities for the Eagles organization.

He leads the club's efforts in sponsorship sales and service, television and radio production, retail operations, event acquistion and ticket sales, new media, premium sales and customer service, as well as community and public relations.

Mark has brought a wealth of sports marketing experience to the Eagles having served as the senior director of marketing and sales for the National Football League. His "league" experience began at the National Hockey League, where he held the position of director of corporate sales and marketing.

"We take a great deal of pride in hiring the best people in their respective fields and in the case of Mark we have done that," said team president Joe Banner. "His track record in terms of forming and managing corporate partnerships and sales strategies is second to none."

Recognized as one of the most aggressive and successful business operations in sports, the Eagles have earned several awards under Donovan's direction, including being selected the best overall web site amongst NFL teams, securing 6 Emmys for Eagles Television Network, and earning 11 Philadelphia ADDY awards for the "You Can't Script This Stuff" campaign in 2005.

Donovan, himself, earned a prestigious award in 2005 as he was a recipient of the Sports Business Journal's Forty under 40 awards, which honors the 40 most influential sports executives under the age of 40.

Mark serves on the National Board of Directors of Pop Warner Football, The Police Athletic League of Philadelphia, The Philadelphia Sports Congress and is a member of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce Leadership Forum.

In addition to serving as the home of the Philadelphia Eagles, Lincoln Financial Field has quickly developed a reputation as a premier sports facility hosting events ranging from Bruce Sprinsteen in concert, Manchester United soccer matches, the annual Army/Navy Game, Temple Football and Women's World Cup Soccer. In 2005 the venue housed its first NCAA Championship as the National Lacrosse Championships were hosted over Memorial Day weekend.

A native of Pittsburgh, Mark graduated from Brown University with a double major in political science and organizational behavior and management. He played quarterback and was elected team captain his senior season. Upon graduation he signed a free agent contract with the New York Giants.

Mark and his wife, Kathleen, have a son, Luke, and a daughter, Maeve.

Sarah Martinez-Helfman

Executive Director
Eagles Youth Partnership

When Eagles Chairman/CEO Jeffrey Lurie and his wife, Christina, established Eagles Youth Partnership (EYP) as the team's non-profit charitable wing in 1995, they named Sarah Martinez-Helfman as its executive director. Now in her 11th year, Martinez-Helfman, frequently described as a "dynamo," is recognized as a leader in the field of sports philanthropy.

"From the start, we were all convinced she had the ability to not just manage grants, but create programs, work with our players, and get them involved," said team president Joe Banner. "I don't think there's anyone here who doesn't feel she has exceeded the expectations we had. Sarah is more passionate about what she does than anyone can be about what they do."

Under her direction, the award-winning EYP has given free books to more than 250,000 low-income children through the Eagles Book Mobile program and has examined the eyes of more than 13,300 children aboard the Eagles Eye Mobile. More than 75% of those children have received free eyeglasses.

"Eagles Youth Partnership helps define the cutting edge in the emerging field of national sports philanthropy," said Greg Johnson, Director of the Sports Philanthropy Project at the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. "Nowhere have I witnessed more compelling examples of the strategic use of a professional sports team's assets than in the direct programming offered by EYP."

In 2005, Martinez-Helfman and Eagles Youth Partnership were honored with two prestigious awards. The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the Sports Philanthropy Project teamed-up to recognize Eagles Youth Partnership with the inaugural Steve Patterson Sports Philanthropy Award, singling out EYP for its excellence and leadership in the field of sports philanthropy. Soon after, the GlaxoSmithKline IMPACT Award honored EYP for its excellence in the delivery of nonprofit community healthcare.

The awards came on the heels of a much celebrated example of EYP's impact in the community. During the week of Super Bowl 39, the Eagles Eye Mobile and Book Mobile made the trek to Jacksonville, as well, visiting local schools in that area. Along the way, the Book Mobile made stops to the elementary schools of current Eagles players in Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

Martinez-Helfman has devoted much of her career to working with young people. She has helped develop two National Service AmeriCorps Programs, has served as Chief Clinician of a residential treatment center for adolescent males in the juvenile justice system and as the lead advocate of a Rape Crisis Center.

On the corporate end, Martinez-Helfman spent three years in Europe, advising corporations, groups, and individuals on their charitable giving in England, Ireland, and Russia.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, Martinez-Helfman earned her B.A. in English literature and her M.S. degree in counseling psychology. She also holds certificates as a trainer of diversity, conflict resolution and non-profit management. Having lived in four countries, she now is happily settled with her family in Haverford, PA. Her simple mission in life is to leave the world better than she found it.

Andy Reid

Head Coach/Executive Vice President of Football Operations

One of the most successful head coaches in recent NFL history, Andy Reid has really put his stamp on this city's beloved football team. After taking over a 3-13 club on January 11, 1999, Reid has been simply masterful in turning the Eagles into one of the NFL's elite teams, leading the franchise to its first NFC Championship since 1980.

During his tenure, Reid, 47, has earned NFL coach of the year honors twice, compiled the highest win total (71) and winning percentage (.657) in team history, captured four consecutive division titles and four trips to the NFC Championship game for the first time in franchise history, and registered the most playoff wins (7) in club history.

"What Andy Reid has done is remarkable," Hall of Fame coach Marv Levy said, "especially in light of the salary cap and free agency and the inability to maintain continuity. What I like most about him is he's level headed. It doesn't concern him who gets the credit. He's not concerned with puffery. His teams are sound fundamentally, and most important, he picked a great coaching staff for them. I admire the man."

Under Reid, the 2004 Eagles clinched the NFC East title with five games remaining in the regular season and the #1 seed in the NFC playoffs after a 13-1 start. Along the way, Reid passed Greasy Neale (66) for the most wins in franchise history. The Eagles earned their first trip to the Super Bowl since 1980 after defeating Atlanta in the NFC Championship game.

In 2003, the Eagles overcame a 0-2 start and a slew of injuries to post their second consecutive 12-win season. During that season, Reid registered his 50th career win (in his 81st game) to become the fastest coach in team history to reach that milestone. A year earlier, Reid was the overwhelming choice as the NFL's coach of the year as they thrived without the services of QB Donovan McNabb to still capture home field advantage in the NFC playoffs.

After a 5-11 mark in his first season, Reid led the 2000 Eagles to the greatest turnaround in franchise history, finishing 2nd in the NFC East at 11-5 and earning a trip to the NFC Divisional Playoffs. For his efforts, Reid was named the NFL's coach of the year by the Maxwell Football Club, The Sporting News, and Football Digest.

His vision, his dedication, his passion, and his organizational skills are impeccable. For those reasons he was promoted to head coach/executive VP of football operations on May 8, 2001. Reid's contract was extended to 2010 during the 2004 season.

Eagles Chairman/CEO Jeffrey Lurie said, "I've always said, he's like a CEO on the field. He understands the big picture and the short-term picture. You have to always balance the two. Disciplined. Prepared. Smart. It's an awfully good combination."

"Andy has intellectual capital. He has no ego. To him, it's all about building team community. He's comfortable with himself. He's not paranoid, worried about what others think or report. He's genuine and people follow that."

Reid came to the Eagles after spending seven seasons as an assistant coach with Green Bay under Mike Holmgren. During that span, the Packers reached the playoffs six times and defeated New England in Super Bowl 31.

In his 13-year NFL coaching career, Reid's teams have made the playoffs 11 times (16-10 record in those games), has coached in the Super Bowl three times, in the NFC Championship game seven times, and in the Pro Bowl four times.

"Everyone who works with him and plays for him knows exactly where he is coming from," said team president Joe Banner. "We wanted someone with a strong set of convictions and who wasn't going to be affected by ups and downs and public pressure."

The Plan:

"The important thing is to lay a plan, and then follow it step by step no matter how small or large each one by itself may seem." This quote by Charles A. Lindbergh is scribed behind Reid's desk and reflects his coaching philosophy.

From the first day Reid set foot in the Eagles office, he orchestrated a plan on what it was going to take to make this a championship-level team. That plan, Banner said, "changed the personality of the whole organization."

Said FOX Sports Troy Aikman, "Andy's the perfect fit for the city of Philadelphia. He has the right demeanor for the job and doesn't let things affect him. He has strong convictions, believes in what he's doing and doesn't waver."

REID ALL ABOUT IT

- Has the highest win total and winning percentage of any coach in club history. Here's a breakdown: Regular season: 64-32 (.667) ... vs. NFC: 51-21 (.708) ...vs. NFC East: 29-13 (.690) ... Playoffs: 7-5 (.583) ... Overall: 71-37 (.657)
- Since 2000, no other NFL head coach can top his 59 regular season wins.
- Among active NFL coaches in their first six full NFL seasons, Reid's 64-32 (.653) record ranks behind Joe Gibbs (63-26, .708 from 1981-86), and is tied with Bill Cowher (64-32, .653 from 1992-97) and Mike Holmgren (64-32, .653 from 1992-97).
- Has more playoff wins (7) than any coach in club history.
- Reached the 50-win milestone faster than any coach in team history (81 games). Dick Vermeil did so in 88 games.
- Earned NFL coach of the year honors in 2002 and 2000.
- Is a member of the NFL's Competition Committee Coaches Subcommittee.
- In his 13-year NFL coaching career, his teams have made the playoffs 11 times (16-10 record). He has coached in the Super Bowl three times and in the NFC Championship game seven times.
- Owns a 14-2 record in regular season prime time games, a 45-19 mark (including playoffs) in games in November and later, and a 32-16 regular season road record.

A meticulously organized man, Reid began keeping a notebook as a Packers assistant - a three-ring binder - that would help prepare him to one day become a successful head coach.

Reid saved the old ideas and devised new plans, plans that he would later implement as a head coach. But this was not about game plans. It was about how to build a winning organization. It included practice, travel, and offseason schedules, notes from Holmgren's speeches, biographical information of other coaches, and much more.

Offensive Lineman Mentality:

Reid attributes his modest, selfless nature to his days as an offensive lineman in high school and college saying, "I'm glad to be of offensive lineman roots. That way you don't lose perspective amidst the glamour, the monetary things. You have that hard-work thing ingrained in your brain. You understand you haven't gotten to where you are without hard work."

Said Lurie, "He won't talk about himself. But he has a tremendous work ethic and a sense of honesty and genuineness. And he's a great leader. Everyone respects his human qualities."

That work ethic was developed growing up in Los Angeles. Reid's mother, Elizabeth, was a radiologist while his father, Walter, was an artist working primarily on backdrops for theatrical sets. Father and son would leave their house at 4:30 a.m. Walter, who worked across the street from junior high, would drop Andy off at the school and the younger Reid would work on various projects in the wood shop.

To this day, he is a skilled craftsman who has built cabinets and clocks. He also enjoys tinkering with old cars and, in fact, owns a 1928 "Model A" Ford.

Climbing the Coaching Ladder:

Reid enjoyed a two-year stint as the Packers quarterbacks coach, working with Brett Favre from 1997-98. Reid took over that role after Marty Mornhinweg departed to become San Francisco's offensive coordinator under Steve Mariucci, the original QB coach on Holmgren's staff.

In 1997, Green Bay won its 2nd straight NFC crown and Favre garnered league MVP honors for the third consecutive season. Prior to tutoring Green Bay's quarterbacks, Reid oversaw the tight ends, while assisting offensive line coach Tom Lovat. Under Reid's watch, Mark Chmura and Keith Jackson earned trips to the Pro Bowl.

It was in his first years with Green Bay that Holmgren urged Reid to learn the entire offensive system, not just the roles of the offensive line and tight ends. "It was his curiosity, the questions he would ask, his note taking," said Holmgren. "He was just a sponge."

In fact, Holmgren placed the "supervisory" tag on Reid in 1996 to prevent NFL clubs from hiring him as anything other than a head coach unless given permission.

A tackle and guard at Brigham Young University from 1979-81, Reid entered the coaching ranks as a graduate assistant under Lavell Edwards in 1982. It was at BYU that Reid met and worked with Holmgren, who served as the QB coach.

Reid next moved to San Francisco State in 1983 and helped them lead the nation in passing and total offense three consecutive years (1983-85). He went on to develop quality offensive lines at Northern Arizona, Texas-El Paso, and Missouri.

REID'S COACHING INFLUENCES

Hiro Tanaka, John Marshall HS, Los Angeles: "He took a bunch of kids of different races and combined them into making a team. We never had a problem."

Jim Sartoris, Glendale Junior College: "I was in that first group, and he came in, took a terrible program and built it back up into a championship team. I was right there for that."

LaVell Edwards, BYU: "I saw a man who knew how to treat people. He didn't care who you were, what you were about. At the same time, now, he could crack the whip. He never turned away an autograph seeker. And he didn't lose his cool during tough times."

Vic Rowan, San Francisco State: "Whenever he saw an interesting play on TV, he'd call up that coach and ask him to go through it with him in detail. He collected playbooks from all over the place."

Bob Stull, UTEP/Missouri: "He showed me how an ex-offensive lineman and offensive line coach could become a offensive coordinator and a great head coach."

Mike Holmgren, Green Bay: "I had a hard time believing anyone did it better than him when I was working for him."

Personal:

Born Andrew Walter Reid in Los Angeles on March 19, 1958, Reid has an older brother, Reginald. Raised not far from Dodger Stadium, Reid was a devoted fan of both the Dodgers and Rams (Merlin Olsen and Deacon Jones in particular). He went on to attend John Marshall HS in LA and Glendale (CA) Junior College (where he was inducted into that school's Hall of Fame in 2003) before matriculating to Brigham Young University where he earned both a bachelor's degree in physical education and a master's degree in professional leadership in physical education and athletics.

As a player at BYU, Reid was also a columnist for the Provo Daily Herald. "I had my own little column," said Reid, who once longed to be a writer for Sports Illustrated. "I loved Jim Murray (a long-time columnist with the LA Times). I wrote one of these cutesy deals, trying to write like Jim. (laughing) The editors took it easy on me. I enjoyed writing. I still do. I keep a journal to this day. It's a great release."

It was at a physical education class at BYU that Reid met the woman who would become his wife, Tammy. "What attracted me to him more than anything was his character. He's just a really good guy, very honorable and very conscientious." Reid converted to the Mormon faith in 1979 which Tammy and her family had practiced.

They have five children, each of whom was born in a different state - sons Garrett, 22 (4/13/83); Britt, 20, (4/28/85); and Spencer, 13 (6/16/92); and daughters Crosby, 17 (3/17/88); and Drew Ann, 15 (3/9/90).

Marty Mornhinweg
Assistant Head Coach

Marty Mornhinweg is in his third season in Philadelphia and his second as the Eagles assistant head coach. In this role, he works closely with Andy Reid, Brad Childress, and the rest of the offensive staff.

In 2004, the Eagles offense set franchise records in QB rating (96.4), completion pct. (61.4%), and gross yards passing (4,208). Along the way, QB Donovan McNabb set franchise records in QB rating (104.7), completion pct. (64.0), and passing yards (3,875).

Mornhinweg, 43, joined the Eagles as a senior assistant coach in 2003 after spending the previous two seasons as head coach of the Detroit Lions. From 1997-2000, he served as the offensive coordinator of the San Francisco 49ers. In 1998, the 49ers became the first team since the 1941 Chicago Bears to lead the league in gross passing and rushing yards.

Mornhinweg and Reid coached together as offensive assistant coaches in Green Bay from 1995-96. In 1996, Mornhinweg tutored the Packers quarterbacks as Brett Favre captured MVP honors in leading his team to a Super Bowl 31 win over New England. The two also coached together at Texas-El Paso in 1987 and at Missouri in 1991. Mornhinweg and Eagles offensive coordinator Brad Childress coached together at Northern Arizona in 1988.

Four quarterbacks have earned Pro Bowl honors while working under Mornhinweg: Donovan McNabb, Favre, and San Francisco's Steve Young and Jeff Garcia.

In all, Mornhinweg coached on the college level for 10 seasons: Northern Arizona (1994 and 1988), Missouri (1991-93), Southeast Missouri State (1989-90), Texas El-Paso (1986-87), and Montana (1985).

Born in Edmond, OK (3/29/62), Mornhinweg was the Northern California player of the year and an all-state quarterback as a senior at Oak Grove HS in San Jose, CA, where he played under current Seahawks coach Mike Holmgren, an assistant coach at that school. He went on to be a four-year starter at Montana, where he established 15 passing records for the Grizzlies. Mornhinweg also was a quarterback for the 1987 Arena Football League champion Denver Dynamite before suffering a career-ending knee injury.

Mornhinweg earned a degree in health and physical education from Montana and a master's degree in health and physical education/sports administration from Texas-El Paso in 1988. He and his wife, Lindsay, have four children, two daughters, Madison (14) and Molly Lynn (9), and two sons, Skyler (11) and Bobby Cade (6).

Jim Johnson
Defensive Coordinator

On January 22, 1999, Eagles head coach Andy Reid targeted and hired Jim Johnson as the Eagles new defensive coordinator. A veteran of 19 seasons as a NFL assistant, Johnson has proven to be the right man in leading the team's defense to become one of the premier units in the NFL.

"As I've said many times, Jim Johnson is the best in the business at what he does," said Reid upon signing his prized defensive coordinator to a lucrative four-year contract extension in 2005. "His defensive units continue to produce at a very high level as he puts a lot of pressure on opposing offenses."

The Eagles defense knows only one way to play and that is to attack. Over the last five years, Johnson's units ranked first in the league in fewest points allowed (1,241, 15.5 per game), sacks (236), 3rd down defense (33.0 %), and red zone defense (86 TDs in 213 attempts), 8th in opponent's QB rating (73.8), and tied for 9th in take-aways (156).

Despite employing a new tandem of starting cornerbacks in Lito Sheppard and Sheldon Brown in 2004, the Eagles defense ranked 2nd in the league in both points allowed (16.3) and sacks (47).

In 2001, Johnson's unit became the fourth team in NFL history to go all 16 games without allowing more than 21 points. Their streak of allowing 21 or fewer in 34 straight games was second longest in NFL history (Minnesota, 1968-71). In 1999, Johnson's unit forced a NFL-best 46 turnovers, including a team-record 5 interceptions returned for TDs.

Over the last six years, Johnson's defense has produced 19 Pro Bowl selections: Troy Vincent (5), Brian Dawkins (4), Hugh Douglas (3), Jeremiah Trotter (3), Michael Lewis (1), Sheppard (1), Corey Simon (1), and Bobby Taylor (1).

In 1998, Johnson helped the Seahawks register 10 TDs on defense, including 8 INTs returned for scores, 2nd most in NFL history. He arrived in Seattle after a four-year tenure in Indianapolis, the last two as defensive coordinator.

He spent eight seasons with the Arizona Cardinals (1986-93). After overseeing the Cards defensive line for four seasons, Johnson excelled as their secondary coach, helping Aeneas Williams become the first rookie cornerback to lead the league in interceptions (6) since 1981.

Johnson began his coaching career as head coach at Missouri Southern (1967-68), before serving four-year tenures at Drake and Indiana. From 1977-83, Johnson served as defensive coordinator and assistant head coach at Notre Dame, a stint that included a national championship in 1977.

An all-conference quarterback himself at Missouri (where he played in the same backfield with long-time NFL executive Bill Tobin), Johnson went on to spend two seasons with Buffalo as a tight end (1963-64).

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

Since the start of the 2000 season, Johnson's unit is highly ranked in several pertinent defensive categories:

Statistic		NFL rank
Fewest points allowed	1,241 (15.5 per game)	1st
Sacks	236	1st
3rd down efficiency	33.0% (369/1,116)	1st
Red zone TD pct.	40.4% (86/213)	1st
Opponent QB rating	73.8	8th
Take-Aways	156 (78 INT, 78 fum.)	T-9th

A native of Maywood, Ill., the 64-year old Johnson (born 5/26/41) has a bachelor's degree in education and a master's degree in physical education from Missouri. He and his wife, Vicky, reside in suburban Philadelphia. They have two children, Scott and Michelle, and three grandchildren, Katie, Justin, and Brandon.

Brad Childress
Offensive Coordinator

One of the league's brightest minds on the offensive side of the ball, Brad Childress is working in his 7th season as an Eagles assistant coach and his fourth as the team's offensive coordinator. The 49-year old Childress was named to his current post on April 10, 2002, and has had his contract extended twice since then, the latest through 2008.

"I do believe that Brad is one of the top assistant coaches in the National Football League," said head coach Andy Reid. "He's done a great job and he's going to get rewarded for it sooner or later [with a head coaching opportunity]."

One of the staples of Childress' offensive philosophy is holding onto the ball. In 2003, the Eagles established a team record for fewest turnovers in a season (22). The Eagles matched that total in 2004 and over that two-year span rank 3rd in the league in that category behind the NY Jets (36) and Indianapolis (37).

After successfully employing a three-headed monster at running back in 2003, the Eagles offense utilized the skills of Pro Bowl WR Terrell Owens and a multi-talented back in Brian Westbrook in 2004. As a result, the offense set franchise records in QB rating (96.4), completion pct. (61.4%), and gross yards passing (4,208). Along the way, QB Donovan McNabb set franchise records in QB rating (104.7), completion pct. (64.0), and passing yards (3,875).

"There are a lot of different ways to win a football game," Childress says. "You have to be open-minded. Innovate and adjust, play to the tools you have. We've done that here. We have different personnel now than we had in the past. You need to utilize what you have."

Childress' group set a team record with 415 points in 2002 despite starting three different quarterbacks. After McNabb and Koy Detmer went down with injuries, the Eagles turned to little-used A.J. Feeley, who compiled a 4-1 record down the stretch.

The club's quarterback coach from 1999-2001 (he was hired one day after Reid was named head coach on January 11, 1999), Childress is credited with the development of McNabb. Under Childress' tutelage, McNabb learned the intricacies of the West Coast offense as a rookie and has become a five-time Pro Bowl selection and a perennial MVP candidate.

Prior to joining the Eagles, Childress orchestrated one of the nation's most productive offenses at the University of Wisconsin, where he served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 1992-98.

During his 8-year tenure at Wisconsin, the team played in five bowl games, including Rose Bowl victories over UCLA in 1994 and in 1998. In '93, the Badgers set a school record and ranked fourth in Big Ten Conference history with 455.2 yards per game. QB Darrell Bevell (QBs coach at Green Bay), RB Ron Dayne, and WR Lee DeRamus all flourished under Childress.

A graduate of Eastern Illinois, Childress began his coaching career with a seven-year stint at Illinois. It was there that WR David Williams set a Big Ten record for receptions (101 in 1984).

Then, after spending the 1985 season assisting with the quarterbacks on Rod Dowhower's Colts staff, he returned to the collegiate ranks for the next 13 seasons with stops at Northern Arizona (1986-89), and Utah before moving to Wisconsin. It was during the first of his three seasons as offensive coordinator at Northern Arizona that Childress first worked with Reid. He also worked with Nebraska head coach Bill Callahan and Eagles assistant head coach Marty Mornhinweg at NAU.

Childress and his wife, Dru-Ann, have four children: sons Kyle (20), Andrew (16), and Christopher (15), and daughter Cara (22). Born 6/27/56 in Aurora, Ill., Childress attended Marmion Military High School.

John Harbaugh

Special Teams Coordinator

One of the top men in his profession, 42-year old John Harbaugh enters his 8th season in Philadelphia as the Eagles special teams coordinator. From 2000-04, Harbaugh's units are the only club to rank in the top ten in the articulate special teams ranking system by Dallas Morning News columnist Rick Gosselin. They finished first in those rankings following the 2001 and 2003 seasons.

In 2004, the Eagles ranked 4th on Gosselin's charts after compiling a league-high 4 turnovers on special teams and producing a pair of Pro Bowlers in K David Akers and LB Ike Reese. In 2001, Harbaugh was chosen as the league's special teams coach of the year in a vote of his peers.

"I've said time and time again that John is the best in the business at what he does and the statistics back it up," said head coach Andy Reid, who gave Harbaugh a lucrative three-year contract extension in 2004. "He spends so much time and effort preparing his guys each and every week. Special teams are such an integral part of this game today."

Under Harbaugh's guidance, David Akers progressed from a street free agent pick-up in 1999 to a three-time Pro Bowl selection and one of the league's most reliable kickers.

Over the last seven years, Harbaugh's units have produced 14 NFC special teams player of the week honorees: Akers (6), Brian Mitchell (3), Sean Landeta (2), Brian Westbrook (1), Jevon Kearse (1), and Allen Rossum (1). In addition, Akers earned NFC Special Teams player of the month honors in November, 2000.

Originally hired by Ray Rhodes on February 18, 1998, Harbaugh was one of just four assistant coaches to be retained by Andy Reid in 1999.

Harbaugh began his coaching career in 1984 at Western Michigan. Three years later, he joined the University of Pittsburgh staff, serving under Mike Gottfried (now a college football analyst for ESPN).

After a one-year stint at Morehead State, Harbaugh spent eight seasons (1989-96) as assistant head coach at the University of Cincinnati. Harbaugh then joined Cam

Cameron's Indiana staff for the 1997 campaign as defensive backs and special teams coach.

The versatile Harbaugh has coached on both sides of the ball throughout his collegiate coaching career and was the assistant head coach at Cincinnati.

The product of a football family, Harbaugh has been in and around the game his entire life. His father, Jack, is a 41-year coaching veteran and won the 2002 Division I-AA National Championship as head coach of Western Kentucky. In 2003, Jack was hired as Associate AD at Marquette where he oversees community affairs and public relations. John's younger brother, Jim, a former NFL quarterback, is the head coach at the University of San Diego. Other relatives in the sports spotlight include his cousin, Mark Gottfried, the head basketball coach at Alabama, and his brother-in-law, Tom Crean, Marquette's head basketball coach.

Harbaugh (born 9/23/62) attended Ann Arbor (MI) Pioneer HS before earning a degree in political science from Miami (OH) where he also played defensive back. He went on to earn his master's degree in physical education from Western Michigan.

Tommy Brasher
Defensive Line

One of the most successful defensive line coaches in league history, Tommy Brasher (pronounced BRAY-zure) is in his 7th season during his second tour of duty in Philadelphia.

Brasher, 64, is a model of toughness and courage. Throughout most of 2001, Brasher battled a bout with cancer. After being diagnosed with a cancerous tumor in his parotid gland (one of the salivary glands) on October 16th, Brasher underwent a six-hour surgery to have it removed. Three weeks later, he underwent another procedure to have 67 lymph nodes removed from his neck and shoulder. He missed just five days of work and not one snap of football on game day. "There was no reason not to go back to work," said Brasher. "Laying around in bed wouldn't help. As soon as I could get out of bed, I went back to work."

His battle with cancer earned him the Ed Block Courage Award in 2001. Although this award is given annually to one player from each NFL team, Brasher became just the third special non-player recipient of this prestigious honor.

Under Brasher's guidance, the D-line continues to be an area of strength for the Eagles. In 2004, that position group contributed with 32 of the Eagles 47 sacks (2nd in the NFL). Both Corey Simon and Hugh Douglas became Pro Bowl players under Brasher.

Brasher served in the same capacity with the Eagles in 1985 as a member of then-head coach Marion Campbell's staff. In his one season with the Eagles, two of his defensive ends notched 13 sacks apiece - Greg Brown and a rookie named Reggie White.

Brasher enjoyed a 7-year stint as Seattle's defensive line coach, seeing two of his linemen - Cortez Kennedy and Michael Sinclair - earn multiple Pro Bowl appearances. Kennedy was also named defensive player of the year in 1992. He also held identical posts at New England, Atlanta, and Tampa Bay.

An all-conference selection himself as a linebacker at Arkansas from 1962-63, Brasher was a college teammate of Cowboys owner Jerry Jones and former Dolphins and Cowboys head coach Jimmy Johnson.

After beginning his coaching career with a six-year stint on the high school level, Brasher's alma mater provided him with his first collegiate coaching assignment when he became the Razorbacks defensive assistant in 1970. He sandwiched stops at Virginia Tech, NE Louisiana, and Southern Methodist around a one-year stint as the defensive coordinator of the World Football League's Shreveport Steamer in 1975.

Born on 12/30/40, Brasher attended El Dorado High in his hometown and birthplace of El Dorado, AR. He and his wife, LaNelle, have two daughters, Melodie and Christy, and two grandsons, Nicholas and Brennen.

Juan Castillo
Offensive Line

Juan Castillo is in his 11th season with the Eagles and his eighth as the club's offensive line coach. After years of multiple changes along the line, Castillo's unit has become a force in the last five seasons paving the way for Pro Bowl QB Donovan McNabb. In addition, the Eagles yards per carry average has ranked in the top 10 during each of the last six seasons.

Under Castillo's tutelage, three lineman earned their first Pro Bowl selections: Tra Thomas, Jermane Mayberry, and Jon Runyan. In fact, Thomas and Mayberry earned starting roles for the NFC squad in 2002. That year, his troops gave up just 36 sacks, the least allowed by the club since 1982 (31). In 2004, the Eagles offense ranked in the NFL's top ten in both yards per game and points scored.

Castillo, 45 (born 10/8/59) is proud to be one of four coaches in the National Football League of Hispanic descent. In fact, Castillo is fluent in Spanish and has done work for the NFL in promoting the game for its Spanish-speaking audience. In 2002, Castillo and his wife were special invitees of President Bush for a Cinco de Mayo celebration at the White House.

"A lot of people laughed at me when I said I wanted to coach in the NFL," Castillo said. "You have to have a dream, and then you have to have a plan, and you have to stick to the plan ... I just want Hispanic people to know that anything is possible. People tell me they look at me and see: That guy's just like us. Our first language was Spanish. I'm just like a lot of people out there who are Hispanic and they're wondering if there's something better out there for them. It's a big deal for them to see that."

Castillo was one of four members of former coach Ray Rhodes' staff to be retained by head coach Andy Reid in 1999. He originally joined the Eagles on March 1, 1995 as an offensive assistant, a post he held until being promoted to tight ends coach in 1997. One year later, Castillo became the club's offensive line coach.

Castillo's work as an offensive line coach at Texas A&M-Kingsville (formerly Texas A&I University) caught the eye of Rhodes. During his five seasons there, Castillo aided in the development of five Division II All-America linemen, including future NFL players Mayberry, Jorge Diaz, Kevin Dogins, and Earl Dotson. In that span, Castillo gained valuable experience as a summer coaching intern for Tampa Bay (1994), Seattle (1993), and Buffalo (1992).

A former linebacker with Texas A&I and the USFL's San Antonio Gunslingers, Castillo began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater before spending 1986-89 on the staff at Kingsville (TX) High School.

To this day, Castillo is inspired by his late mother, Juanita, who worked around the clock to support her family after her husband died while Juan was just 12 years old. "She's something special. I learned about work ethic from my mom. I always worked hard and wanted to do better so I could give something back to her."

A native of Port Isabel, TX, Juan and his wife, Zaida, have four sons, Gregory, John, Andres, and Antonio.

David Culley
Wide Receivers

A veteran of 27 years in the coaching profession, David Culley joined the Eagles as the club's wide receivers coach on January 19, 1999.

The 49-year old Culley came to the Eagles after a three-year stint as the Pittsburgh Steelers wide receivers coach. During that three-year span, the Steelers reached the playoffs twice, advancing to the AFC title game in 1997 and to the divisional playoffs the previous season. In all, Culley has been to the playoffs seven times in his last nine seasons as an assistant coach, including five appearances in the conference championship game.

Under Culley's watch in 2004, Terrell Owens set a team record with 14 touchdown catches and became the first Eagles wide receiver to earn a Pro Bowl berth since 1997.

A native of Sparta, TN, Culley was recruited by current Dallas Cowboys head coach Bill Parcells as a quarterback at Vanderbilt University. Culley broke into the coaching ranks in 1978 when he oversaw the running backs at Austin Peay University. He next returned to his alma mater to coach the Commodores receivers from 1979-81. Culley then followed a succession of one-year stops at Middle Tennessee State, Tennessee-Chattanooga, and Western Kentucky with a four-year stint as quarterbacks coach at Southwestern Louisiana, where he tutored Brian Mitchell. Under Culley's direction, Mitchell became the first player in NCAA history to pass for over 5,000 yards and rush for over 3,000 yards in a career.

From 1989-90, Culley was the offensive coordinator/running backs/wide receivers coach at Texas-El Paso before joining R.C. Slocum's staff at Texas A&M. While there, Culley oversaw that school's receivers and helped the Aggies dominate the SWC from 1991-93.

Culley then jumped to the NFL ranks to tutor wide receivers, first with Tampa Bay (1994-95) and then with the Steelers (1996-98). It was under Culley's supervision in 1997 that Pittsburgh WR Yancey Thigpen hauled in 79 passes for a Steelers single-season record, 1,398 yards and 7 touchdowns en route to Pro Bowl honors.

Culley graduated from Vanderbilt with a degree in health and physical education. He and his wife, Carolyn, have a son, Monty (9/5/74), and daughter, Jessie (10/17/90).

Ted Daisher
Special Teams Quality Control

Ted Daisher is in his second season with the Eagles as special teams quality control coach. In this role, he assists special teams coordinator John Harbaugh and also aids Tommy Brasher with the defensive line.

Harbaugh served as assistant head coach at the University of Cincinnati while Daisher was the Bearcats defensive line coach.

Daisher, 50, spent 22 seasons as an assistant coach in the college ranks, including stints at East Carolina (2001-02, outside linebackers and defensive ends), Indiana (1998-2000, defensive line), Army (1995-97, defensive line), Cincinnati (1989-92, defensive line), Eastern Michigan (1985-88, defensive ends), Northern Illinois (1980-84), and Illinois (1979). He coached on the same staff with Eagles offensive coordinator Brad Childress at Illinois. Both Northern Illinois and Eastern Michigan won Mid-American Conference championships while he was on the staffs of those respective institutions.

Daisher coached future NFL players Vaughn Booker and former Eagle Ronnie Dixon at Cincinnati, and Pro Bowl DE Adewale Ogunleye (Bears) and Kemp Rasmussen (Panthers) at Indiana.

In 2003, he served as head coach at East Mecklenberg (NC) High School where he led those Eagles to a 7-4 regular season record and a playoff berth. He also served as head coach at Fenwick (IL) HS from 1993-94. He spent the 1978 football season coaching receivers and defensive backs at Kalamazoo (MI) Christian High School.

Tom Melvin Tight Ends

In 1983, Tom Melvin was an offensive lineman at San Francisco State University. His position coach that year was a fellow just two years his senior by the name of Andy Reid.

Today, Melvin is in his seventh season as a member of the Eagles offensive coaching staff and his fourth as the club's tight ends coach. He served his first three seasons as the team's offensive assistant/quality control coach.

Melvin played a key role in the development of tight end L.J. Smith, a 2nd round draft choice in 2003, who has hauled in 73 passes and 7 TDs (including playoffs) over his first two NFL campaigns.

The 43-year old Melvin joined the Eagles after an eight-year stint at Occidental College, where he served as the school's offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. In 1993, Melvin led the Tigers to a school-record 326 points and 2,526 rushing yards en route to an 8-1 record.

Prior to his tenure at Occidental, Melvin served as the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach at the University of Cal-Santa Barbara. At UCSB, Melvin orchestrated the nation's fifth ranked offense in 1989 while coaching five All-America selections.

Following his playing career at San Francisco State, Melvin went on to begin his coaching career as a graduate assistant at that school, serving on the same staff with Reid. He then moved on to Northern Arizona, where he tutored TE Shawn Collins, a first-round draft choice of Atlanta in 1989.

Born October 1, 1961 in Redwood City, CA, Melvin attended Cubberley HS in Palo Alto. Today, he holds a bachelor's degree in physical education from San Francisco State and a master's degree in educational administration from Northern Arizona.

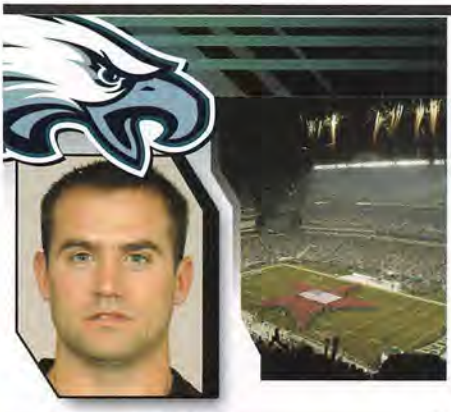
Mike Reed
Defensive Assistant/Quality Control

Mike Reed is in his third season as the club's defensive assistant/quality control coach. In this role, Reed's primary duties are breaking down game tapes and tendencies of the offense of upcoming opponents, coordinating the offensive scout team during practice, and assisting linebackers coach Steve Spagnuolo with that position group.

Reed joined the Eagles on February 25, 2003, after a three-year stint as an assistant coach at the University of Richmond, where he tutored wide receivers from 2000-01 and defensive backs in 2002.

In 2002, Reed served in the minority coaching intern program with the Eagles during training camp. In 1995, Reed was the "Mr. Irrelevant" of the NFL draft, as he was chosen with the final pick in the 7th round by Carolina. He spent two seasons with the Panthers and also played two seasons in NFL Europe, including a stint with the 1999 World Bowl champion Frankfurt Galaxy. Prior to his tenure at Richmond, Reed was the defensive coordinator at Suitland (MD) HS in 1999 and coached the defensive backs with the Kiel Hurricanes in Germany in 2000. Reed began his coaching career as the wide receivers and defensive backs coach at his alma mater, Salesianum HS in Wilmington, DE.

Reed, 32 (born 8/16/72), earned a degree in communication/education from Boston College in 1994. He was a four-year starter at cornerback for the Eagles and earned second-team All-Big East honors as a junior.



Bill Shuey
Offensive Assistant/Quality Control

Bill Shuey is in his third season as the club's offensive assistant/quality control coach. In this role, Shuey is responsible for assisting the offensive coaching staff in breaking down film of upcoming opponents, self-scouting, and computer analysis.

After a two-year stint as the assistant to the head coach, Bill Shuey was promoted to offensive assistant/quality control coach on February 7, 2003.

Shuey, 30 (born 10/5/74), served as an intern with the Eagles for their training camps in 1999 and 2000 while serving as a health and physical education teacher at Pennridge High School in Perkasie, PA. A native of Bethlehem, PA, he earned a B.A. in sports management from Slippery Rock and a M.S. in education from West Virginia.

Shuey was a defensive back and running back for semi-pro football teams in Pittsburgh in 1996-98 and in the Lehigh Valley from 1999-2000.

Pat Shurmur
Quarterbacks

The 40-year old Shurmur is in his fourth season as the Eagles quarterbacks coach and his seventh as member of Andy Reid's staff.

In this role, he has helped Donovan McNabb earn three of his five Pro Bowl berths. In 2004, McNabb turned in the most productive season of his career, establishing franchise records in QB rating (104.7), completion pct. (64.0), and passing yards (3,875). In fact, McNabb became the only quarterback in NFL history to have a season with 30-plus TD passes (31) and fewer than 10 interceptions (8).

In 2002, Shurmur earned praise for his poise displayed after McNabb and Koy Detmer went down with injuries late in the season. Down to little-used A.J. Feeley, who had not started since his junior year at Oregon, the Eagles went 4-1 down the stretch. Feeley, a 5th round draft choice in 2001, was traded to Miami in 2004 for a 2nd round pick in 2005.

His first three seasons in Philadelphia were spent as the Eagles tight ends coach, helping develop three-time Pro Bowler Chad Lewis.

An All-Big Ten conference center and team captain at Michigan State, Shurmur joined Andy Reid's staff in Philadelphia in 1999 after an 11-year stint as a college assistant.

Shurmur spent the 1998 season at Stanford as an offensive line coach in charge of the centers and guards. Under his tutelage, the Cardinal offensive line allowed the fewest sacks per pass attempt in the PAC 10 and, in the process, helped first-year quarterback Todd Husak become the third quarterback in Stanford history to throw for over 3,000 yards in a season.

Prior to his tenure at Stanford, Shurmur spent nine seasons at Michigan State instructing the tight ends, special teams, and offensive line. Under his guidance, MSU developed three tight ends that went on to the NFL: Ty Hallock, Duane Young, and Mitch Lyons. In addition, Shurmur helped Derrick Mason establish a school record with 2,575 career kickoff return yards.

Shurmur himself was a four-year letter winner at Michigan State, earning All-Big Ten conference and honorable mention All-America honors in 1987. That same year, Shurmur co-captained a Spartans squad that defeated USC in the Rose Bowl. A solid student as well, he earned his MBA in financial administration. As such, the Dearborn Heights, MI, native became the first graduate student to play at MSU.

After signing as a rookie free agent with Green Bay in 1988, Shurmur was released during training camp and subsequently began his coaching career, becoming a graduate assistant with the Spartans that fall.

A product of Divine Child High School in Dearborn, Pat comes from a football family. His uncle, the late Fritz Shurmur, served as the Green Bay Packers defensive coordinator from 1994-98 and helped that club win two NFC championships and one Super Bowl title.

Born 4/14/65, Pat and his wife, Jennifer (a former swimmer at Michigan State), have four children, daughters Allyson (13), Erica (11) and Claire (3), and son Kyle (8).

Steve Spagnuolo
Linebackers

Steve Spagnuolo is in his second season as the club's linebackers coach. During his first season in that role, Spagnuolo (pronounced SPAG-no-low) oversaw the remarkable story of Jeremiah Trotter, who, despite starting just 9 games at middle linebacker after re-signing with the Eagles in July, earned a Pro Bowl berth in his return to Philadelphia. Trotter solidified the run defense with 80 tackles, including a team-leading 10 behind the line of scrimmage.

Spagnuolo originally joined the Eagles coaching staff in 1999 as a defensive assistant/quality control coach working specifically with the team's safeties. Two years later, he was promoted to defensive backs coach, where he spent three seasons tutoring the likes of Pro Bowlers Brian Dawkins, Bobby Taylor, Troy Vincent, and Michael Lewis. In those three seasons, the Eagles pass defense ranked in the NFL's top ten in three telling statistical categories: 3rd down defense, touchdown passes allowed, and net yards per pass attempt.

Prior to joining the Eagles, the 45-year old Spagnuolo spent 15 seasons in the collegiate coaching ranks and two years in NFL Europe. He spent the 1998 season as the defensive coordinator of NFL Europe's Frankfurt Galaxy, who finished second in the league in total defense en route to a World Bowl appearance. In fact, four of the six linebackers and nine of the 11 defensive starters he tutored went on to play in the NFL. Spagnuolo also served as the defensive line and special teams coach of the Barcelona Dragons in 1992.

A native of Grafton, MA, Spagnuolo has served as a defensive coordinator on the college level with Connecticut and Maine. In addition, he served as assistant coach at Massachusetts, Lafayette, Rutgers, and Bowling Green. Prior to his stint at Maine, Spagnuolo spent four months as a scout for the San Diego Chargers under then-general manager Bobby Beathard. His first NFL experience came in 1983 as an intern with the Washington Redskins under-then assistant general manager Charlie Casserly.

Born December 21, 1959 in Whitinsville, MA, Spagnuolo attended Grafton (MA) HS. He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Springfield (MA) College and a master's degree in sports management from the University of Massachusetts.

A veteran assistant in the college and professional ranks, Trent Walters made the most of his inaugural campaign in Philadelphia, tutoring the Eagles cornerbacks. Employing a new trio of cornerbacks in Lito Sheppard, Sheldon Brown, and Roderick Hood, the Eagles defense did not miss a beat, finishing 2nd in the league in points allowed and sacks. Sheppard, in fact, earned first team All-Pro honors, as well as a starting role for the NFC squad in the Pro Bowl.

Walters was added to the Eagles coaching staff on March 2, 2004, after a two-year stint as secondary coach under Tyrone Willingham at Notre Dame.

During his tenure at Notre Dame, Walters tutored four future NFL draft choices: Gerome Sapp and Shane Walton in 2003, and Glenn Earl and Vontez Duff in 2004. In 2002, the Fighting Irish compiled a 10-3 record, while finishing 10th in the nation in points allowed (16.7 per game) and 13th in total defense (300.0 yards per game).

Walters also had an impressive eight-year stint as a defensive coach under Dennis Green with the Minnesota Vikings from 1994-2001. During that tenure, the Vikings made the playoffs six times and posted a 77-51 (.601) record. Walters coached the Vikings outside linebackers from 1994-99 before switching to inside linebackers in 2000 and then defensive assistant in 2001. Walters also had a one-year stint as defensive backs coach with the Cincinnati Bengals in 1984.

Walters served as an assistant coach at Indiana, Louisville, Washington, Pittsburgh, and Texas A&M. He coached on the same staff with Eagles defensive coordinator Jim Johnson at Indiana and with Eagles wide receivers coach David Culley at Texas A&M. Walters tutored Pro Bowl CB Ray Buchanan at Louisville, Pro Bowl CB Aaron Glenn and Kevin Smith at Texas A&M, and NFL DBs Vince Newsome, Ray Horton, Vince Albritton, and Vestee Jackson at Washington, and Sapp and Earl at Notre Dame.

Walters led the CFL in punt returns in 1966 while playing for Edmonton (1966-67). A three-year letterman at Indiana, where he earned an undergraduate degree in physical education and a master's degree in physical education administration, Walters led the Hoosiers in punt and kickoff returns as a senior in 1965.

Born in Knoxville, Tn., Walters is a member of the Sports Hall of Fame in Knoxville, where he attended Austin HS.

Ted Williams
Running Backs

Ted Williams is in his 11th season with the Eagles and his 9th in the role of running backs coach. His first two years with the club were spent overseeing the club's tight ends. He was one of four members of Ray Rhodes' staff to be retained by Andy Reid in 1999.

Williams earned praise in 2004 for his work with the multi-talented back Brian Westbrook, who was the only NFL player to accumulate 700 yards in both the rushing and receiving categories. In addition, Williams tutored FB Josh Parry, who was thrust into the starting role in week four after a season-ending injury to starter Jon Ritchie.

In 2003, Williams played a vital role as the Eagles employed a three-headed monster at running back (Correll Buckhalter, Duce Staley, and Westbrook).

As running backs coach, Williams tutored a 1,000-yard rusher four times, including three by Staley. Williams scouted Staley at the University of South Carolina and recommended that the Eagles make him their third-round draft pick in 1997.

Prior to joining the Eagles, Williams coached at the University of Arizona, Washington State, and on Terry Donahue's UCLA staff, where he developed All-America linebackers Ken Norton, Jr. and Carnell Lake, as well as a number of heralded running backs.

A basketball and baseball star himself at Centennial High in Compton, CA, Williams earned a place in the Cal Poly-Pomona University baseball Hall of Fame. A 1966 graduate of CPP with a degree in biological sciences and physical education, Williams went on to earn a master's degree, a second undergraduate major in zoological science, and his teaching-administration credentials from Cal State-Los Angeles in 1968.

After serving more than a decade as a coach, teacher, and athletic director at Compton (CA) High, Williams was named head coach at Los Angeles City College in 1980, but a short time later joined the UCLA staff.

Born in Lyons, TX, (11/17/43) the 61-year old Williams and his wife, Theresa, have three sons, Darryl (35), Donald (18), and Daniel (9), and a daughter, Terri (33).

Position: Kicker
Height, Weight: 5-10, 200
Born: 12/9/74 in Lexington, KY
College: Louisville
High School: Tates Creek, Lexington, KY
NFL Experience: 7th (7th as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: FA - 1999
Originally joined NFL: Signed as rookie free agent by Carolina in 1997

The NFL's most reliable kicker over the last five years and a three-time Pro Bowl selection, David Akers currently ranks 2nd in league history with an 83% field goal percentage, while recording a NFC-leading 605 points since 2000. In 2004, Akers set an NFL record with 17 field goals of 40 yards-or-more. "I think he has a chance to be the best kicker in NFL history," said Eagles special teams coordinator John Harbaugh. Akers, who also ranks first on the club's all-time list with 139 field goals and second in points (616), is definitely the "rags to riches" story of the Eagles roster, having landed on the waiver wire three times before settling into his current position in Philadelphia. A former waiter and substitute teacher, Akers spent his first season with the Eagles as a long field goal and kickoff specialist behind veteran Norm Johnson.

THE ROAD LESS TRAVELED

In 1997-98, Akers worked as a substitute teacher at Westport Middle School in Louisville between stints with Carolina and Atlanta. After being released by Washington in 1998, he returned to Atlanta because his wife, Erika, had found a good job with Lucent Technologies. David then picked up a part-time job as a waiter at a Longhorn Steakhouse in Lawrenceville, GA, until signing with the Eagles on 1/11/99.

BIRDSEED:

- During the offseason, Akers trains in Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu and Shaolin Kempo under the guidance of Allan Manganello at the Shaolin Kempo Jiu-Jitsu Academy in Louisville. Said Akers, "The martial arts influence is the part where you don't think about [the kick]. You've trained yourself so much to where you go and just do it. Same thing in a fight. You prepare for that one instance where someone is coming at you, and you're not trying to think."
- Akers on his abilities, "I have a weird, God-given talent to kick an oblong ball between two poles."
- Played for the Berlin Thunder of the NFL Europe in 1999. He contracted salmonella poisoning late in the season and lost 30 pounds prior to his first training camp with the Eagles

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Ranks 2nd on the NFL's all-time list with an 83.2 career field goal percentage (139 of 167 atts.) behind the Colts Mike Vanderjagt (87.0%)
- Ranks 1st in Eagles history in field goals made (139), 2nd in total points (616) and 3rd in PATs (199). With nine 50-yd.-plus field goals, holds the team record (Tony Franklin is 2nd with 5).
- In Eagles postseason history, ranks first in points (79), PATs (28) and FGs (17)
- Holds the club record for consecutive PATs made with 153 (2001-2004)
- Owns three of the six longest FGs in Eagles history: 57 yds. vs. NE (9/14/03), 53 yds. at Mia. (10/24/99), & 52 yds. vs. Was. (10/5/03). The 57 ydr. is the longest FG ever in Philadelphia
- Has posted the top five consecutive field goal streaks in team history: 17 (10/22/01 - 12/30/01), 15 (10/17/04 - 12/5/04), 13 (11/10/03 - 12/15/03), 13 (1/2/00 - 10/22/00), and 12 (9/8/02 - 10/20/02)

GREEN AKERS

In the 2004 offseason, David purchased 38 acres of land in Simpsonville, KY, and fittingly named it "Green Akers." His new property is just 25 miles east of Louisville and sits adjacent to a farm belonging to the owners of famed racehorse, "Funny Cide." He is also just 10 minutes from the former home of the late Colonel Sanders.

"I want the house I build on this land to be the last one I ever build," said Akers. "I've already thought about installing an elevator now so that when we get to the point where climbing stairs becomes trouble, we'll have no reason to move."

Akers built a 3-acre pond on the land and stocked it with catfish, blue gill, large mouth bass and grass carps. The land already had two standing structures: a two-bedroom tenant house and a covered bridge.

Founded by Akers in 2001, "Kicks For Kids" directly benefits children hospitalized at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia.

Each year he organizes a charity motorcycle ride with teammates, Hank Fraley and Jon Runyan, sponsored by Mike's Famous Harley-Davidson of New Castle, DE, benefiting Kicks For Kids.

Corporate sponsors of Kicks for Kids include: Lincoln Financial Group, Acme Markets, Sovereign Bank, Mike's Famous Harley-Davidson, Tattersall Golf Club, US Airways, Seidel Printing, and Krispy Kreme.

Sales of his instructional video, "Consistent Place Kicking" also raise funds for his foundation. It can be ordered by calling 1-888-330-7529 ext. 11

Position: Tackle/Guard
Height, Weight: 6-4, 340
Born: 12/25/82 in Camden, AR
College: Arkansas
High School: Fairview, Camden, AR
NFL Experience: 2nd (2nd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: 01-04 (16th selection overall)
Originally joined NFL: Same as above

The Eagles first round draft choice in 2004, Shawn Andrews quickly earned a starting role on the offensive line after an eye-popping performance during the preseason and training camp two-a-day practice sessions. An explosive run blocker, Andrews had his rookie campaign cut short, however, during the season opener when he suffered a fractured fibula in his right leg. The Eagles traded a 1st and 2nd round pick (28th and 58th overall) to the 49ers in order to move up to the #16 pick to select Andrews.

BIRDSEED:

- Left school early to help his mother, Linda, who was laid off when the International Paper Company in Camden, Ark., was closed down. Said Shawn, "I just couldn't stand to see her struggle, wondering if this bill was going to get paid or if the lights were going to get cut off."
- Surprised his mother with a Merceded Benz E500 once he signed with the team. Remodeled his mother's home in Camden, AR. "She loves where she lives so I just fixed the place up."

IN THE TRENCHES

His definition of an O-lineman: "I try to stay away from the clichés, but blood, sweat, and tears are the main ingredients of being an offensive lineman. You have to be a beast down in there. We are that protective shield that makes all the difference between winning and losing."

Favorite O-lineman: Willie Roaf. "We actually had the same coach in high school, Marion Glover. Roaf is an amazing story, how a 225-pound high school kid can turn into an All-Pro offensive lineman."

Sure-Handed Shawn: Was an accomplished tight end as a sophomore and junior in high school, catching several TD passes. "I was 315 pounds and was the quarterback's favorite receiver."

Career Games Played/Started: (Eagles 2004); 2004 (1/1); Total: (1/1). Playoff Games Played/Started: 2004 (0/0); Total: (0/0).

- Upon signing his rookie contract he purchased his first home in Burlington, NJ. "The first thing I did when I moved in was jump up and down on my bed. I was so excited. I was never allowed to jump on the bed when I was little. That was mostly because when I was 12, I jumped off a piano bench onto my grandma's bed and the thing almost went through the floor."
- His older brother, Stacy, an offensive lineman from Mississippi, was a 4th round draft choice of Cincinnati in 2004. Their teams faced each other once in college in 2003 and once in the pros in 2004
- As a freshman in 2001, played in Arkansas' historic 58-56, 7-OT win vs. Mississippi, as the team boasted three individual 100-yard rushing efforts and 521 yards of total offense against the Rebels
- Was a member of the Fayetteville (AR) Community Outreach program, working with mental health patients and was featured during the NFL Draft in a public service announcement

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Started the 2004 season-opener (9/12 vs. NYG) at RG, but suffered a fractured fibula in his right leg in in that game
- Was the 2nd offensive lineman selected in 2004 (Robert Gallery, 2nd overall by Oakland)

PERSONAL:

- Resides in Camden, AR, and Burlington, NJ. Has one daughter, Jashawna (8/15/04)
- Attended Camden Fairview HS, earning first-team All-America honors. Was also a standout track athlete in the shot put and discus

A BIG BOY WITH A BIG VOICE

Shawn Andrews has always been a musical person, but since he entered the NFL he has been taking his music more seriously. The first thing he did was begin taking voice lessons in Philadelphia with his voice coach Rod Millwood. Then he outfitted his house with a mini-recording studio where he can mix and record his own music.

Shawn's music interests are wide-ranging and not necessarily what you might think a 340-pound offensive lineman would be into. The following is a list of his favorite songs from various music genres.

Top 40 - Kelly Clarkson, A Moment Like This

Country - Shania Twain, You're Still The One

Motown - Otis Redding, On The Dock Of The Bay

Rap - Will Smith, Switch

Reggae - Red Rat, Which Gal?

R&B - Jaheim, Anything

Southern Blues - Tyrone Davis, Sugar Daddy

- Majored in communications
- Vacationed in the 2005 offseason in Puerto Rico
- His brother, Derrick, is a staff sergeant first class in the U.S. Army who served in Iraq in 2003. He is currently stationed in Aberdeen, MD
- Has two tattoos signifying how close he and his family are. The first is a cross on his left forearm with the names of his family members (Linda, Derrick, Stacy and Shawn) at each corner. The other is the phrase "God Bless Miss Linda" with angel's wings on each side, dedicated to his mother
- Full name: Shawn Cornelius Andrews

COLLEGE:

A consensus All-America selection, he was the only finalist for the both the Lombardi Award (top lineman) and the Outland Trophy (best interior lineman) in 2003. Became just the 11th player in SEC history to earn the Jacobs Award (SEC's best blocker) in consecutive years (2002-03). Allowed just 2 sacks in 35 career games.

JUST A REALLY BIG KID

If you knew what Shawn Andrews endured while growing up in Camden, Arkansas, you would be even happier that he ended up a first round draft pick of the Philadelphia Eagles in 2004. The product of a loving home, Shawn's family lived by humble means in a down-trodden neighborhood. Perhaps that's why he has a soft spot in his heart for underprivileged children.

"I remember when I was a kid," recalled Andrews, "the kids were really tough on me. They used to have a 'tag check' day where the kids would check the labels in each other's clothes to see who wore the cheapest stuff. We didn't have a lot of money and I got teased a lot. Being a 5-foot-9, 230-pound 12-year-old didn't help that either. It was rough."

Because of the love he received from his mother Linda and brothers, Derrick and Stacy, he made it through the tough times unscathed.

"I learned to smile a lot," he said. "I'm still a big kid. That's why I got the tattoo I have on my right forearm. It says, 'The Big Kid' and has a smiley face winking. That's who I am."

Andrews remains a big kid who enjoys life to the fullest. There is nothing more evident of this than the shrine he built in his basement to "Sponge Bob Square Pants." The shrine is complete with every kind of Sponge Bob paraphernalia you could imagine: a couch throw, a camper chair, a bubble gum machine, stuffed animals and numerous DVDs.

"I like how Sponge Bob handles life," said Andrews. "He gets picked on all the time, but he's still happy. He doesn't get angry with people; he just goes through life with a smile on his face. Sometimes he gets scared, but he always makes it through. That's how I approach life."

INJURY HISTORY:

Suffered a fractured right fibula vs. NYG (9/12/04) and underwent successful surgery at Hahnemann Hospital in Philadelphia and was placed on the Injured Reserve list on 9/14.

A serious knee injury is usually not the type of incident that will top a media guide bio. But in the case of Mike Bartrum, that injury, suffered during his college days at Marshall, propelled him to learn the art of long snapping and later embark on a successful 11-year career in the NFL. To this day, Bartrum still thanks Greg Briner, Marshall's offensive coordinator at the time, for prodding the young, rehabbing QB to learn this new job. "It's crazy," said Bartrum. "Ten years of just snapping the ball between my legs." The humble but valuable Bartrum continues to perfect his role in his 6th season in Philadelphia as the club's long snapper and reserve TE. In his 11 NFL campaigns, his teams have made the playoffs 10 times. A rookie free agent signee of Kansas City in 1993, he joined the Eagles in 2000.

BIRDSEED:

- Earned a degree in elementary and special education at Marshall and taught special education classes at Louisburg (KS) Elementary School in the offseason from 1995-99. Also taught at Louisburg HS in the 1995 after being placed on IR by Green Bay
- His long snapping skills were featured by Philadelphia's NBC affiliate in 2002 and 2003, as he toured the city testing his accuracy. Along the way, launched footballs at street signs from 20 yards away, into 12-inch wide mail box slots, into a Burger King drive thru window, into a moving news vehicle and into a basketball hoop from mid-court during one of Villanova's basketball practices

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Known as one of the league's best long snappers, has played in 144 regular season games and 17 postseason contests with the Eagles, Chiefs, Packers, and Patriots, while logging 64 career special teams tackles
- In his 11 NFL seasons, his teams have made the playoffs 10 times
- Posted career highs in recepts. (3) and receiving yds. (27) vs. Cin. (1/2/05). His receiving yardage was only 5 yds. shy of his career total (32) that he accumulated in his previous 143 NFL games

- Named to USA Today's All-Joe Team and USA Today Sports Weekly's all-NFL squad in 2002
- His first three career receptions were all TDs. His first two were both 1-yd. TDs from Drew Bledsoe against the Ravens (10/9/99 and 1/2/99). His third was a 4 yarder from Donovan McNabb vs. Min. (11/11/01)

HOME ON THE RANGE

A self-proclaimed "country boy," Bartrum and his family reside on their farm in his hometown of Pomeroy, OH. The Bartrum's country farmhouse, complete with a beautiful wrap-around porch reminiscent of the Waltons', lies on 119 acres of land. A 30-acre pasture, a 30-acre hayfield and almost 60 acres of hunting land comprise the property.

"When my kids are old enough to participate in 4H, we'll stock the farm with sheep and steer," said Bartrum. "My wife, Jennifer, was in 4H when she was younger and it's a great way to teach the kids about responsibility and hard work."

Bartrum even uses his land to train during the offseason, "I love to run the hills. I get out there with my sons, Cody and Zach. When I get hot and take my shirt off, they get a kick out of it and do it too."

ONE OF THE GOOD GUYS

Established the Mike Bartrum Foundation which generates money to benefit the athletic department of his alma mater, Meigs HS, in Pomeroy, OH, and the local Boys and Girls Club.

"When I was in high school there was one universal machine in the auditorium for students to workout with," said Bartrum. "Now there's an entire weight room. That's not too common in these parts."

Every June, Bartrum teams with fellow Marshall alum and current New England Patriot, Troy Brown, to host the Bartrum-Brown Football Camp. The weekend-long event, held at Spring Valley HS in Huntington, WV, consists of a golf tournament and a football clinic for area kids. This past June, the Jets Chad Pennington, the Jaguars Byron Leftwich, Eagles teammate Steve Sciullo and a number of other Marshall alumni, participated in the event. Bartrum and Brown also teamed up for a flag football event in May, which benefited both of their foundations.

Bartrum's newest charitable endeavor is founding New Horizon's Childhood Enrichment Center, a place for younger children to attend nursery school in a Christian environment. Bartrum will work with parents as being teachers on better ways to educate and foster their children while his wife and sister-in-law will teach at the school. "I was an education major at Marshall and I love kids. I am so excited for this challenge and am looking forward to helping children and parents enrich their lives."

- After spending the 1993 season with KC, was released by the Chiefs on 8/23/94 and spent the remainder of the season out of football. Was signed by GB on 1/20/95. After spending 1995 with the Packers, was traded to New England along with DE Walter Scott on 8/25/96 for past considerations
- While with the Packers in 1995, was tutored by then tight ends coach Andy Reid. The following season appeared in Super Bowl XXXI vs. the Packers as a member of the Patriots

- Visited Children's Hospital of Philadelphia in September of 2002 and worked with patients to create patriotic decorations
- Idolized Julius "Dr. J." Erving growing up

One of the most consistent players on the defense, Sheldon Brown made a big impression during his first season as a full-time starter in 2004. He earned All-Pro honors from Sports Illustrated, played a major role in the Eagles star-studded defensive backfield that included three Pro Bowlers, and signed a lucrative, six-year contract extension that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2012. Said fellow defensive back and Pro Bowler Michael Lewis, "I think he had the best season of all of us." Brown, a 2nd round draft choice in 2002, has also earned the respect of his head coach, Andy Reid, "Sheldon is one of my favorites. He is not the biggest guy or the most gifted guy, but he is going to be the toughest guy on the field and he's a great competitor."

BIRDSEED:

- Inspired by the TV show, "Trading Spaces," he and his wife, Jenny, enjoy working on renovation projects around the house. The couple recently sold their house in the 2005 offseason for a nice return on their investment and hard work

WHAT CAN BROWN DO FOR YOU?

Sheldon Brown is just one of those guys who seems to always be looking out for everybody else. If you watch him in practice, he's always tutoring the rookies. Off the field he's a star for the Eagles in the community, he's even pictured prominently on the side of the Eagles Bookmobile. So it's no surprise he makes sure to take care of the people closest to him.

This past offseason, Sheldon surprised his mother with a brand new home in Rock Hill, SC. The four-bedroom home was a gift to his parents, whom he feels he owes so much to. He even filled their garage for them with a Mercedes Benz C240.

"I always wanted to buy my mother the perfect home. She has done so much for me in my life and she truly deserves every bit of it."

The recent gift-giving is not a first for Sheldon. Upon signing his rookie contract, he paid off his parents' bills and set his mother up so she would never have to work another day in her life. Brown also put a deposit down on a house for his sister, Tasha, so that his nephews, Tyrell (13) and Ahmad (6), could relocate to a better school district. He even had his grandmother's roof repaired.

- Mentored on life in the pros by former NFL RB Harold Green, a fellow South Carolina alum, who serves as the school's career development coordinator. "He's taught me so much about the NFL," said Brown. "Just because you have a nice car, a nice house, and a lucrative high-paying job doesn't mean you don't have problems. Most people don't realize that or believe it. Even other players. He also taught me about dealing with the media during the good times and bad."
- Said former teammate Troy Vincent, "Sheldon's going to play in this league for a long time. He prepares...on the first day he came into meetings with a pen and notebook (not common for a rookie)."

PERSONAL:

- He and his wife, Jenny, were married on 5/22/04 and reside in Marlton, NJ. The couple purchased a 5-bedroom home in Marlton in 2005. Their house includes a theater room with a 110-inch screen and suede theater seating, a fully-equipped outdoor kitchen and a weight room complete with Sheldon's actual South Carolina football locker, which he acquired when the team renovated their facilities. His favorite feature of the house is the master bedroom closet. "It's huge. I finally have somewhere to put all my clothes. Jenny would tell you I have too many custom made clothes."
- Helped to renovate the weight room at his alma mater, Lewisville (SC) HS
- Would love to someday return to Lewisville HS and become the head coach there. "I think I'd be a great coach because I know how to reach out to kids. They can look at me as somebody who has already been down the road and I know what it takes to reach your goals. That holds weight with kids."
- An avid golfer, sponsors an annual tournament that raises funds for Camden (NJ) County College

A productive back with a good combination of size and speed, Correll Buckhalter is in his fifth season in Philadelphia, poised to return from a torn patellar tendon that sidelined him for the entire 2004 campaign. Buckhalter successfully returned from a torn ACL in 2002 to finish with a career-high 9 touchdowns in 2003. For his efforts that season, Buckhalter was voted by his teammates as the recipient of the Ed Block Courage Award, given annually to the player who exemplifies commitment to the principles of sportsmanship and courage. The team's fourth round draft choice in 2001, Buckhalter rushed for a team rookie rushing record 586 yards.

BIRDSEED:

- After an impressive debut as a rookie, Buckhalter tore the anterior cruciate ligament of his left knee in a non-contact drill on the first day of mini-camp (4/26/02). After missing the 2002 season, he was back on the field in 2003 and never looked back. For his hard work and dedication he was awarded the team's Ed Block Courage Award. They are selected in a vote by their teammates for team effort as well as individual performance
- In order to strengthen and maximize the mobility of his knee that underwent surgery to repair a torn ACL in 2002, Buckhalter sought out renowned boxing trainer Mackie Shilstone. Shilstone is the same trainer boxers such as Roy Jones Jr., Michael Spinks and Riddick Bowe have relied on over the years to get them into peak fighting condition. He has returned to Shilstone every offseason since, to get himself ready for the upcoming season
- In the final game of his career at Collins HS, amazingly carried the ball on every single offensive play in the first half. Head coach Royce Foster allowed Buckhalter to showcase his skills for interested college recruiters. He finished the day with 47 carries, a then state record, for 387 yds. and 6 TDs

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Posted a career-high 9 total TDs in 2003, while leading the team in carries (126) and rushing TDs (8)
- With a 6.1 yds. per touch avg. in 2003, ranked T-16th among all NFL RBs (min. 100 touches)
- Was part of the Eagles "Three-Headed Monster" RB attack in 2003 that together accounted for 1,618 rushing yards, 2,157 total yards from scrimmage and 29 total TDs. The Eagles were the first team to have 3 RBs with 7-plus TDs (Westbrook 13, Buckhalter 9, Staley 7) since the StL Cardinals in 1979 (Ottis Anderson, 10; Wayne Morris, 9; and Theotis Brown, 7). The trio scored at least one TD in 14 of 16 games in 2003. Led the NFL in fewest touches per TD (15.11)
- Notched his 1st career TD reception, an 11-yd. pass from Donovan McNabb at Was. (12/27/03)
- Rushed for 115 yds. in a victory over Dal. (12/7/03) including a career-long 64-yd. TD scamper. His 144 total yds. from scrimmage were also a career high
- Registered a career-high 23 rushing attempts (92 yds.) at Atl. (11/2/03)
- Scored a career-high 2 rushing TDs (100 yds.) vs. NYJ (10/26/03)
- Created one of the most exciting scoring plays of the season on Monday Night Football at Mia. (12/15/03). From the 1 yard line, he sprinted for the right corner of the end zone. As defenders closed in, he jumped backwards into the air but managed to keep the ball inside the pylon with his right hand, before being shoved out of bounds

- With 586 yards on just 129 carries in 2001, broke the Eagles rookie rushing record set by Keith Byars (177-577) in 1986
- Also broke the club's single-game rookie mark with 134 yards on 21 carries (6.4 avg.) in his first NFL start vs. Arz. (10/7/01). Steve Van Buren (129 yards on 11/5/44) previously held that mark. Became the first Eagles rookie to rush for 100 yards in first start since Charlie Garner (16-129-2TDs) on 10/2/94 at SF
- After Duce Staley (shoulder) was injured in game 2 of 2001, stepped in as the #1 RB vs. Dal. (9/30/01) and ran for 99 yards and his first career TD
- In 2001, ranked 3rd in the NFC/6th in the NFL in rushing yards among all rookies. Also ranked 2nd among NFL rookies (min. 100 carries) in yards per carry (4.5) behind Colts RB Dominic Rhodes (4.7)

A 7th round draft choice in 2004, Clarke spent his rookie season on the Injured Reserve list after suffering a torn hamstring during the 2nd preseason game. A big, physical guard, Clarke was a four-year starter at Ohio State and a key member of their 2002 National Championship squad.

BIRDSEED:

- As a senior in high school, worked on bike patrol for the local police department. He would ride on his mountain bike, citing people for not wearing a helmet or not having a license on their bike. "Being a big guy, it was great exercise for me, plus I really enjoyed it. I made some money, but I went through 3 bikes and countless tires."
- Inspired by his grandmother, who once operated a catering business, Clarke has a desire to attend culinary school and one day become a head chef and/or own a restaurant

IN THE TRENCHES

On the lack of publicity O-linemen receive: "A lot of us just don't have flamboyant personalities. We just come in and do our jobs while everyone else gets the recognition. It's a job that's not for the weak of heart. It's hard core and tough nosed."

Favorite O-lineman: Jermane Mayberry. "J is a guy who goes out there day in and day out and works, busting his tail, whether he's hurt or not. He's the exact opposite of how many people perceive professional athletes to be."

Clarke's Winning Ways: Clarke's teams compiled a 36-9 record (.800) in high school, 40-11 (.784) in college, and 15-4 (.789) in the pros.

- Was a HS teammate of Bills DB Nate Clements
- Advanced to state finals in the shot put as a junior
- Full name: Adrien Carlton Clarke

Named 2nd-team All-Big 10 as a senior. In 2000, named to The Sporting News Freshman All-America team and OSU's outstanding first-year offensive player. Redshirted in 1999.

INJURY HISTORY:

Trey Darilek (pronounced DAJ-a-lek) is in his second season in Philadelphia after learning the Eagles offensive scheme under line coach Juan Castillo. Darilek, who was deactivated for 13 regular season games, was the Eagles 4th round draft choice in 2004 and has the ability to play both guard and tackle.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Played in his first NFL game vs. GB (12/5/04)

PERSONAL:

- Was married to the former Karla Armendariz on 4/16/05 and the couple now reside in Deptford, NJ. The couple met while they were attending UTEP together. Karla is originally from Chihuahua, Mexico, where the couple were married and her family remains. "I love my wife's Mexican cooking. She makes so many great things like enchiladas, chile con queso and empanadas."

IN THE TRENCHES

His goal as an O-lineman: "I want to never have my name called out during a game. That'll mean that I didn't get a penalty or cost my team a single yard. The really good offensive linemen play forever and earn their recognition by being consistent."

How he has learned to be an NFL O-lineman: "The best way for me to learn is to watch my teammates. I watch Tra Thomas and see a great work ethic. He's in early and trains hard all the time. I see Runyan and Fraley who know the importance of technique but have a nasty side. I'll try but I don't know if it's possible to be as tough on the field as they are."

A Surprise to Trey: Never played on the offensive line until arriving on the UTEP campus as a freshman. Ended up starting 43 games on the O-line (30 at RT and 13 at LT).

To understand this four-time Pro Bowl safety, just take a look on the top shelf of his locker. There you will find multiple figurines of his favorite comic book hero, Wolverine, some of which have been sent by his fans. Wolverine is the low-key leader of the X-Men, a comic book action series, an animated cartoon and two full-length feature films. Wolverine is known for his animal-keen senses that allow him to track his adversaries with great ease, very much like Dawkins hunts down opposing ball carriers and receivers. The Eagles 2nd round draft choice in 1996 landed a starting role in the 2nd game of his rookie season and has averaged 91 tackles per year while posting 25 interceptions and countless train-wreck hits. Said Monday Night Football analyst John Madden, "Brian Dawkins is the best free safety in football. He's good at covering. He's good at blitzing and he's good at tackling." He was rewarded for his tremendous efforts with a lucrative seven-year contract on 4/28/03.

BIRDSEED:

- Earned NFC defensive POW honors after being the first player in NFL history to record a sack, an INT, FR, and TD reception in a single game vs. Hou. (9/29/02). It was the first time a fake punt was converted into a TD by the Eagles since 1988 (Terry Hoage). He victimized Texans QB David Carr for the defensive trio of events before taking a pitch from Brian Mitchell on the fake punt and racing 57 yds. for his 4th career TD
- After meeting ultimate fighting champion Tim "Obake" Catalfo at a Jacksonville gym, Dawkins began incorporating the training methods of the sport into his offseason conditioning program in 2002. Four years later, he still finds the unorthodox training methods to be the best way to prepare for the battle of an NFL season. Dawkins was taught to lift properly by controlling the weights and "using every muscle fiber" during his intense training. He had always focused his lifting on his upper body, but it was the power and movement that was developed in his legs that has made a difference
- "I wish I could eat cereal for breakfast, lunch and dinner and watch as much cartoons as my son and daughter." A huge fan of cartoons, he watches "Tom & Jerry" with his daughter, Brionni, and "Yu-Gi-Oh!" with his son, Brian. He estimates that he watches as much if not more cartoons than his kids

of the X-Men
(c) Marvel Comics

- Wrote Philadelphia Daily News columnist Rich Hofmann, "The truth is that this guy isn't just a player but a ferocious state of mind ... the very manifestation of rage ... no free safety hits like Dawkins hits, not in today's NFL."

- Said CB Lito Sheppard comparing Dawkins to Wolverine. "Dawk really is like Wolverine to us. He is to our secondary what Wolverine is to the X-Men. We feed off his rage and aggressiveness."
- Named the hardest hitter in the NFL by The Sporting News in 2004
- Named the best "blitzer to complement the rush of the front four" in Sports Illustrated's NFL Preview (9/1/03) wrote Paul Zimmerman. "You've got to have speed and a killer instinct, because if you're crafty enough and time your blitz just right, you might have a free shot at the passer. Lawyer Milloy excels in this area, but Dawkins is the master"
- Said former Cowboys Pro Bowl safety Darren Woodson: "Brian Dawkins is the best safety in the league, bar none. He has been consistent each and every time I've seen him play. He does all the little things that help his team win."

AN X-TRA SPECIAL VISIT

Dawkins and his family visited the Marvel Comics headquarters in New York City in 2002 to meet with Adam Kubert and Danny Miki, the artists who draw the X-Men comics. While there, he was presented with Kubert's rendering of Dawkins as Wolverine. (pictured below)

- Has appeared in more games as an Eagle (125) than any other player on the current roster
- Has played in his 13 postseason games as an Eagle setting the franchise record

STRICTLY BUSINESS

Attended an exclusive NFL program at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton Business School during 2005 offseason.

"This program was excellent and offered much more than I expected," said Dawkins. "The professors were impressive and explained the material in a way that all of us could understand. This wasn't just a 3-day thing. They extended their hand to us, and kept their hand extended. I can call them up and trust they'll give me answers."

Dawkins said he particularly appreciated the strong ethics component of the course. He learned that when he looks for a post-career business that "if you treat people the right way, surround yourself with the right people, do something you have a passion for, you should succeed."

- Selected by his teammates as the Eagles defensive MVP in 2002, and was an all-NFL selection by the Associated Press, Football Digest, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, Pro Football Weekly and USA Today Sports Weekly

- Collected a sack and an INT at Was. (QB Danny Wuerffel - 9/16/02)
- His 2001 Pro Bowl campaign was fueled by 106 tackles. He earned All-NFL honors from the Associated Press, Football Digest, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly and Sports Illustrated. Was also named to the All-Madden team

SOMEBODY CALL WEBSTER'S

free-lance safe-ty (FREE-lans SAFE-tee) n. a football player who is strong enough to defend the run and fast enough to cover wide receivers; must possess ability to blitz, defend the pass, and tackle in the open field; must be accounted for by the offense, otherwise he can determine the outcome of the game.

Many players are credited with redefining a position for the way they play on the field. Dawkins has done just that, and has in turn, come up with a new name for his position. While many strong safeties can play up on the line vs. the run and cover the pass, free safeties are often left to play centerfield and react to the ball. Dawkins has excelled at both and therefore can not be limited to either existing definition.

IDIOT MAN

During the week, Dawkins walks the Eagles locker room as a humble, mild mannered, God-fearing man. But on game day he transforms into one of the most fierce and energetic creatures ever to occupy a secondary. What's the secret?

"My man Peduzzi hooks me up," explains Dawkins. "When he puts that Breathe Right on my nose, I just become the idiot man!"

Chris Peduzzi, one of the Eagles athletic trainers, prepares that Breathe Right strip before Dawkins even gets to the stadium. He colors the strip with a midnight green marker on one half and a silver paint pen on the other. Although he is not a superstitious man, Dawkins is very particular about the application of the strip as the silver side must be on the left side of his nose.

Once the strip has been applied Dawkins has one more ritual. He drinks his "Idiot Juice," a pinch of Vitamin B-12.

- Forced and recovered a fumble from Chargers RB LaDainian Tomlinson (12/9/01) and raced 49 yards for a score. Forced another Tomlinson fumble that was recovered by Hollis Thomas
- Made a career-high 2 INTs vs. Tony Banks and a TD-saving tackle on WR Rod Gardner at Was. (11/25/01)
- In 1999, was an All-Pro selection by Sports Illustrated and an All-NFC pick by Pro Football Weekly and Football News. Was also named the Eagles defensive MVP
- Began the 1999 season with an INT in each of the first three games: vs. Arz., vs. TB and vs. Buf. In doing so he became the first Eagle to record an INT in three consecutive games since CB Eric Allen and S Rich Miano did so in games 2-4 in 1993
- His 67-yard INT return for a TD off of Damon Huard at Mia. (10/24/99) was his longest INT return
- In the 2000 Pro Bowl, tied a then NFL record with 2 INTs for the NFC squad
- Picked off Giants QB Danny Kanell on 12/7/97 and returned the ball 64 yds. for his first TD as a pro
- Earned NFL All-Rookie team honors from Pro Football Weekly, College & Pro Football Newsweekly, and Football News in 1996
- Notched his first career INT vs. Atl.'s Bobby Hebert (9/22/96). The following week in a Monday night game vs. Dal. (9/30) sacked Troy Aikman, forcing a fumble that Rhett Hall returned 32 yds. for a TD

PERSONAL:

- Brian and his wife, Connie, were high school sweethearts and have known each other since they were 15 years old. They have a son, Brian, Jr. (8/2/96), and a daughter, Brionni (9/23/99)

Also in conjunction with Eagles Youth Partnership and the Eagles Book Mobile, Turkey Hill donated five cents to EYP for every package of Eagles Touchdown Sundae ice cream sold
- Has become quite the pitch-man. In addition to Turkey Hill, his clients include print ads for Zinman Furs (with his wife Connie) and Auntie Anne's Pretzels, and a TV ad for Ventresca's Men's Clothing
- Served as the 2004 Eagles defensive insider for FOX-29's "Eagles Gameday Live" pregame show
- Was an all-state selection at Raines HS in Jacksonville, FL (the same school attended by former Eagles WR Harold Carmichael and current Eagles CB Lito Sheppard) and helped lead that team to 30 consecutive wins. In 2004, the school had four players in the NFL. The others were wide receivers: Texans Jabar Gaffney and Redskins Rod Gardner
- Also earned all-conference honors in basketball
- Was inducted into the Raines Hall of Fame in 2004
- Made a contribution to Raines HS that, among many things, helped refurbish the weight room. The facility was named the Brian Dawkins Training Complex
- Has contributed to Forest View Pop Warner in Jacksonville where he started his football career
- Joined Wolverine to drop the ceremonial first puck at a Philadelphia Phantoms (AHL) game in 2003. It was just his second hockey game ever

Position: Quarterback
Height, Weight: 6-1, 195
Born: 7/5/73 in San Antonio, TX
College: Colorado
High School: Mission, San Antonio, TX
NFL Experience: 9th (9th as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: 07a-97 (207th selection overall)

The son of a renowned Texas high school football coach, Detmer brings a special element to the Eagles equation. With a unique sense of humor, toughness, and his unassuming athletic ability, Koy is a perennial locker room favorite. A 7th round draft choice in 1997, he earned his role as the Eagles backup QB in an unorthodox manner. He went from the Injured Reserve list as a rookie, to being a five-game starter in 1998 and then back to the 3rd quarterback role in 1999, before taking over his current job in 2000. Detmer is an important component of the special teams as the holder on all FGs and PATs. He signed a four-year contract on 2/26/03.

BIRDSEED:

- Received the 2004 Jack Edelstein Award for the player who displays all around good character and is able to lift the spirits of others
- Now entering his 9th season with the Eagles, has been with his team longer than all but two other active NFL QBs - Brett Favre (entering his 14th season) & Steve McNair (entering his 11th season)
- Trained actor Ryan Kwanten, the star of "American Brown," a movie produced by Christina Lurie, the wife of Eagles owner Jeffrey Lurie. The movie was about a West Texas QB and his relationship with a priest in New York. Kwanten spent a few days at a football camp run by Koy's father, Sonny. Koy taught Kwanten, who had never thrown a football before the movie, the proper mechanics of throwing
- Travels to road games with the clothes on his back, his playbook and a toothbrush. In fact, goes to Target each summer to get a new travel ensemble that he wears on each trip. Koy bragged, "I can get an entire outfit for under 100 bucks."
- Is the younger brother of former Eagle and current Falcons QB Ty Detmer. Joined Ty in becoming the 1st pair of brothers to each start an NFL game at QB

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Appeared in 2 regular season games in 2004, starting the season finale vs. Cin. (1/2/05). Also played on offense in the NFC Championship game vs. Atl. (1/23/05)
- In 2003, appeared in 3 regular season games as well as the NFC Championship game on offense
- In his first start since 1999, led the Eagles to an emotional Monday Night Football win at SF (11/25/02), in place of Donovan McNabb (ankle). After throwing for 2 TDs and rushing for another score, he left during the 3rd qtr. with a gruesome injury. As he tried to brace himself from a hit after releasing a pass attempt, his left arm was jolted into the turf and the elbow was dislocated. Earned "Horse Trailer" POG honors from ABC for his efforts
- Converted a perfect option pitch to K David Akers on a fake FG attempt vs. Dal. (9/22/02) that resulted in a 10-yard gain and a first down
- Executed a perfect behind-the-back, no-look lateral to Akers who galloped 15 yards for a 1st down on a fake FG at Arz. (10/15/00)
- In his only playing time of the 1999 season led the Eagles to a 24-9 victory vs. NE (12/19) as he fired 3 TD passes, including a 50 ydr. to Torrance Small
- Began the 1998 season as the 3rd QB behind Bobby Hoying and Rodney Peete. When both suffered injuries, Detmer landed his first career starting role at GB (11/29). He then went on to start the final four games of the season, including the season finale at Dal. (12/20) when he posted career highs in atts. (43), completions (24), and yards (231)

PERSONAL:

- He and his wife, Katie, a former University of Colorado skier, have two sons, Koy, Jr. (3/1/96) and Koal (1/30/03), and a daughter Katie (11/17/00). The family resides in San Antonio, TX
- Helped coach little Koy's baseball team in the 2004 offseason as an assistant coach
- Detmer, along with other Eagle players, were instructors at NFL 101, a workshop designed especially for women to teach them the ins and outs of football. Detmer and teammate Dirk Johnson did their part by educating the class on the finer points of special teams
- For Halloween dressed as a mariachi musician in 2002 and a Musketeer in 2001 and visited the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia with teammates
- Was an all-state QB in a pro-style passing offense at Mission (TX) HS, where he was coached by his father, Sonny. Finished his career with a state-record 8,221 passing yards and 82 TDs
- Also lettered in basketball and golf
- Is the Eagles ace golfer. His handicap is currently an 8. His favorite course is The Quary in San Antonio, TX. In Philadelphia he likes to play at Laurel Creek Country Club in Mt Laurel, NJ
- Idolized Roger Staubach and Tom Landry
- When asked who would comprise his ultimate foursome besides himself, he listed Bill Murray, Tiger Woods, and former teammate Steve Everitt
- Earned his degree in communications
- Full name: Koy Dennis Detmer. Was named after Ernie Koy, Sr. and Jr., both legendary football players in the state of Texas

COLLEGE:

One of the most prolific passers in Colorado history, set the school record for most touchdown passes with 40. By throwing for 3,156 yds. and 22 TDs in 1996, became the first QB in Buffaloes history to throw for over 3,000 yards in a season. Capped his career with a 45-25-371-0-3TD passing effort in a 33-21 win over Washington in the Holiday Bowl. Earned first-team All-Big 12 Conference honors and was a finalist for the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award given to the nation's top senior passer. Amassed career passing totals of 594 atts., 350 comps., 5,390 yds., 25 INTs, and 40 TDs.

INJURY HISTORY:

Dislocated his left elbow at SF (11/25/02) and was inactive for two games. Injured his right knee on 8/19/97 and spent the rest of his rookie season on the Injured Reserve list. He had previously undergone season-ending surgery to the same knee in '95 while at the Univ. of Colorado.

Position: Defensive End
Height, Weight: 6-2, 281
Born: 8/23/71 in Mansfield, OH
College: Central State, OH
High School: Mansfield, Mansfield, OH
NFL Experience: 11th (7th as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: FA (Jax) 2004
Originally joined NFL: 01b-95 by NYJ (16th selection overall)

A locker room favorite with his quick wit and sense of humor, Hugh Douglas is in his second tenure with the Eagles. One of the best pass rushers in team history, Douglas is ranked 3rd behind Reggie White (124) and Clyde Simmons (76.5) on the club's all-time sack list with 54.5 during his six seasons in Philadelphia. Among active NFL players, Douglas is tied for 5th in that category with 80 sacks. A three-time Pro Bowl selection, Douglas was a first round draft choice of the New York Jets in 1995 and was traded to the Eagles prior to the 1998 season for two draft choices. Douglas spent the 2003 campaign with Jacksonville before re-signing with Philadelphia in 2004.

HUGH AND THE HULK

An avid collector and reader of comic books, Hugh's favorite character is the Incredible Hulk.

"The Hulk's a split personality just like me," said Douglas. "One person on the field, another person off of it."

On any other day he can be found cracking jokes or providing the media with a great sound bite, but it's all business when he gets to the stadium.

Hugh got hooked on comics as a child while reading the West Coast Avengers comic book series at the laundromat with his father.

BIRDSEED:

- A renowned chatterbox on game day, was banned from riding the same bus as head coach Andy Reid. Said Reid, "He likes to talk and sing, and I don't. But the one time I told him to stop, he played the worst game. So I turned him loose ... Hugh's a wonderful, funny guy who'll talk to anyone for as long as they want. He'll get on people, sure, but he's not overbearing or mean-spirited. He doesn't call people out. He doesn't overdo it."

- Works out frequently during the offseason with his trainer, Ty Felder, at Rope Man's Fitness Center in Atlanta

COLLEGE:

A two-time NAIA Division I All-American, Douglas would line up against Erik Williams, the Cowboys former all-pro tackle, in practice each day. That experience, Douglas insists, made him a better player. Collected 42 sacks in just 32 games over his three-year college career and had 13 multiple-sack games. As a senior, was named defensive player of the year by the Washington D.C. Pigskin Club and had four sacks in the Hula Bowl. Helped lead the Marauders to the national championship as a sophomore.

INJURY HISTORY:

Despite being hampered by a nagging shoulder injury for a majority of the 2004 season, appeared in all 19 games. Had a shoulder tendon repaired by Dr. Craig Morgan on 2/16/05. Exited a matchup vs. TB (9/19/99) with a partial tear of the MCL in his left knee. He returned to action in a reserve role 3 weeks later vs. Dal. However, suffered a torn tendon in his left biceps a week later at Chi. (10/17/99) and underwent surgery on 10/20 at Lenox Hill Hospital in New York City and was placed on the Injured Reserve list that day. A groin injury caused him to miss a matchup with Buf. on 9/7/97. Suffered an ankle sprain on 11/26/95 forcing him to miss one game. An ankle injury in 1996 caused him to miss 6 games from 9/22-10/27.

Height, Weight: 6-2, 300
Born: 9/21/77 in Gaithersburg, MD
College: Robert Morris
High School: Gaithersburg, Gaithersburg, MD

The anchor of the Eagles offensive line since 2001, Hank Fraley climbed a steep ladder to find himself at the current rung of his career. An undrafted free agent, Fraley stepped in for injured center Bubba Miller at the end of the 2001 preseason and has not looked back. It's no accident Fraley has progressed this much as a player. He works hard, studies hard, and stays late, watching hours of film with the quarterbacks. Fraley took that blue-collar attitude plus a feisty style of play, to earn a lucrative five-year contract extension in 2002. A non-scholarship player at Division I-AA Robert Morris in Pittsburgh, PA, Fraley signed as a rookie free agent with the Steelers in 2000, but was released and claimed off waivers by the Eagles on 8/28/00.

BIRDSEED:

- A big fan of motorcycles, owns a Harley Softtail Heritage Classic. Participates in a charity ride with teammates, David Akers and Jon Runyan, sponsored by Mike's Famous Harley-Davidson of New Castle, DE, each offseason.

IN THE TRENCHES

His definition of an O-Lineman: "It's just somebody who's nasty, plays to the whistle and has a lot of heart."

Favorite O-Lineman: Russ Grimm (Washington Redskins 1981-1991). "He was so tough and so physical. I just loved the type of player he was and the way he played the game."

What A Find In Fraley: An undersized lineman out of high school, Hank was not heavily recruited and became a non-scholarship player at Division I-AA Robert Morris in Pittsburgh, PA. Recalled long-time Gaithersburg HS coach John Harvill, "Hank worked his tail off. He would work all summer. What a great young man. He was so coachable. Hank did everything anyone ever asked him to do."

Career Games Played/Started: (Eagles 2000-2004); 2000 (0/0), 2001 (16/15), 2002 (16/16), 2003 (16/16), 2004 (16/16); Total: (64/63). Playoff Games Played/Started: 2000 (0/0), 2001 (3/3), 2002 (2/2), 2003 (2/2), 2004 (3/3); Total: (10/10).

- Hank's brother, David, was stationed with the United States Army's 3rd Infantry Division in Iraq as part of Operation Iraqi Freedom. Their father is also a Vietnam veteran. David now resides in Pittsburgh and is in the Army Reserves
- Prior to starting his NFL career, Fraley planned on teaching history and coaching football
- Became only the 2nd player in Robert Morris history to have his number, 75, retired (the other was RB Tim Hall who played for the Raiders)
- In his first ever NFL game (vs. StL 9/9/01), was fined for an illegal downfield block

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- In 64 games played as an Eagle has started all but one, including 10 starts in the postseason. He did not start the 2001 regular season finale, a meaningless game in terms of playoff standings
- Named to both FOX Sports analyst Daryl Johnston's "All Lunch Pail Team" and Sports Illustrated's Dr. Z's All-Tough Team in 2004

SUCH A SWEET GUY

Hank was nicknamed "Honey Buns," by fellow lineman Tra Thomas. When Fraley joined his teammates for the 2001 team picture, a bee would not leave Fraley alone and his teammates figured he was just too sweet.

When Charlie Pizzi, president of Tastykake, a local snack cake company, learned of Fraley's nickname he sent him a case of Tastykake's Honey Buns. Fraley in turn asked for a case to be sent to his brother, David, who was serving in Iraq at the time.

The NFL O-lineman he idolized growing up: Dallas Cowboy Larry Allen. "I was never a Cowboys fan but every time I knew they were on TV, I would watch just to see Larry Allen. He was such a dominating player who could help take over a game."

His favorite NFL teammate: Jermane Mayberry. "He was tremendous around here. He was a humble, quiet guy but when he spoke you had to listen. You wanted to listen. On the field he was a sound technician, a mauler."

On what it's like to be an O-Lineman: "It's the same at ever level you play, high school, college or pro. It's a brotherhood. You interact the same exact way. You can pick on each other but still know that there is no position group in any locker room that is closer-knit. No doubt about it, 100 percent.

A native of nearby Camden, NJ, Jamaal Green is in his third season in Philadelphia eager for more playing time on the Eagles defensive line rotation. A 4th round draft choice of the club in 2003, Green had his rookie season wiped out due to an ankle injury, but returned to see action during 8 games in 2004.

BIRDSEED:

- Did not play football until his junior year of high school, "I wanted to put some money in my pocket. I worked all kind of jobs. I was a laborer. I worked for a roofer. I worked at McDonald's."
- One of the first things he did when he signed his rookie contract was to pay for his mother's home. She had rented the house for 10 years and had no desire to move

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Notched his 1st career sack as he dropped QB Marc Bulger at StL (12/27/04)

So many people wearing jerseys from my high school. It was really special for me because I was one of the few Hurricane players who was so far from my family during the school year."
- Earned his degree in liberal arts
- Full name: Jamaal Hakeem Green

GREEN'S GOALS

After growing up in the heart of Camden, NJ, and witnessing some of the negative aspects of life that children face, Green is inspired to one day become a social worker for kids in that area.

"I just want to be able to steer them in the right direction," said Green. "For a lot of kids, there are not a lot of positive influences for them to turn to. They have a lot of issues in their own families."

Green vividly recalls a visit to Camden by a hulking Eagles defensive end named Reggie White. "He was a powerful man and made a huge difference in my life that day. Even though I was just a young kid, he started me thinking about getting into football. He encouraged us to work hard, set goals, and make smart decisions. It was a day I'll never forget."

Most recently, Jamaal made a visit to the YMCA of Camden in the Spring of 2005 as part of the "Healthy Kids Day" program.

COLLEGE:

Spent his last three seasons at Miami as a starter along a productive defensive line and recorded 145 tackles, 24 sacks, 27 tackles for a loss, 53 hurries, and 4 forced fumbles in 44 games. During his senior year, started on the right side opposite Jerome McDougle and earned All-Big East honors with 10 sacks and 52 tackles. Contributed to an undefeated National Championship season as a junior with 45 tackles, 6 sacks, and 19 hurries.

INJURY HISTORY:

Injured his ankle vs. NE (8/22/03) and later had surgery before being placed on the Injured Reserve list on 8/24.

IN THE TRENCHES

His definition of an O-lineman: "It's where the game of football starts. The game is all about movement on the lines. There are no individuals, we work as a five-man unit. You have to be nasty, tough, and a hard worker and be able to get no credit for what you do."

Favorite O-lineman: Orlando Pace. "He's a dominating offensive lineman both in college and in the pros. I used to watch him a lot growing up. He's got great foot work and technique. He almost won the Heisman trophy [4th in voting in 1996]."

Practice Partners: Honed his skills by facing Giants DE Osi Umenyiora and Cowboys LB/DE Demarcus Ware in one-on-one drills during practice in both high school (Auburn, AL) and in college (Troy State).

Artis Hicks simply reveled in the challenge of not being drafted back in 2002. He understood it would be a long road not only to make the team, but to become the starter he is today on the Eagles offensive line. An injury replacement at both LG and LT in 2003, Hicks became a full-time starter at left guard during the 2nd week of the 2004 season. "Artis is one of the most coachable guys on the team," said head coach Andy Reid of his versatile lineman. "He's a tough guy and he's been very consistent. We've really seen a dramatic improvement from him since day one when he got here." With his admirable play during those four starts in 2003, Hicks earned a six-year contract on 4/16/04 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2009.

BIRDSEED:

- Supports a charity in Jackson, TN, called "Angel," which helps raise money for single parents. His interest in this charity developed because his mother became a single parent after his father passed away at an early age
- Draws inspiration from his nephew, Dalin Hicks, (born on 11/24/01) who was diagnosed with leukemia in June 2004. With the help and aid of St. Jude's Hospital in Memphis, TN, Dalin has made a miraculous recovery and Artis has a great appreciation for all St. Jude's has done. "They've been a Godsend to my family. They treated Dalin for free and I will be forever grateful to them."
- Made a cameo appearance in the Campbell's Chunky Soup commercial starring Donovan and Wilma McNabb in 2004
- Said of Eagles offensive line coach Juan Castillo, "Besides the Lord, he is the 2nd biggest factor for me being where I am. He coached me and taught me and made me what I am."

A LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Hicks looks at his path to the NFL as a humbling experience. As a senior at Memphis, he was fully expecting to be drafted in the third or fourth round. His name was never called and he signed with the Eagles as a free agent.

"When I wasn't drafted," he recalls. "I knew it would be a challenge, but I just looked at it as a different path I had to take."

Hicks learned from the experience and is out to prove wrong those who passed on him.

"It wasn't my decision not to be drafted," he said. "I am a better individual because of it."

IN THE TRENCHES

Definition of an O-lineman: "An O-Line guy is a '9 to 5' grinder that's willing to go to work everyday and do his job without worrying about being the center of attention. He brings that mean, nasty attitude to the game."

Favorite O-Lineman: Jermane Mayberry. "He has everything that you need. Everything that's part of my game today I learned from him. He's the best."

Hard Work From Hicks: After going undrafted, Hicks signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent in 2002 and has quickly worked his way up the depth chart, becoming a full-time starter at guard in 2004.

Career Games Played/Started: (Eagles 2002-04): 2002 (0/0), 2003 (10/4), 2004 (14/13); Total: (24/17). Playoff Games Played/Started: 2002 (0/0), 2003 (2/0), 2004 (3/3); Total: (5/3).

- In 2003, started four games - all Eagles wins. Started games 10-12 at LG in place of John Welbourn (knee)

- Also threw the shot put and discus in high school
- Is the second cousin of former NFL DE Sylvester Hicks, who played for Kansas City from 1978-81
- Grew up with 6 sisters: Tammy, Melinda, Carla, Marien, Phylis, and Monica. "I tried to stay busy and get out of the house. I worked outside with my step dad. I tried to stay out of their way."
- An avid fisherman, he has been known to fish in QB Donovan McNabb's ponds. "It's fun, but it is like fishing in an aquarium, you are bound to catch something."
- His stepfather and uncle are mechanics and he developed a good knowledge of cars through them. He has an interest in "old school" muscle cars and recently purchased a blue Super Sport convertible
- A big fan of boxing, likes middleweight star Jermane Taylor. "Boxing is such an underrated sport. I kind of relate it to being an offensive lineman. A lot of people view boxers and offensive linemen the same way, like savages beating each other up. In reality it's all about skills and technique. We're both underappreciated."
- Majored in business

The Eagles nickel cornerback and valued special teamer in 2004, Roderick Hood has worked very hard to earn his current role on the Eagles roster. A solid contributor on defense, Hood also posted 10 tackles and was a part of 3 takeaways on special teams, and was a productive kickoff return man. A former walk-on at Auburn, Hood knows all about battling the odds. After suffering through an injury-plagued high school career and a coaching change in college that shuffled the depth chart in the defensive backfield, he became one of six rookie free agents to make the opening day roster in 2003.

BIRDSEED:

- Visited 13 high schools in the Columbus, GA, area in 2005 telling kids about the importance of pursuing their goals and staying in school. Shared his own story of beating the odds to make it to the NFL. "After going undrafted and coming here as a walk-on, it could have been real easy for me to just quit. I didn't. I feel like it's important to let the kids know that they never have to give up on their dreams."

PERSEVERANCE PAYS OFF

Standing 5-foot-3 as a sophomore in high school, Hood grew to 5-10 in just one year. However, his high school career was marred by a broken growth plate in his shoulder as a junior and by a broken ankle during his senior season. As a result, he received no scholarship offers from Division I programs. Eventually, he turned down Division I-AA offers to walk-on at Auburn as a wide receiver.

After making a head-turning catch on his first play in practice at Auburn, was reluctantly moved to cornerback where he went on to see action as a true freshman. Earned a scholarship as a sophomore, but a coaching change, and a change in position to safety, tainted his college career. He was not invited to the NFL combine or any all-star games and went undrafted.

- Prior to the NFL draft, moved in with Carolina Panthers DT Brentson Buckner, a fellow Carver HS alum. "I don't think I would be in the NFL today without Brentson," said Hood, who lived with Buckner at his home in South Carolina. "He taught me about being a pro in the NFL, how to eat right, work out the right way, dealing with the media." Hood knew Buckner through his older brother Benjamin
- The youngest of four children, Hood's older brother, Benjamin, is an account executive for Clear Channel in Atlanta. Said Hood, "Besides my dad, there has not been a single greater influence on my football career than my brother. Words can't describe how much he meant to me. He was always there during the rough times, especially when I was hurt back-to-back years in high school."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Finished 2004 with a career-high 32 tackles and a team-high 3 FRs on defense
- Downed 2 Dirk Johnson punts inside the Cowboys 10-ydl. and blocked WR Terrance Copper from doing the same in Eagles territory vs. Dal. (12/19/04)
- Recovered a muffed punt by Cowboys CB Lance Frazier at Dal. (11/15/04) which led to an Eagles TD
- The first two kickoff returns of his career went for 74 yds. including a 45 ydr. at Pit. (11/7/04)
- Intercepted Jake Delhomme vs. Car. (10/17/04)
- Forced Bears CB Nathan Vasher into PR R.W. McQuarters who lost the ball at Chi. (10/3/04). Dhani Jones then recovered the ball leading to an Eagles TD
- Recovered a Joey Harrington fumble at Det. (9/26/04). The play led to a TD on the next play

COOKIE MONSTER

The son of Lamar, a Baptist minister, and Patricia, a worker at the Keebler cookie factory in Columbus, he lived a childhood fantasy. He could eat unlimited, free cookies.

"My mom would bring us cookies home all the time," said Hood. "It was great. My personal favorites were chocolate chip and animal crackers. [Laughing] I ended up getting so tired of those cookies, but it was fun."

- Ranked tied for 5th on the team in special teams tackles (21) and 5th on those units in production points (155) in 2003
- Recorded his 1st career INT vs. Was. (10/6/03 - QB Patrick Ramsey) which led to an Eagles TD
- Subbing as the nickel CB after an injury to Troy Vincent, recorded 4 tackles and returned a fumble (forced by Michael Lewis) 27 yds. at Buf. (9/28/03)

PERSONAL:

- Single and lives in Columbus, GA
- Participated in United Way's football camp in June 2005 along with other NFL stars, including Eagles teammates Keith Adams, Correll Buckhalter, and Jevon Kearse
- A quarterback, wide receiver and cornerback at Carver HS in Columbus, he also lettered in basketball as a point guard and in track as he made the state finals in the 4x100
- Credits John Lovett, his position coach at Auburn and a long-time coaching friend of Eagles assistant Steve Spagnuolo, for becoming an Eagle. It was Lovett who highly recommended that he join Spagnuolo and the Eagles following the 2003 draft
- Hobbies include playing basketball, vacationing with family, and talking to kids about persevering through tough times
- Plays regularly on the Eagles offseason basketball team
- Majored in public administration

COLLEGE:

A former Auburn walk-on who earned a scholarship with excellent special teams play as a freshman. Played in 47 games (18 starts) recording 106 tackles, 5 INTs, and 18 KDs. Played left and right CB as well as FS. Also registered an 11.2-yard avg. on 51 punt returns and 19.9 yds. on 44 kickoff returns.

INJURY HISTORY:

IN THE TRENCHES

His definition of an O-lineman: "It's all dirty work. It's the least popular part of the game, but at the end of day, it's the most important."

Favorite O-lineman: Jermane Mayberry. "I really admire his character, his demeanor, and the way he carries himself. He is so soft spoken, but is real tough on the field. By talking to him you would never know he plays professional football."

Jackson Of All Trades: Started 45 consecutive games at Delaware State, seeing action at all 5 O-line positions. Also was a back-up long snapper and played defensive line in goal line situations.

Career Games Played/Started: (Eagles 2003-04); 2003 (0/0), 2004 (0/0); Total: (0/0). Playoff Games Played/Started: 2003 (0/0), 2004 (0/0); Total: (0/0).

Jamaal Jackson is in his third season in Philadelphia after spending last season on the Injured Reserve list with a triceps muscle tear suffered during the preseason. A rookie free agent signee from nearby Delaware State in 2003, Jackson earned a spot on the Eagles practice squad that year and was promoted to the 53-man roster for the playoffs.

BIRDSEED:

- A computer and internet junkee, lists PhiladelphiaEagles.com as his favorite web site. "I go there all the time. It has a lot of multi-media stuff on it and it's very informative with all the video and audio clips. They do a great job."

- Greatly admires the work Eagles offensive line coach Juan Castillo puts in with all of his players. "Juan works with the young kids just as much as the starters," said Jackson. "Whether it is before practice or after. He works with us to get better just like the starters."
- Enjoys watching Jeopardy and Wheel of Fortune on television. "I really liked watching Jevon Kearse on Wheel of Fortune this past offseason. I laughed the whole time, watching him interact with the contestants and spinning that wheel. I about fell out of my chair watching him play."
- Owns a pitbull named Jack, who once dug a hole through his apartment wall. "He was digging a hole to China and almost got there!" His other "claim to fame" is chewing up a 2004 copy of the Eagles media guide.

- A self-proclaimed sneaker freak, owns 42 pairs of sneakers, which he purchases online at pickyourshoes.com and niketown.com. His favorite is a pair of retro Air Jordans, which he designed online

GROWING UP YOUNG

With his mother, Sadie Smith, unable to work because of severe diabetes, Jackson took jobs as a supermarket clerk and in a recreation center to help support his family in high school. "I got first hand experience paying bills at the age of 17."

Jackson would like to start a foundation one day to help those that are afflicted with diabetes. "There's not enough people who are aware of the severity of this disease. It's a serious disease. It was bad for my mother. At one point, she weighed 60 pounds. She couldn't work. That was rough on all of us."

- Says his worst part-time job was when he worked at a movie theater and cleaned up after movies, scraping gum and cleaning up popcorn tubs all day. Also worked 10-hour shifts at the wheel weight factory in Smyrna, DE
- Enjoys working with children and has worked with the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program
- Full name: Jamaal J. Jackson

An undrafted free agent in 2004, Jenkins is looking for an increased role. "I was a practice squad player by name [in 2004], but in my mind, I was practicing to play."

Born: 6/1/75 in Hoxie, KS

Originally joined NFL: Signed as a rookie free agent by Seattle in 1998

Now in his third year as the Eagles punter, Dirk Johnson has been a consistent performer on the special teams, pinning 47 of his 151 punts (31%) inside the 20 over the last two seasons. In addition, Johnson's 37.4 net punting average in 2004 was the highest by an Eagle since 1976. Not bad statistics for a player who withstood four trips to the waiver wire since 1998 and preseason battles with veterans Kyle Richardson and Lee Johnson in 2003. This former two-time Division II All-America punter and hard-hitting defensive back has been inspired throughout his career by his older sister, Darcy, who battled epileptic seizures and cerebral palsy.

BIRDSEED:

- In 2004, named honorary chairperson for the United Cerebral Palsy-Epilepsy Foundation's annual walk
- During college, he and eight of his teammates earned money by branding cattle at his father's farm in Wyoming. Said Dirk, "We made a little money, but it was more fun than anything. We'd end up branding 800 to 1,000 calfs in a two day span."

THE SOURCE OF HIS INSPIRATION

Dirk is inspired by his older sister, Darcy, who battled bouts with life-threatening epileptic seizures after being born with a mild case of cerebral palsy.

"She's always so positive," said Dirk. "She's had all this stuff go wrong. She's come so far, but she never says anything bad about it. She never lets it get her down. It's crazy. I don't know if I could do that."

In 2003, Darcy underwent a 3-hour surgical procedure in her brain to try to eliminate those seizures. Although she has occasional seizures, she's able to hold a job, live on her own, and limit the amount of medication she has to take.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- His 37.4-yd. net punting avg. in 2004, was the highest by an Eagles punter since 1976 and ranked t-6th in the NFL
- Bombed a 51-yd. punt with 49 seconds left at Was. (12/12/04) with the Eagles holding on to a 3-point lead. The Redskins eventually turned the ball over on downs resulting in an Eagles win
- Booted 6 punts for 282 yds. (47.0 avg.) vs. Bal. (10/31/04). Along with K David Akers, did not allow the Ravens to start any of their 12 offensive possessions beyond their own 30-ydl.
- Nailed a career-long 62 yarder at Cle. (10/24/04)
- Recorded a career-high 51.5-yd. avg. (4 punts/206 yds.) at Det. (9/26/04)
- Finished 2003 ranked t-6th in the NFL with 27 punts inside the 20, the 4th-best total in Eagles history
- Recorded 7 punts for 302 yds. (43.1 avg./ 39.3 net) including 2 inside the 20 in the NFC Divisional playoff game vs. GB (1/11/04)
- Had a 60 ydr. at Dal. (10/12/03). Dropped 4 punts inside the 20 in just the 1st qtr. and finished with 5 on the day, tying the NFL single-game high in 2003. Was the first punter to put 4 inside the 20 in a qtr. since the Patriots Lee Johnson on 10/31/99 at Arz.
- Inked a three-year contract with Eagles (2/10/03)
- Appeared in one game for NO in 2002, (at TB, 9/8), in place of the injured Toby Gowin, and punted 8 times for 307 yds. with one inside the 20
- Spent the spring of 2002 with the Rhein Fire of NFL Europe where he finished the season ranked 3rd in the league in net punting avg. (42.7)
- Was signed by Seattle in 1998 as a rookie free agent, by the Jets in 1999, and by San Diego in 2001, but was released prior to each of those seasons

CADDY SHACK

After four trips to the waiver wire since 1998, Johnson made a living as a caddy at Castle Pines Golf Club in Castle Rock, CO. During the 2003 off-season, Johnson earned a couple of extra bucks at Aronomink Golf Club outside of Philadelphia.

In the non-golfing months, he also worked for Handy-Man Express, where he cleaned gutters, hung dry wall, and finished basements; for Serv Pro, a fire and flood restoration company; and for Mile High Valet as a parking attendant.

- He and his wife, Jennifer, reside in Commerce City, CO. They both earned real estate licenses in 2005 after taking month-long classes. Dirk has aspirations of becoming heavily involved with real estate and construction after he retires from the NFL
- Received the Eagles 2004 special teams Community Hero Award for his charitable work in the Philadelphia area
- Regularly contributes to the Cerebral Palsy-Epilepsy Foundation and attended their charity walk
- Enjoys hunting, golfing, & cooking spicy spaghetti
- Attended Montrose HS where he played football, basketball and ran track. Was the starting quarterback and also played at defensive back and punter
- Graduated with a degree in sociology

Was a three-time All-America selection at Division II Northern Colorado (as a punter in 1995, as a DB and punter in 1996 and as a DB in 1997). Finished his college career ranked 2nd on the school's all-time list with a 40.8 career punting average. Won two Division II national championships with the Bears (1996 and 1997). Was first-team All-North Central Conference at safety in 1997 and at punter in 1995 and 1996.

A true Renaissance man, Dhani Jones is a play-making linebacker by day and an aspiring entrepreneur, musician, and media star by night. On the field, Jones has averaged 116 tackles over the last three seasons, including 90 stops in his first season as an Eagle, tops among linebackers. Off the field, Dhani (translated to "thinking man" in the Hindu language), markets his own line of bow ties, hosts a show on ESPN2, and served as a guest conductor for the Philly Pops orchestra. Jones, who patrols the SAM linebacker position, signed a five-year contract on 3/9/04 after spending the first four seasons of his NFL career with the New York Giants.

- Hosts an ESPN2 series, Timeless which travels the world highlighting some of the best, untold sports stories. Said Jones of hosting the show, "People are going to learn that sports are not just football, basketball, and baseball. It is not always the young and vibrant that compete. It is not always men on the field that compete either. You also learn the moral and ethical battles that people learn in the struggle of competition." The show airs at 11:30 am eastern on Saturdays
- Appeared in the September' 2004 issue of GQ. The pictoral feature, "Broadway Jones," showed Jones re-enacting old publicity shots of Jets all-time great Joe Namath
- Plays the saxophone

SMARTY JONES

His first name, Dhani, means "thinking man" in the Hindi language. His middle name, Makalani, means "skilled in writing" in the Polynesian language. This guy was destined to become a renaissance man. His stable of hobbies include his love for poetry, classical music, oil painting, wood working and photography. His favorite artist is Salvador Dali. His favorite quote is "Carpe Diem" latin for "seize the day." He plays in the NFL. Where did this guy come from?

Fittingly, one of Jones' favorite pieces of art is Auguste Rodin's "The Thinker."

"When I was choosing colleges I saw a pamphlet from Michigan that had the "Block M" sitting on top of the world," said Jones. "I wanted to be on top of the world. I knew that if football wasn't going to get me there, my education from Michigan could."

The son of Samuel, a Navy Commander, and Nancy, an anesthesiologist, Dhani grew up in a setting he described as "just like the Cosby Show."

"There was an emphasis on education and hard work," said Jones. "I worked hard in school and I delivered pizzas for four years. I was pretty good at it. I even delivered one to Wonder Woman (Linda Carter)."

Growing up, he also developed a strong sense of world awareness and social responsibility.

"Someday I want to take a group of kids and teach them about what's out there," said Jones. "I want to show them that the $100 dollars they may spend on a pair of shoes could be used to live for a week in some countries."

- Graced the cover of the Philadelphia Daily News on 9/8/04 posing on a sculpture in a mirrored image of one of his favorite pieces of art, Auguste Rodin's "The Thinker." Featured in the Philadelphia Inquirer the same day, in another article explaining his passion for wearing his trademark bow ties, and his company, FiveStar Bow Ties

PICTURE THIS

Dhani made a two-week visit to China during the 2005 offseason to participate in a photo essay for ESPN The Magazine.

"It was my first photography essay since college and I was really excited about it," said Dhani of the experience. "I really just wanted to capture the cultural paradox that currently exists in China. You have these century-old villages that still stand there, and then you've got these tall skyscrapers right next to them, which is evidence that there is a strong western influence coming in."

While he was there, Jones also helped teach local students about flag football, an experience that has been used as a pre-cursor for the NFL in its attempts to build a relationship with China. In May of 2005, the NFL formed a series of flag football leagues at Chinese middle schools in Beijing, Shanghai and Guangzhou.

- Was the featured speaker at the Eagles Youth Partnership Top Achievers Awards in 2004. Top Achievers honors local high school football players who excel on the field and in the classroom
- Hosted the Dhani Jones football camp in July of 2005 in West Chester, PA

FIVE STAR BOW TIES

Jones earned rave reviews as the dapper, bow-tie-wearing player reporter for the NFL Network during the 2003 playoffs. The exposure and positive feedback he received from his re-introduction of the bow tie into pop culture influenced him to begin developing his own line of the classic tie, Five Star Bow Ties.

"I really never thought about wearing bow ties until a friend put it to me as kind of a challenge," said Jones. "He had fought through cancer and I started wearing them as a tribute to his fight. Then I really started to like them and figured it would make a great calling card."

The company did extremely well in its first year of operation and is currently looking to expand its line. The fabrics are imported from Italy and the manufacturing takes place in Brooklyn, NY.

Dhani shed the classic football uniform for his tuxedo and patented bow tie to perform as a guest conductor for Peter Nero and the Philadelphia Pops at the Kimmel Center (10/27/04). After a brief lesson from Nero, Jones conducted the final song of the evening, "Liberty Bell March."

- Has been working extensively with the Philadelphia ALS chapter, after meeting an incredible local family who has struggled with the disease
- Was one of seven judges at Philadelphia's 84th annual Miss Philadelphia Pageant in March of 2005
- Was named the Giants 2002 MOY for his work and dedication toward the betterment of the New York community. Some of the causes and organizations Jones donated his time to included: Pediatric AIDS, Church of St. John the Baptist and the United Way
- Visited hospital bound children and participated in fundraising efforts for Tomorrow's Children Fund at the Hackensack University Medical Center and the Ronald McDonald House of NYC
- Represented the Giants at a press conference with "The Gift of New York," a September 11th philanthropy designed to provide victims' families with free access to New York's theatrical, artistic, cultural, sports and live entertainment venues
- Full name: Dhani Makalani Jones

As a junior, started at both outside LB positions and finished with 72 tackles. As a sophomore, started 9 games at weak side inside linebacker and finished 2nd on the team with 90 tackles and 6 sacks.

THE GUT-BUCKET BASS

Jones built his own "gut-bucket bass" and took to the subways of New York City to demonstrate his musical skills. The bass was inspired by an episode of the "Fat Albert" cartoon, "The Band," and is pictured here on the far right. The homemade instrument consists of a metal wash tub, a wooden pole and twine. "It was quite an experience playing my bass in the subway. I was actually humbled by the experience, being just another person in the subway. Everybody just kept going about their business."

Position: Defensive End
Height, Weight: 6-3, 265
Born: 8/3/75 in Baltimore, MD
College: Rice
High School: Marshall, San Antonio, TX
NFL Experience: 9th (6th as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: UFA (Was) 2001
Originally joined NFL: 05a-97 by Philadelphia (152nd selection overall)

In his second stint in Philadelphia, N.D. Kalu is looking to regain his form as a key member of the Eagles defensive line. After an impressive 2003 campaign in which he posted a career high in tackles (74) along with 5.5 sacks, Kalu missed the entire 2004 season with a torn ACL in his right knee suffered during practice on 8/17/04. When healthy, the speedy and hard-working Kalu provides a steady pass rush and consistent run stopping ability. Kalu, which translates to "god of thunder" in the Ibo language, is the first member of his family to be born in the United States. A great deal of his family resides in Nigeria, where N.D. conducts an annual football camp for its children. Originally drafted by Philadelphia in 1997, Kalu re-joined the Eagles in 2001 after a three-year stint with the Washington Redskins.

BIRDSEED:

- Prefers to go by "N.D." because his given name Ndukwe, (EN-doo-kway) is mispronounced so often
- Was presented the 2003 Jack Edelstein Memorial Award, which is selected by the Philadelphia media. The award is given annually to the Eagles player with an uplifting manner, a love for life, and an exceptional sense of humor who makes all, with whom he comes in contact with, feel good
- Owns "Direct2U" in Houston, TX. The company specializes in mobile car detailing
- His cousin, OT Anthony Alabi, was selected in the 5th round by Miami in 2005

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Started all 16 regular season games for the first time in his career as well as both playoff contests in 2003. Finished the season ranked 3rd on the team in sacks (5.5) and led the defensive line with career-highs in tackles (74) and fumble recoveries (3)
- Notched a career-high 8 tackles and 1 sack (QB Quincy Carter) vs. Dal. (12/7/03)
- Recovered a career-high 2 fumbles vs. NO (11/23/03) on hits caused by LB's Nate Wayne and Ike Reese. Those turnovers led to 10 Eagle points
- Snagged a Patrick Ramsey pass attempt vs. Was. (10/5/03) and returned it 15 yds. for a TD. The INT and TD were both career-firsts. After the game, he gave the ball to DT Darwin Walker who forced the errant pass

N.D. TACKLES THE COMMUNITY

In 2005, Kalu was nominated for Pro Football Weekly's Arthur S. Arkush Humanitarian Award. The award is presented every year to an NFL player whose contributions to the community and charitable causes are both outstanding and hands-on.

Two of Kalu's most notable community effort this past year included:

- Sponsoring Dumsira Nwibiabu, the champion of the NFL's Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the 8-9 year old division in 2004. Dumsira is a refugee from Nigeria and is now a resident of Salt Lake City, Utah. When Dumsira won the right to represent Utah in the semi-finals in Denver, it became clear that his family would not be able to afford the trip. Genesco Sports contacted N.D. about the situation and he gladly sponsored Dumsira, covering the travel expenses for both father and son.
- Teaming up with former U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services, Tommy Thompson, and visited the Penn Alexander Elementary School in Philadelphia to talk to kids about the importance of physical activity and fitness

BACK TO HIS ROOTS

Being the first American-born member of his family, Kalu has a great deal of pride and respect for his native Nigeria. Nestled on the west coast of Africa, Nigeria is the home to Jonah Ndukwe Kalu, N.D.'s grandfather, a legend in the town of Abiriba. He was a renowned and respected businessman.

Kalu, who had not been to Nigeria since he was 13, and his parents, Dr. Dike and Carolyn, took a two-and-a-half week trip to Nigeria in 2003 and visited again in 2004 and 2005.

"It was so good to get back to my roots and know the land where my family is from," said Kalu. "I got a sense of self pride. My uncle owns and operates a water company, where they engineer, filter and bottle water. In spite of what many people think, Nigeria has some thriving businesses without the help of the Western World."

Kalu, whose parents bring tapes of his games back to Nigeria for his family to see, plans to go back each and every year. During the past two offseasons, he and his uncle, Nwokocha, held a football camp for the young men of Abiriba.

Said Kalu of the participants, "Some could play college football here in the United States right away. One difference from American kids was that Nigerians took to being linemen instead of wanting to play quarterback or receiver. They did have trouble throwing the football; I guess they don't do much of that over there. It's a new concept."

Kalu is now trying to pull together a group of Nigerian NFL players to organize an annual football camp in their native land. There are approximately 17 other Nigerian players currently in the league.

- Established career highs in sacks (8), forced fumbles (2) and special teams tackles (13) during the 2002 season. Played in all 16 regular season games for the first time in his career
- Forced a Michael Vick fumble in Divisional playoff game vs. Atl (1/11/03)
- In December of 2002, posted 6 sacks in a four-game stretch between 12/1 and 12/21, dropping Cowboys QB Chad Hutchinson twice at Dal. (12/21)
- Broke through and drilled Seahawks P Jeff Feagles, for a 15-yd. loss at Sea (12/8/02). Also sacked Matt Hasselbeck
- Earned NFC defensive player of the week honors for his efforts vs. StL (12/1/02). Harassed Rams QB Kurt Warner as he collected a career-high 3 sacks and forced a fumble
- Blocked the first punt of his career vs. Dal. (9/30/01) when he victimized Micah Knorr deep in Cowboys territory; the block was recovered by Eagles LB Ike Reese and converted into a FG
- Registered his first sack as an Eagle at Arz. (11/4/01), when he dropped Jake Plummer
- Notched 5 tackles and five blocked passes in the NFC Wild Card game vs. Det. (1/8/00)
- After being released by the Eagles on 8/25/98, saw playing time in 13 games for Was. and made his first career sack vs. the Eagles Rodney Peete (10/11/98)
- The first of two 5th round selections by Philadelphia in 1997, saw action in 3 games on special teams and in passing situations

PERSONAL:

- Has a daughter, Karolyn (2/6/02), and a son, D.N. (11/23/04). He resides in Houston, TX, in the offseason
- Was the first in his family born in the United States (Baltimore, MD) after the family moved from Nigeria

- Was an all-state selection as a senior at John Marshall (TX) HS. In his junior year, led his team to the state Class 5A Division II title along with Chiefs RB Priest Holmes
- Participated in an executive education program at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania along with other NFL players including teammates Jon Runyan and Brian Dawkins in the 2005 offseason
- Also lettered in basketball and track and set the San Antonio district and city record in the high jump at 7 feet
- Completed the requirements for his degree in English during the 2002 offseason
- Writes poems and short stories
- Enjoys playing dominoes and reading fiction novels for relaxation

COLLEGE:

A three-year starter at defensive end, set Rice's school record with 20 career sacks. Played in 44 games with 31 starts and totaled 141 tackles. As a sophomore, earned All-Southwest Conference honors and set a school single-season record with 8 sacks.

INJURY HISTORY:

Suffered a torn ACL in his right knee during practice (8/17/04) that required season-ending surgery. Was placed on the Injured Reserve list on 8/23. Was inactive for the first two games of 2001 due to an ankle injury suffered during the preseason. Missed the season finale vs. Arz. (12/24/00) with a rib injury. Missed four games during the 1999 season with a foot injury. Sat out the final seven games of the 1997 season with a hand injury.

Nicknamed "The Freak" for his combination of speed, power, and intensity, Jevon Kearse provided that unique extra dimension to the Eagles defense, leading the league's 2nd most productive sack attack (47) with 7.5 of his own. "Jevon was everything we thought he was and probably more," said defensive coordinator Jim Johnson. "He can go sideline to sideline ... This guy runs down running backs from behind. He's just an amazing specimen." One of the most feared defenders in the game, Kearse put his signature on an eight-year contract on the first day of the 2004 free agent signing period after a stellar five-year career with Tennesssee. A three-time Pro Bowl selection, Kearse was the 16th overall selection by the Titans in 1999 and went on to earn rookie of the year honors after setting an NFL rookie record with 14.5 sacks, a total that made him the first rookie in NFL history to lead a conference in sacks.

LENDING A REALLY BIG HELPING HAND

Growing up in Ft. Myers, FL, wasn't always easy for Kearse. Despite what was going on around him, he had one escape, his local Boys and Girls Club. Now, many years later he makes it a point to help out those who helped him out, as they are a beneficiary of The Jevon Kearse Foundation.

"It was an outlet for me growing up," said Kearse. "It helped me get focused on education and athletics. It showed me how things should be. I want kids to have the same opportunities I had."

The Jevon Kearse Foundation exists to promote positive outreach services to at-risk youth in Southwest Florida. Located in Fort Myers, they provide many services to the surrounding community such as Drug Prevention Programs, Youth Sports Programs, and Educational Opportunities.

Annually hosts The Jevon Kearse Celebrity All-Pro Weekend to benefit the foundation. This past April, the weekend included a dinner and silent auction on Saturday evening followed by a celebrity softball game on Sunday held at City of Palms Park, the Boston Red Sox spring training stadium in Ft. Myers.

Some celebrities who joined him in 2005 included: teammates Donovan McNabb, Lito Sheppard, and Correll Buckhalter, former Titans teammates Samari Rolle and Keith Bulluck, and Deion Sanders. R&B singer, Lloyd, performed after the game.

BIRDSEED:

- As Hurricane Charley trampled through South Florida in 2004, The Jevon Kearse Foundation helped distribute non-perishable food and personal hygiene items to almost 400 families in relief of the disaster that struck the Ft. Myers, FL, region
- A collector of remote control cars, boats and planes, Jevon currently has about a dozen vehicles. "I started playing with them as a kid and loved it. I would break them so fast that it taught me to cherish what I had. When I got older and had money to spend, I started collecting them. I keep them all at my home in New Jersey because I need something to help me to get my mind off of work during the season."

A FREAKY FRONTMAN

Jevon Kearse is easily one of the most well-known players in the NFL, and definitely one of the Top 5 most marketable defenders in the league. Since his rookie year of 1999, he has worked with several global companies in various national advertising campaigns including: DirecTV, Sega, Reebok, Pepsi and most recently Gillette.

"First of all, it's a privilege for any company to ask you to be their spokesman," said Kearse. "I really enjoy the people I get to work with and meet. That's icing on the cake. Getting to build relationships with all kinds of people in another industry is great. Every company I work with, I try to let them know about the work I do with my foundation. Many of them have stepped in and helped in different ways."

Kearse joined teammate Terrell Owens in the 2005 offseason to shoot a commercial for Right Guard Xtreme deodorant and antiperspirant. The two joined skateboarder Bam Margera, host of MTV's "Viva La Bam" in a game of Red Rover.

"It was the most fun I've ever had shooting a commercial," said Kearse of his Right Guard spot. "They had a stunt man there for me but I told him 'chill, I got this.' So I got to do my own stunts. It was nothing crazy but it's nice to say I did them. When I met Bam and Don Vito I realized they aren't actors. They are just like they are on TV."

On a local level, Jevon has established marketing relationships with several companies, including a memorabilia deal, a weekly radio show, and numerous personal appearances. He has also been used in national campaigns by the NFL and NFL Players Association.

- Nicknamed "The Freak" by teammates while at the University of Florida for his combination of power, quickness and intensity, Kearse is one of the fastest and most athletic defensive ends in football. He clocked a 4.43 in the 40-yard dash at the NFL Scouting Combine in 1999, tying CB Deion Sanders for the fastest first 10 yards of the 40-yard dash in Combine history
- Prior to every game, Kearse can be found saying a prayer for his younger brother, Rocky, who died before Jevon made it to the NFL. He paid homage to his younger sibling by tattooing his name inside of a cross on his left shoulder
- After two weeks of taking out the trash, peeling shrimp, bagging zucchini, cleaning dishes and serving as a prep cook, Kearse decided to quit his high school job at Red Lobster to pursue other career endeavors which he found more entertaining
- Favorite throwback jersey: Wilt Chamberlin, Phila. Warriors. "He was a one-man wrecking crew."

A native of Toronto, Canada, Mike Labinjo is in his 2nd season in Philadelphia after signing with the club as a rookie free agent in 2004. Labinjo, a three-year starter at Michigan State, was promoted from the practice squad late in his rookie season in place of injured LB Jason Short and notched 9 tackles on special teams in the final 6 games (including playoffs).

BIRDSEED:

- Credits Frank Giffen, a Toronto corporate banker who he got to know through the Big Brothers program, for helping him become the person and player he is today. "He's been a father figure to me all my life. He's like my second agent."
- As a rookie, attended a Philadelphia Flyers-Toronto Maple Leafs playoff game wearing a Maple Leaf jersey at the Wachovia Center. "I learned all about the Philly fans that night."

OH, CANADA

Like most youngsters growing up in Toronto, Mike Labinjo had his eyes set on a career in the National Hockey League. He played hockey throughout his youth, including stints at his high school and with North Toronto of the Metro Toronto Hockey League.

Labinjo, however, started playing football at the age of 15 and became a star running back in high school. He ended up becoming a part of Nick Saban's last recruiting class at Michigan State, but knows that's not the norm for most Canadian players.

"We get viewed differently because we play the CFL rules," said Labinjo. "A lot of guys have potential, but they just choose to stay in Canada. Hopefully, I can be a role model for kids back in Toronto and throughout Canada. Hopefully they can look at me and say it can be done."

Even though he was a big hockey fan growing up, especially of his hometown Maple Leafs, Labinjo was a rabid fan of the CFL's Toronto Argonauts. "I loved going to Argonauts games. I was a big fan of Doug Flutie, Rocket Ismail, Matt Dunigan, and Pinball Clements."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Recorded a career-high 9 tackles vs. Cin. (1/2/05)
- Played in his 1st NFL game vs. Dal. (12/19/04) and notched 2 special teams tackles
- Spent the first 14 weeks of the 2004 season on the Eagles practice squad

PERSONAL:

- Single and resides in the Chestnut Hill area of Philadelphia. Rents a room in teammate LB Dhani Jones' home
- His mother, Margaret, lives in Toronto, Canada, and owns and operates an antique restoration business
- Tallied 2,600 all-purpose yds. and 19 TDs. as a running back at St. Michael's College HS in 1998. St. Michael's is the same school that produced the NFL's O.J. Santiago and the NHL's Eric Lindros
- Lettered in football as a running back and safety, in hockey as a center, and in basketball as a small forward. Was an all-metro selection at running back as his team captured the TDCAA championship during his junior year
- Was recruited to Michigan State as a running back, but switched to defense following his first two seasons, including one as a redshirt
- Graduated with a degree in economics and aspires to one day have a job in corporate banking or global trading

- His first job was working for a plumbing company in Toronto. "I got in very good shape digging ditches in the cold weather."
- Enjoys traveling and would like to one day backpack throughout Europe
- Became a fan of the 49ers at the age of 8 after meeting Jerry Rice in Toronto. Rice signed a poster that he still owns today.

COLLEGE:

In three seasons at Michigan State, started 33 games playing both outside and middle linebacker. Finished his career with 220 tackles, 11 sacks, and 4 INTs. His 33.5 tackles for a loss rank 5th on the Spartan's all-time list. Began his sophomore season as a fullback before being moved to outside linebacker. Was then moved to middle linebacker as a junior, but returned to play strong side as a senior.

A speedy receiver with a knack for making the tough catch, Greg Lewis has shown a great deal of progress during his first two NFL seasons. After making 6 catches in limited action as a rookie, Lewis posted 25 a year ago (including playoffs) and earned not only more playing time, but a five-year contract extension through 2011. Originally signed as a rookie free agent in 2003, Lewis was quick to absorb the West Coast offense even though he did not start as a senior at Illinois. "Greg flashed right from the first day of mini-camp," said offensive coordinator Brad Childress. "He jumped out from a quickness and route-running standpoint. He has very good hands and is a bright-eyed guy."

BIRDSEED:

- Nicknamed "Foots" as a freshman at Illinois because when he ran, his feet moved east and west. Now referred to as "G-Lew" by his Eagle teammates
- Participated in the 2005 Chunky Soup commercials featuring Donovan McNabb

IT'S YOUR MOVE...G-LEW

Lewis was not your typical jock as a youngster, in fact, he was on the chess team in junior high as well as in high school. He learned to play from his father and his claim to fame was that he held the number one board in 6th grade for two weeks before he was eventually beaten.

"I want to go play against the old guys in the park with the large boards on top of buckets," said Lewis of his future plans in the world of chess.

- An avid fan of his hometown Cubs, he threw out the first pitch at their game on July 15, 2005 vs. the Pittsburgh Pirates. He also sang "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" at Wrigley Field with four Illini teammates and his former coach, Ron Turner. "I watched the tape and you can tell that I was off key," said Lewis

One of the league's rising stars, Michael Lewis has demonstrated he is one of the top safeties in the league, earning a Pro Bowl bid in just his 3rd season in the NFL. Lewis, though, is not satisfied. "I want to be the best strong safety in the league," said the imposing 6-1, 222-pound defender. Lewis, who led the Eagles with 129 tackles in 2004, is the primary signal caller on defense and his hard-hitting style works well with fellow safety Brian Dawkins in making the pair the top safety tandem in the entire league. The team's 2nd round draft choice in 2002, Lewis is a perfect fit in defensive coordinator Jim Johnson's scheme. "He's an ideal strong safety because he's a very physical guy," said Johnson. "He's got the size to hit people and the range to cover. He's a smart kid and a very intense player."

THE MASTER OF MADDEN

During week of Super Bowl 39 in Jacksonville, Lewis won the annual EA Sports Madden Bowl competition. The tournament featured 8 NFL players and Lewis claimed the top spot by defeating Steelers QB Ben Roethlisberger, Colts DE Dwight Freeney (the two-time defending champion), and Bills RB Willis McGahee.

"I knew I was decent and was just trying to get a win in the first round," said Lewis. "But after seeing how Dwight played and knowing he was the previous champion, I knew I had a shot."

Lewis was awarded a "nice-sized" trophy and prominently displays it in his basement. "It's right up there with the rest of my athletic trophies."

BIRDSEED:

- Having been diagnosed with the heart condition, atrial fibrilation, in college, Lewis has become a spokesperson for the Philadelphia chapter of the American Heart Association. Was named the Honorary Chairperson of their 2005 Philadelphia Heart Walk, which takes place in September.

  "When I learned I had atrial fibrilation I was nervous and scared because I knew nothing about it. I want people to know that heart disease is something that can be treated. You can live a normal life and do everything you dream of as long as you take care of yourself."

IT'S COACH LEWIS TO YOU!

This past offseason, Lewis took over as coach of the Eagles offseason basketball team. When Michael was unable to play due to offseason toe surgery, Eagles director of media services, Derek Boyko, handed over his coaching to Lewis so the ultra-competitive safety could be a part of the team that he starred on the previous year.

"I know it's for charity," said Lewis. "But I really want to win."

This might just be a start for Lewis who envisions himself as a coach after his playing career. "I think it will be high school football or basketball," he insisted. "NFL coaches put in too many hours."

Position: Running Back
Height, Weight: 5-10, 212
Born: 6/3/80 in Los Angeles, CA
College: BYU
High School: Brighton, Salt Lake City, UT
NFL Experience: 3rd (3rd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: Signed as a rookie free agent in 2003
Originally joined NFL: Same as above

A shifty running back with great hands, Reno Mahe adds depth to the running back position and is a dependable special teams performer. A former wide receiver at BYU, Mahe (pronounced mah-hay) made the Eagles 53-man roster as a rookie free agent running back in 2003 and continues to improve each season with a tremendous work ethic on and off the field.

BIRDSEED:

- Mahe's real first name is Sateki. The football world calls him Reno, his middle name. His family calls him Junior. Reno really doesn't care what you call him as long as it's not Ma-HEE, which translates to underwear in his native Tongan language
- Upon arrival in Philadelphia as a rookie free agent, Mahe, a receiver in college, asked Andy Reid's son, Garrett, who also attended BYU, who the other receivers on the roster were. The younger Reid replied, "You are playing running back here." A stunned Mahe replied, "Oh really. That's great. I'll clean laundry here if I can stay."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Notched career highs in recepts. (8), rec. yds. (62) rush att. (7) and rush yds. (26) vs. Cin. (1/2/05). Also had a career-long rush (26 yds.) and career-long recept. (30 yds.)
- Had a critical block on Vikings LB Mike Nattiel to spring QB Donovan McNabb for a 20-yd TD run vs. Min. (9/20/04)
- One of 6 undrafted rookie free agents to make the Eagles 2003 opening day roster
- Caught 2 passes in 2003, both against the Packers. First, a 5 ydr. at GB (11/10/03) on Monday Night Football and the other an 8 ydr. vs. GB (1/11/03) in the NFC Divisional playoff
- Played in his 1st NFL game at Atl. (11/2/03) and returned 2 punts for 25 yds.

PERSONAL:

- He and his wife, Sunny, have two children, Evie (2) and newborn Ellie Louise, and reside in Spring, TX, during the offseason. Reno also has a son, Jeffrey (4), who resides in Nevada
- Sunny was an All-America volleyball player at BYU
- Prides himself on being a good person. "If you work hard enough and you do good for others, the best things in life will eventually come to you. My ultimate goal is to make my wife the happiest person in the world, be a great father, and an honest man."
- Attended Brighton HS in Salt Lake City, UT. A two-time all-state selection and Gatorade Utah player of the year as a senior
- Attended Utah Valley State and Dixie Junior College in between stints at BYU
- Has aspirations of teaching and coaching high school football after he retires from the NFL. In fact, served as a substitute teacher in the Spring, TX, school district during the 2004 offseason

EXCUSE ME, YOUR TABLE'S READY

Reno Mahe might have been the busiest Eagle in the past two offseasons. While participating in the team's offseason conditioning program, he also served as a host at "Chickie's and Pete's" restaurant in South Philadelphia.

"What I like about the people at Chickie's and Pete's is they are pretty grounded and they treat me like they would treat anyone else," said Mahe. "It's like a 'Cheers' place. I was a big Cheers fan growing up, so I always feel like I'm there when I work at Chickie's and Pete's."

- Surprised students at Penn Valley Elementary School during their weekly assembly to thank them for their efforts in the school's 2004 Thanksgiving food drive
- Was the starting point guard for the Eagles offseason basketball team in 2005
- Once served as a color commentator for the Utah Indoor Football League
- Was part of a talented three-headed tandem at BYU which included QB Brandon Doman and RB Luke Staley
- Spends a lot of time watching movies including his favorite, "Napoleon Dynamite"
- Full name: Sateki Reno Mahe Jr.

COLLEGE:

Posted 166 recepts. for 2,163 yds. and 12 receiving TDs, as well as 128 carries for 719 yds. and 7 rushing TDs in three seasons at BYU. His receiving yardage ranked 10th on the school's all-time list. A two-time All-Mountain West Conference selection in 2001 and 2002, he posted 59 recepts. for 771 yards and 2 TDs as a senior. Began his career as a RB at BYU in 1998 before sitting out the 1999 season. Returned to the squad in 2001 after spending the 2000 campaign at Dixie Junior College. At Dixie, caught 57 passes for 1,387 yards and 12 TDs.

INJURY HISTORY:

Suffered an ankle injury in the 1st qtr. at Dal. (11/15/04) and missed the next five games.

A mobile quarterback with seven starts on his NFL resume, Mike McMahon was signed as an unrestricted free agent on 3/11/05 from Detroit. A product of Rutgers, McMahon will compete with Koy Detmer for the back-up quarterback position. McMahon, who played under Eagles assistant head coach Marty Mornhinweg during his stint as the Lions head coach, is excited about the new chapter in his football career. "It's a great offense, very explosive," said McMahon. "I like this scheme and the things a quarterback can do with it. I think it's going to work out very well for me here." A 5th round draft choice of the Lions in 2001, McMahon was the first Rutgers signal caller ever drafted.

A multi-dimensional threat from the quarterback position, Donovan McNabb can make plays with his arm, his feet, his strength, his toughness, and his creativity. His leadership and play-making ability has helped raise the standards of success of this franchise since 1999, when the Eagles chose him with the 2nd overall pick in the draft. Along the way, McNabb has become one of the NFL's most recognizable and elite players, and was rewarded with a lucrative, 12-year contract extension in 2002. In 2004, McNabb set franchise records in QB rating (104.7), completion pct. (64.0), and passing yards (3,875) while earning his 5th Pro Bowl selection. And although he has led the Eagles to a Super Bowl, four NFC Championship game appearances and more postseason wins (7) than any other quarterback in team history, the youthful McNabb has his eyes focused on even loftier goals. Along with his production on the field, his personality, leadership skills, sense of humor, hard-work ethic and attitude, all add up to give Philadelphia one of the most well-rounded athletes in sports. "I play this game to be the best," said McNabb. "And the only sure way I know to be the best is to outwork everybody else. Some people take one step toward their dream, accomplish a little something and then feel like that's it. Not me. I'm never satisfied."

BIRDSEED:

- Taped a PSA in 2004, along with Peyton Manning, on behalf of the U.N. World Food Program to benefit the tsunami relief effort
- For the past four years has appeared in the Campbell's Chunky Soup commercial series, including the past three with his mother, Wilma. His father, Sam, was included in the ad campaign in 2005. In 2004, he became the sole NFL spokesperson for Chunky Soup and has included several of his teammates in the commercials since
- Was the youngest person ever elected to the Board of Trustees at Syracuse in 2002
- Dresses up as Santa Claus each year before Christmas to deliver toys and entertain kids. When asked by a child if he plays football, Santa replied, "Yeah, every now and then. We get it going up there in the North Pole."

OPERATION DESERT STORM

Truly one of the hardest working players in the league, McNabb and his offseason workouts at MakePlays.com in Phoenix, Arizona, are becoming legendary. Besides honing his football skills, McNabb can be found fine-tuning all parts of his body with weight training, running, Pilates, agility drills with dog toys, as well as vision training. To help his eyes process information at a faster rate, McNabb dons a pair of "strobe specs" or "Star Trek glasses" (as McNabb calls them) and goes through simulated football situations, such as finding receivers or picking up oncoming blitzers.

"The good quarterbacks are probably like fighter pilots," said Eagles coach Andy Reid. "You always heard Ted Williams talk about this with his hitting. The fighter pilots have that extra sense of feeling what's going on around them and then they can react calmly in stressful times."

The Donovan McNabb Foundation

The Donovan McNabb Foundation was established in 2000 in honor of McNabb's close family members who have been diagnosed with diabetes. The foundation raises awareness of diabetes through Donovan's position as the national spokesman for the American Diabetes Association. Donovan started his foundation so that he could help provide awareness and improve the lives of those who suffer from diabetes, as well as the families of those who have diabetes.

Through the foundation, he has also donated hundreds of thousands of dollars to Mt. Carmel HS and Syracuse. During the Eagles bye week in 2003, he and his immediate family participated in the Diabetes Walk to raise awareness and funds.

ALL IN THE FAMILY

Sam and Wilma McNabb, "are my biggest fans and also my #1 critics," according to their youngest son Donovan. They raised Donovan, along with an older brother, Sean in the Chicago suburb Dolton, IL.

Sam, a retired electrical engineer, has provided Donovan with a thoughtful, organized, solid work ethic towards his job. He recently started a sports information and referral service, Seado Enterprises, to help high school football players prepare for the next stage of their athletic careers. He is also the founder of the NFL Father's Association.

Wilma, a registered nurse, has gained fame appearing as herself in the Campbell's Chunky Soup commercial series. She is also a vice president of the NFL Mother's Association, the executive director of the Donovan McNabb Foundation, and runs McNabb Unlimited, which oversees Donovan's endorsements.

Wilma, who Donovan credits in providing him with a sense of humor and ability to have fun, was told by his coaches growing up that he was always clowning around. Says Wilma, "That's Donovan's way. He wants to have fun. He told me, 'Mom, if I can't have fun doing something. What's the point of doing it.'"

Since lying in his bed as a kid staring at the walls he lined with Sports Illustrated covers, it was always a dream of Donovan McNabb's to one day grace the cover himself. His dream came true in January 2004, as he rallied the Eagles from a 14-point deficit to defeat the Packers in the playoffs.

- His 55 pass att's at Pit. (11/22/00) were a career-high and the 4th-highest total in team history

- Fired the first TD pass of his career (a 6 ydr. to TE Chad Lewis) vs. Ind. (11/21/99)
- Made his first career start vs. Was. (11/14/99), going 21-8-60 passing in the 35-28 win. He went 9-49 rushing and also converted on a pair of 2-pt. conversions (1 rush and 1 pass). With the win, he became the first Eagles rookie QB to win his first NFL start since Mike Boryla (12/1/71 vs. GB) and the first Eagle QB to win his first start since Ty Detmer (10/13/96 at NYG)

Position: Safety
Height, Weight: 5-10, 206
Born: 9/16/80 in New Orleans, LA
College: Boise State
High School: Willamette, Eugene, OR
NFL Experience: 3rd (3rd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: Signed as a rookie free agent in 2003
Originally joined NFL: Same as above

A reserve safety and special teams demon, Mikell (pronounced MICHAEL) has perfected his role during his first two seasons in Philadelphia. One of six rookie free agents to make the opening day roster in 2003, Mikell has since posted 45 tackles on special teams (ranked 3rd behind Ike Reese and Keith Adams during that span) and made a leaping interception in front of TE Jeremy Shockey in the end zone during a 2004 win at Giants Stadium. "He's become a premier special teams player," said special teams coordinator John Harbaugh. "He's a guy who does all the technical things exactly right."

BIRDSEED:

- Earned his boating license during the 2005 offseason by taking lessons at Safety First Boating School in New Jersey. "I went on a cruise to the Eastern Caribbean with about 24 family members in the offseason and I got hooked on jet skis and boats. I wanted to do it the right way and learn from a professional, so when I got home I took classes. I guess the next step will be to buy one. We'll see."

THE MULTI-TALENTED MIKELL

Quintin Mikell worked pretty hard to get to the NFL in 2003. That work ethic was evident growing up as he worked part-time in vastly different jobs.

"All of my jobs taught me how important it is that when you start something you need to take pride in finishing it," said Mikell.

At the age of 16 he landed his first job as a grill cook at McDonald's in Eugene, OR.

"Working at McDonald's really made me learn that I better go to college and get an education. I liked the people I worked with but I knew flipping burgers wasn't for me."

He turned in his teal polo shirt and paper hat for a spot on an assembly line at a local wood mill when he was 17. His job entailed filling the knots in the wood with putty and smoothing them out. He then applied a glue to the wood and then fed the sheets into a press to seal it.

As a college student, Mikell was a teller at Idaho Independent Bank, his favorite of the three jobs.

"Being a teller really taught me the value of saving my money and investing it the right way. It was fun just because I came across all kinds of people."

- Idolized Eagles FS Brian Dawkins while playing high school and college football. "He is reckless on the field," said Mikell. "He plays so hard. I learned a lot from him. I would just sit back and watch him."
- Said Dawkins of his protege, "Quintin will deliver a blow when he hits you. That's all heart. He's not the biggest guy, but he brings it. He's confident and he has talent. He's going to be a pretty good safety in this league."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Finished 2004 3rd on the team in special teams production pts. (162) and special teams tackles (23)
- Snagged his first career INT as he out-leaped Giants TE Jeremy Shockey on a fade pattern in the corner of the end zone at NYG (11/28/04). The INT saved a TD and changed the momentum of the game
- Forced and recovered a fumble on a kickoff at Cle. (10/24/04)
- Made 4 special teams tackles at Det. (9/26/04)
- Made his NFL debut vs. TB (9/8/03)

PERSONAL:

- Became a home owner for the first time in 2005, as he purchase a two-story colonial home in Sicklerville, NJ. "It was a big step for me, but I was so excited to actually do it."

- Caught 77 passes for 1,641 yards and 17 TDs as a senior at Willamette HS. Earned all-league and all-state honors with 7 INTs in 1997. Also lettered in basketball and track
- Moved 3 times growing up. His father, a Sony VP/General Manager, was transferred to new jobs within the organization. Was born in New Orleans, moved to Indiana and then to Eugene, OR
- Wants to pursue a coaching career when his playing days are over
- A huge fan of "Dragon Ball Z," a Japanese cartoon series that airs on the Cartoon Network. "I made fun of my friend at first for watching it," said Mikell. "Then I sat down and watched it, and got hooked."
- Majored in communications

COLLEGE:

Finished his Boise State career ranked second all-time in tackles (401). As a senior earned WAC defensive player of the year honors. In 2002, the two-time, first-team All-WAC selection made 97 tackles, while posting 4 sacks, 5.5 TFLs, 1 INT, 8 FFs and 2 blocked FGs. His FF total tied an NCAA record set by Dwight Freeney in 2001 and now ranks tied for 2nd all-time. As a junior, posted 87 tackles 2 sacks and 2 INTs. Posted 118 tackles in his sophomore season to earn All-Big West Conference defensive POY honors. As a true freshman earned Freshman All-America honors from The Football News and All-Big West honors after making 99 stops, 2 sacks and 2 INTs.

INJURY REPORT:

Sustained a dislocated shoulder in Super Bowl 39 vs. NE (2/6/05) and did not return. Later had shoulder reconstruction by Dr. Peter Deluca on 2/15/05. Suffered a dislocated shoulder vs. Dal. (12/19/04) and missed the next two contests.

Position: Wide Receiver
Height, Weight: 6-3, 226
Born: 12/7/73 in Alexander City, AL
College: Tennessee-Chattanooga
High School: Benjamin Russell, Alexander City, AL
NFL Experience: 10th (2nd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: Trade (Bal) 2004
Originally joined the NFL: 03-96 by San Francisco (89th selection overall)

Terrell Owens brought his tenacity and big-play ability to the Eagles offense after being acquired in a highly-publicized three-way trade involving Baltimore and San Francisco in 2004. A five-time Pro Bowl selection, Owens returned from a surgically-repaired ankle in just 7 weeks to catch 9 passes for 122 yards in Super Bowl 39. In his first season as an Eagle, Owens also broke team records in touchdown catches (14) and most 100-yard games (7). Owens' name is also etched in the NFL's all-time record books with 20 catches vs. Chicago in 2000. A 3rd round draft choice out of Tennessee-Chattanooga in 1996, Owens is a tireless worker on and off the football field. That work ethic has even been used in his fight to find a cure for Alzheimer's, a disease that affects millions of Americans, including his grandmother, Alice Black. In 2003, he lobbied U.S. Congress for more funding for research for the crippling disease.

NEAR AND DEAR TO HIS HEART

Owens holds one charity very near and dear to his heart, the Alzheimer's Association. His family is personally touched by Alzheimer's as his grandmother, Alice Black, is afflicted by the disease. In order to help find a cure, he has served as the celebrity chairperson for the Alzheimer's Association and even addressed Congress in 2003 to request more funding for Alzheimer's research.

Position: Fullback
Height, Weight: 6-2, 250
Born: 4/5/78 in Sonora, CA
College: San Jose State
High School: Sonora, Sonora, CA
NFL Experience: 2nd (2nd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: FA 2004
Originally joined NFL: Signed as a rookie free agent by Philadelphia in 2001

Inspired by his brother, Neil, who suffered a football injury that resulted in his lower left leg being amputated while they were teammates at San Jose State in 2000, Josh Parry showed a great deal of determination in finally earning a roster spot with the Eagles in 2004. Parry spent the previous four training camps with the Eagles (the first two at linebacker) before an injury to Jon Ritchie (knee) gave him his first opportunity on the active roster as the first-string fullback. "My philosophy has always been to keep my head up and never waver," said Parry. "Some guys get disappointed and that really can distract you from the goal. Eventually, working hard really does pay off."

BIRDSEED:

- After attending four straight training camp with the Eagles, signed to their active roster on 9/27/04. Was signed as a rookie free agent linebacker by the Eagles in 2001 and made the transition to fullback prior to the 2003 season and went on to spend the entire year on the Eagles practice squad at that position
- His wife, Kelli, gave birth to their first child, Madison while he was at training camp with the Eagles in 2001. In order to make it home to see the new mother and child, he hitched a ride back to Philadelphia with Comcast SportsNet cameraman Kevin Flatley.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Made his first career start at Pit. (11/7/04)
- Notched 2 catches at Cle. (10/24/04), both for 1st downs. His catch in the 1st quarter was the 1st of his career
- Played in his first NFL game at Chi. (10/3/04) and helped lead RB Brian Westbrook to 115 yds. rushing, despite suffering a knee injury in the 1st qtr.

PERSONAL:

- He and his wife, Kelli, reside in Sacramento, CA, in the offseason and have a daughter, Madison (8/8/01), and a son, Aiden (9/3/03)
- A golfer since the age of 9, he currently has a 9 handicap
- Majored in biology and probably would be in the medical field if not for football
- Loves the outdoors and his hobbies include fishing and waterskiing
- Speaking at the Community Quarterback ceremony in 2004, Parry said, "When my brother was injured playing football several years ago, it was the kindness of volunteers just like each of you that got me and my family through a very difficult time." Parry continued, "Now, it is my honor to be here volunteering and getting the opportunity to meet each of you tonight."
- Full name: Joshua David Parry

LOOKING OUT FOR THE LITTLE GUY

Just before the 2004 NFC Divisional Playoff Game against the Minnesota Vikings, Josh and his wife, Kelli, were watching the local news and saw the story of a boy who was beaten up by bullies while walking home from school one day. Josh and Kelli were so moved by the story that he contacted the family and gave the boy and his father tickets to the up-coming game.

"When I saw the story on TV," said Parry, "all I could think was 'Wow, I really wish I could do something.' I really just wanted to help the kid out. It made me feel good that they were able to go to the game."

COLLEGE:

During his four-year career as a linebacker at San Jose State, he amassed 354 tackles while starting all 43 games. As a senior linebacker, Parry made 122 tackles and 2 INTs to earn 2nd team All-WAC honors. He also earned a selection to the 1998 CoSIDA/GTE District VIII academic All-America team.

INJURY HISTORY:

Suffered a MCL sprain at Chi. (10/3/04) in the 1st quarter but returned later in the game.

A speedy receiver with toughness and durability, Todd Pinkston is a big-play target in the Eagles offense. A 2nd round pick in 2000, Pinkston has averaged 15.3 yards per catch during his five-year NFL career. In fact, his 18.8 average in 2004 led all NFC receivers. After a grueling training camp as a rookie, when veteran corners Troy Vincent, Bobby Taylor, and Al Harris pounded on him rep after rep, he worked hard to develop into a productive starting receiver. Pinkston, in turn, earned himself a six-year contract extension in 2003 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2008.

BIRDSEED:

- His father, Roy, was a middle school football and basketball coach and now coaches basketball at Forest HS. Inspired by his father, he would like to one day follow his footsteps and become a football coach at the high school level. His mother recently retired from her job at Raytheon, a defense company, after 27 years on the job
- Was honored as Mississippi's 2004 Professional Athlete of the Year during the 43rd Annu Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame and Awards Banquet presented by The Jackson Touchdown Club. "It means a lot," said Pinkston. "It's not on about what I am doing now but where I am from."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Ranks 2nd on the Eagles postseason receiving yardage list (433) and 3rd in receptions (32)
- Had 5 catches of 50 yds.-or-more in 2004. His 18.8 yds. per reception led all NFC receivers, and trailed only Denver's Ashley Lelie (20.1) and Pittsburgh's Plaxico Buress (19.9)
- Went 4-82 receiving in SB 39 vs. NE (2/6/05)
- Posted 3-99 receiving #'s, including a career-long 80-yd. pass from McNabb at Was. (12/12/04)
- Caught 5 passes for 106 yds. vs. Was. (11/21/04)
- Hauled in a TD on a 59-yd. bomb as he plucked the ball from CB Jacques Reeves at Dal. (11/15/04)
- Snagged 6 passes for 100 yds. at Cle. (10/24/04), including a 65-yd. bomb from McNabb on the game's 1st play from scrimmage, which led to a TD on the next play. Along with Terrell Owens' 10 receiving yds., it was the first time two Eagles posted 100-yd. receiving efforts in the same game since Calvin Williams (5-108-2TDs) and Fred Barnett (4-102-1TD) on 9/20/92
- Led the team in receiving yds. (575) and yds. per catch (16.0) in 2003
- Notched 7 catches (5 for 1st downs) for 95 yds. and 1 TD in the NFC Divisional Playoff vs. GB (1/11/04). His TD tied the game late in the 4th qtr.
- Posted 273 receiving yds. during the final 3 games of 2003, most by an Eagle in a 3-game stretch since Irving Fryar's 318 in 1997

PINK'S PRIORITY

"Giving kids another opportunity to go the extra mile to enhance their lives." That's the mission statement behind "Todd Pinkston's Enhancement Program," based at Slaughter Memorial Library in his hometown of Forest, MS. This after-school program for children in grades 6-12 gives them an opportunity to meet with tutors, who guide them through anything from homework problems or general life issues and questions. Pinkston keeps track of the children's progress by reviewing their progress reports and report cards throughout the year, even when he is in Philadelphia. On average, the students have increased one letter grade since joining the program.

- Hauled in 5 catches for career-high 121 yds. vs. SF (12/21/03), eclipsing the 100-yd. plateau for the 1st time in his career. His TD with 1:02 remaining in the 4th qtr. sent the game into OT
- Snagged a 59-yd. bomb from McNabb at Mia. (12/15/03) on the 1st play from scrimmage that set up a 21-yd. TD run by Brian Westbrook
- Caught the game-winning TD pass from McNabb with :38 remaining in the 4th qtr. to lead the Eagles to a 17-14 come-from-behind win at GB (11/10/03)
- Led the Eagles and established career highs in receptions (60), yards (798), and TDs (7) in 2002. Caught TD passes from 4 different players (QBs McNabb, Koy Detmer, A.J. Feeley, and RB Brian Westbrook)
- Enjoyed the 2nd multiple-TD game of his career vs. Dal. (9/22/02). Racked up 5 catches for 48 yds., including a 25-yd. TD from Westbrook on a halfback option pass
- Posted 7 recepts. for 99 yds. vs. StL (9/9/01), including a 4th down catch on the Eagles final drive of regulation that led to a game-tying TD and sent the game into OT
- Caught his first TD reception from McNabb vs. Dal. (9/30/01), by leaping into the air, splitting two defenders and snagging the ball with his fingertips
- His 41-yd. catch vs. TB in the NFC Wild Card game (1/12/02) set up the Eagles first TD
- Scored the Eagles first TD of the game at StL in the NFC Championship game (1/27/02) with a 12-yd. reception from McNabb
- As a rookie in 2000, shared the #3 wide receiver role with Na Brown and made his first career start at GB (9/17/00) in place of Torrance Small (hamstring)
- Made his first NFL catch - an 8 ydr. from McNabb - and finished with 3 receptions in his NFL debut at Dal. (9/3/00)

TAKING THE BULL BY THE HORNS

When Rayburn was a sophomore in college he was confronted with something that he knew had been bothering him most of his life, but didn't quite know what it was. He found himself becoming frustrated and angry very easily and very often. Most of the time for minor reasons, if there were even reasons at all. He found himself instigating trouble too often in high school and college. Finally, his feelings were explained to him. He had been diagnosed with Bipolar Disorder.

"At first I had no idea what they were talking about," recalled Rayburn. "But then they explained it to me and it made sense. Then they told me it was treatable. I've tried a number of medicines but the one that has been the most effective is what I take now, Lexapro"

Bipolar Disorder is a psychiatric disease characterized by extreme mood swings of both depression and mania. In Rayburn's case it revolved more around the mania. He had intense feelings of energy, fast moving thoughts and extreme anger.

"It's something that's easy to treat," said Rayburn. "As a man you don't want to feel weak, like you have to depend on medicine. I got over that. I look at it this way, 'If I had cancer, I'd go get chemotherapy to treat it.' It's the same way with being Bipolar."

Having gone through what he has over the years, Sam knows that being diagnosed has been one of the best things that could have happened to him. He has been able to control it, instead of allowing it to control him. Rayburn now has goals of helping others to realize that it is an extremely common disorder, but also a very treatable one. He is a prime example.

HAND-FISH COORDINATION

When home in Chickasha, enjoys a nice day of catfishing with his friends. To Rayburn, that entails quite a different method to capture the fish, a technique called "noodlin".

"It's basically fishing by hand," said Rayburn. "It's a rush when you swim down and try to catch them like this. We've caught some catfish that were between 50 and 60 pounds."

Along the Washita River, he and his friends wade into the water along the banks and search for catfish holes. Catfish typically lay along the bottom of the river, buroughed into holes where they wait for their prey. Wear leather gloves, which come halfway up their forearms, they swim down to the catfish holes and reach into them. While their hands are in the hole the catfish usually try to bite down on their hands thinking they are food. When they do, they grab the fish and pull them from their holes to the shore.

- His mother, Kristy, now works for the Department of Human Services as a child welfare officer. Also has a younger sister, Skyla (20)
- Recently took up the game of golf and enjoys playing with teammate Josh Parry
- An outdoorsman, enjoys hunting turkey, quail, duck and geese. "I pretty much hunt anything that flys." Also enjoys fishing, and jet skiing at Lake Chickasha
- Worked on his grandfather's farm as a youngster, feeding and branding cattle and chasing pigs, the latter of which helped his quickness in football. "It's similar to tackling. It's like chasing a running back. They're pretty slick, pretty intelligent animals."
- At Chickasha (OK) HS, helped lead the team to consecutive appearances in the state championship. Was an all-state pick as a senior and appeared in the Oil Bowl (Oklahoma vs. Texas senior all-stars)
- Is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes

A fourth round selection from South Florida in 2004, J.R. Reed worked hard to earn a roster spot as a back-up safety and as the primary kickoff return man. However, a freak accident during the 2005 offseason left Reed with damage to the peroneal nerve which affected the use of his lower leg and foot. His rehabilitation process is under the care of Dr. Tom Graham from Baltimore, MD. Reed is optimistic about his return, "It's a bad situation, but I'm going to be very positive about it going forward. I'm in the process of trying to get my leg working again. I believe in Dr. Graham and I believe in myself that I will get better."

BIRDSEED:

- As an avid collector of football cards, fulfilled one of his childhood dreams by appearing on his own football card. During a visit to the Fleer Trading Card company in 2004, the staff allowed him to design his own card. A collector since 1989, he is meticulous in cataloging his cards. "When I was young, I looked up to all of those players. I used to get excited when I would get a good card in a pack," said Reed. "Now I continue to collect cards and it is cool to be in the same locker room as some of the greats that I have collected."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- His 23.1 yds. per kickoff return ranked 2nd in the league among NFL rookies in 2004. Ranked 4th on the team in special teams tackles (20)
- Recorded 2 kickoff returns for 74 yds. including a long of 48 yds., which led to an Eagles TD, in the Divisional Playoff vs. Min. (1/16/05). Also notched 4 special teams tackles
- Posted a career-high 8 tackles on defense in back-to-back games at StL (12/27/04) and vs. Cin. (1/2/05)
- Bolted down the sidelines for a career-long 66-yd. kickoff return to open the game vs. Car. (10/17/04). The return led to an Eagles FG. It was the longest return by an Eagle since Brian Mitchell raced 94 yds. for a TD in 2001 at Arz. (11/4/01)
- Notched a career-high 126 kickoff return yds. vs. Min. (9/20/04) on MNF

PERSONAL:

Position: Fullback
Height, Weight: 6-2, 250
Born: 9/4/74 in Mechanicsburg, PA
College: Stanford
High School: Cumberland Valley, Mechanicsburg, PA
NFL Experience: 8th (3rd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: UFA (Oak) 2003
Originally joined NFL: 03-98 by Raiders (63rd selection overall)

A gritty, hard-nosed fullback, Jon Ritchie added an element of toughness to the Eagles backfield after joining the club in 2003. "I love the way that guy plays the game," said FOX Sports analyst Bill Maas. "He's a throwback kind of guy. His specialty is just putting his head on somebody and getting into the body and blowing it up." Ritchie, a native of nearby Mechanicsburg, PA, which lies 90 miles west of Philadelphia, was a 3rd round draft choice of the Raiders in 1998. He spent his first 5 seasons in the Bay Area, playing in one of the most prolific offenses in the NFL. The personable Ritchie also has many talents and interests off the field, including a love for music and writing.

BIRDSEED:

- A man of many talents, Ritchie is now the lead singer and guitarist for the alternative rock band, GOAT. Ritchie is accompanied by drummer, Myxilplyk, and bassist, Dr. Crack. The band continues to play gigs throughout the Philadelphia area
- Played bass on stage with his friends, Green Day, at one of their concerts in Philadelphia in 2004
- Ritchie is very proud of his Scottish heritage. His ancestor's last name was originally MacRitchie, and his family was part of the MacKintosh clan, whose motto was "Touch not the cat without a glove." Ritchie wore a kilt made of his clan's tartan (the plaid material distinctive to each clan) to the rehearsal dinner the night before his wedding. Interestingly, Ritchie's grandfather, Joseph Wallace Ritchie, was given that middle name in honor of Sir William Wallace, one of Scotland's greatest national heroes. Jon also gave that middle name to his son Joseph, who was born in January of 2005
- Jon and his father, Jon, have taken numerous Canadian fishing trips to Plevna, Ontario. The Ritchie men have made the 10-hour drive into Canada to fish for northern pike and the occasional walleye bass. In the "Land O' Lakes" region of Ontario, they rent wooden fishing boats rigged with outboard motors and head out onto a number of different lakes. At night they reside in cabins at Tooley Lodge. "We never went to Disney World growing up," said Ritchie. "What we do instead is great. I still look forward to the trip every year."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Named to Phil Simms' All Iron Man Team in 2003 and 2001
- Rushed once for 1 yd. vs. SF (12/21/03). It was his first rushing attempt since 12/5/99 and the 1st by an Eagles FB since Cecil Martin (9/8/02)

HEAD CASE

Made famous by the calcium deposits on his forehead that left blood gushing down his face on gameday, Ritchie's weekly blood donations came to a halt in 2003. Prior to the season he was sent to the Riddell plant in Chicago by Eagles head equipment manager, John Hatfield, to have a new helmet custom made.

The changes in the padding included the molding of the front section in the helmet to tightly fit the shape and slant of his forehead. The padding on the sides of the helmet have also been custom fit to the width of his head to reduce any movement.

When Ritchie's playing days are over he intends on having the "horns" that have made him famous, shaved down.

"I could get them shaved down now, but why? As long as I keep playing they'll just grow back."

- Registered a career-high 3rd receiving TD of the season on a 2-yd. pass from Donovan McNabb vs. NO (11/23/03)
- Scored the go-ahead TD late in the 4th qtr. on a 4-yd. pass from McNabb vs. NYJ (10/26/03)
- Recorded his first TD as an Eagle on a 4-yd. reception from McNabb vs. Was. (10/5/03)
- In his five-year Raiders career (1998-2002), played in 75 games (48 starts) and hauled in 129 passes for 1,026 yards and 4 TDs
- Scored first touchdown of NFL career on Monday Night Football at Den. (11/22/99), a 20-yd. pass from Gannon
- Pulled in a career-high 8 passes for 50 yards at KC (1/2/00)
- Was 2-51 receiving at KC (9/6/98)

PERSONAL:

- On 5/2/03, married the former Marielle Schlueter in Harrisburg, PA. The couple reside in Broomall and have one child, Joseph Wallace (1/21/05). The couple outfitted his bedroom in a "Safari" theme, with a life-size lion, tiger and giraffe
- Jon feels that he and Marielle (pronounced MAR-ee-ell) are "the perfect compliment to one another." I am no good with any kind of math and anything that has to do with my hands. I rely on her to put stuff together." Marielle is a tremendous athlete in her own right as she qualified for the NCAA Championships while starring on the Cal-Berkeley track team. She left the school as its record-holder in the 3000m steeplechase with a time of 10:22:38.
- Marielle qualified for the 2004 Boston Marathon by running the Philadelphia Marathon (11/23/03) in under 3 hours and 40 minutes. Although exhausted, she made it to Lincoln Financial Field that evening to watch her husband play the New Orleans Saints. That day his blocking helped the Eagles rush for 201 yds. and 2 TDs. She elected not to run in Boston
- Jon is an inventor and a choreographer who constantly dreams of magic babies, fake cats, and invisibility. He has mastered several appealing accents
- Was a consensus All-America selection at Cumberland Valley (PA) HS. Led his team to a state championship as a senior in 1992 and then played for the Pennsylvania squad in the "Big 33" All-Star Classic the following summer. In his career, gained 5,017 all-purpose yds., including 4,062 yards rushing and 69 TDs

MIDNIGHT GREEN DAY

Jon Ritchie's love for music far exceeds that of most NFL players. He is a fan of its history as well as its diversity having been influenced by an eclectic combination of Jimi Hendrix, Metallica, Bruce Springsteen, Johnny Cash and the Oakland-based band Green Day.

It was while with the Raiders that Ritchie began to form a close relationship with one of the best bands ever to come out of the Bay Area. Green Day, comprised of lead singer and guitarist Billy Joe, bassist Mike Dirnt and drummer Tré Cool, have helped Ritchie to further his pursuit of a post-football career in music even going so far as to let him record a song he wrote in their studio.

"Getting a chance to record in a studio with these guys was a thrill of a lifetime," recalled Ritchie. "I'm a fan of their music and they're fans of football. We hit it off right away."

MacRITCHIE'S PUB

When Jon and his wife, Marielle, were looking for a house in suburban Philadelphia, Jon had his own ideas for making his home unique. Now, as visitors to the Ritchie homestead descend the stairs into the basement, they are transported into an old-world Pub complete with a stage for his band to perform from.

"It's a fun place to go," said Ritchie. "We never have to go out to have a good time. We just have to go downstairs."

The band has an area to set up the public address, the amps, guitars, drums.

"It's the ideal place for practice and it's a super dreamy space to unwind."

One of the most ingenious features of the pub, are the windows that Marielle designed. Although the room is completely underground, they installed windows to give the room an "above-ground" feel. The windows contain stained glass fabricated by Marielle and are lit from behind to give a "night-time" effect. Keeping with Jon's Scottish heritage, she incorporated the lion from the Royal Flag of Scotland into the design of the windows.

- A member of the National Honor Society. Lettered in track and field as a sprinter and shot putter
- Wrote a column for The Sporting News entitled "I-Formation"
- Plays the saxophone and guitar, and enjoys writing lyrics. Performed for the Raiders Rally in Jack London Square in Oakland
- Full name: Jon David Ritchie

As a senior, carried the ball 17 times for 95 yards while also hauling in 9 passes for 80 yards and 2 TDs. Named to the PAC 10 all-academic team in 1997 and the Big 10 all-academic team in 1994. In two seasons as a Wolverine, tallied 120 rushing yards and 2 TDs on 33 carries and caught two passes for 13 yards.

Armed with a feisty, on-field mentality, Jon Runyan takes pride in being a physical force each and every time he exits the locker room. At 6-7, 330, his relentless, physical play has trickled down to each of his linemates. "What Jon has brought to the offensive line is that temperament of his," said Andy Reid. "He is going to maul you and beat you up and feel pretty good about doing it. That's been contagious all the way across the line." Runyan, who suited up for the NFC's Pro Bowl squad in 2002, signed a six-year contract on 2/14/00 and teams with LT Tra Thomas (6-7, 349) to form one of the largest tackle tandems in league history. The 10th-year pro enters the 2005 season having started 128 straight regular season contests.

BIRDSEED:

- Aspires to have a career in the media once his playing days are over. Has been a frequent guest on WIP Radio in Philadelphia, hosted his own show on Y100, and took part in a weekly segment on CN8

IN THE TRENCHES

On being a successful lineman in the NFL: "Consistency. To be able to deal with injuries, physically and mentally. It's not an easy position to play. There's a lot of mental toughness involved. Weight is overrated. You need to be able to move around."

Favorite O-lineman: Mike Munchak, Bruce Matthews, and Jackie Slater. (a three-way tie) "Munchak was my position coach with the Oilers, Matthews was one of the all-time best and a great teammate, and Slater is a good friend of mine."

Reliable Runyan: Runyan has missed just 2 games due to injury during his entire football career, both occurring in college in 1994. His last was December 30, 1994 vs. Colorado in the Holiday Bowl

Career Games Played/Started: (Oilers/Titans 1996-99, Eagles 2000-04); 1996 (10/0), 1997 (16/16), 1998 (16/16), 1999 (16/16), 2000 (16/16), 2001 (16/16), 2002 (16/16), 2003 (16/16), 2004 (16/16); Total: (138/128). Playoff Games Played/Started: 1999 (4/4), 2000 (2/2), 2001 (3/3), 2002 (2/2), 2003 (2/2), 2004 (3/3); Total: (16/16).

- Has never experienced a losing season in the NFL or college. His overall record in that time span is 140-66-3 (.677)
- The extremely handy Runyan participated in a Home Depot demonstration on hanging wallpaper. He is also very mechanical. He once took his own car apart to have his transmission rebuilt. When he finished there were "only four bolts left over"

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Enters 2005 with an active streak of 144 consecutive combined starts. His 16 postseason starts since 1999 are more than any other active NFL player

- The 2002 offensive line allowed the team's lowest sack total (36) in a 16-game season since 1981 (22)
- Named to the 2001 All-Madden team and the All-NFL Interview Team
- Helped RB Correll Buckhalter to a team rookie rushing record 134 yds. vs. Arz. (10/7/01). Buckhalter also posted 586 yards on just 129 carries in 2001, to break the Eagles rookie rushing record set by Keith Byars (177-577) in 1986
- Blocked the first FG of his career at Dal. (11/18/01)
- Was a member of an offensive line that started all 16 regular season games (and both playoff contests) in the same combination in 2000. BIG MAN, BIG HEART

One of the most philanthropic athletes to play in Philadelphia, Runyan has donated time and money to various charitable efforts, including the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Variety Club, the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, and the Luekemia Lymphoma Society of Houston.

Runyan's Reserve, a specialty beer, was served at Iron Hill restaurant in Media, PA, and 50 cents from each beer sold, was donated to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The Runyan Hoagie, a large Italian sandwich, is sold at Lee's Hoagie Shop in Philadelphia. Proceeds from those sales go to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation.

He's the co-chairman of the Christopher Reeve Paralysis Foundation and on the Board of Trustees of the Texas Gulf Coast Chapter of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society.

Runyan is also hosting a benefit golf outing, Jon Runyan Score for the Cure Golf Outing benefiting Prostate Cancer, on September 27, 2005 at Ramblewood Country Club.

RUNYAN'S RIPTIDE

Whether it's from the right tackle spot on the Eagles offensive line or from high atop the front office as majority owner of the AFL2's San Diego Riptide, Runyan understands all facets of the business of football.

Overseeing a 15-person staff with the Riptide, Runyan enjoys "the experience of running a business that most people don't see. It's a lot more than just winning and losing games on the field. You don't realize how much money comes in and out every day."

Runyan's goal for the Riptide is to advance it to the Arena Football League, but "there's a lot of work that's involved."

During this past offseason, Runyan, along with several other players, participated in an executive education program at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania.

"The program was very informative," Runyan said. "It touched every aspect of business, money management and good decision making. And it will just get better every year."

In his senior year at Marshall, he and fellow lineman, Steve Perretta, carried QB Byron Leftwich, who was playing with a hairline fracture in his left leg, to the line of scrimmage when he was unable to run in the 4th qtr. vs. Akron. IN THE TRENCHES

His definition of an O-lineman: "You have to be a little off. Not a lot of people can do what we do - smash our bodies play after play, 50-75 plays a game. You have to be a tough S.O.B. to do it. You have to be tough and you have to be mean."

Favorite O-lineman: Former Steelers' C Mike Webster. "Mike got it done. Being from Pittsburgh, he was a guy that I watched growing up. He was not a big guy but he typified the town. A blue-collar guy who was able to do more than expected. A classic over-achiever."

Fantastic Four: During his college and NFL careers, has played with four QBs who were 1st round draft choices: Chad Pennington (Jets) and Byron Leftwich (Jaguars) at Marshall; Peyton Manning (Colts) and Donovan McNabb (Eagles).

Career Games Played/Started: (Colts 2003, Eagles 2004) 2003 (13/13), 2004 (15/5); Total: (28/18). Playoff Games Played/Started: 2003 (3/0), 2004 (3/0); Total: (6/0).

In his first season as a starting cornerback in 2004, Lito Sheppard could not have scripted a better story for himself. After earning first team All-Pro honors, a starting spot on the NFC Pro Bowl squad, and a lucrative contract extension through 2011, Sheppard played a major role in helping the Eagles to their first NFC Championship crown since 1980 and a Super Bowl played in his hometown of Jacksonville, FL. The speedy and fearless Sheppard also shows a penchant for big plays, converting two of his team-leading five interceptions for touchdowns last season. Sheppard was the first cornerback selected by the Eagles in the first round since 1980.

BIRDSEED:

- A reality-TV junkie, enjoys "American Chopper," "Fear Factor," and "Junkyard Wars." Claims "I have learned a lot from the Discovery Channel. I don't know how much is useful, but now when I get to talking cars I can hold my own."
- Sheppard enjoys a challenge on and off the field. While battling with receivers by day, at home he prefers to go one-on-one with the contestants of "Jeopardy." Said Sheppard, "I love Jeopardy. I try and watch it whenever I can. I enjoy trying to answer along with the contestants."
- An avid Monopoly player, he has developed his own very distinct strategy. Sheppard told Sports Illustrated's Peter King, "I like the horse. It's the biggest token. I don't buy everything I land on. I pass on the light blue -- Connecticut, Oriental. Low class. The best color group is the green. Upper middle class. You get your money that way. I don't like the railroads. Not cool. Not enough money involved when you land on them."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- With two career INTs returned for TDs, ranks tied for 3rd in Eagles history.
- Earned a starting role on the NFC squad in his first Pro Bowl in 2004. Also named first team All-Pro by the Associated Press, College and Pro Football Newsweekly and Pro Football Weekly, and second team All-Pro by Football Digest
- Tied for 3rd in the NFC (t-8th in NFL) and led the team with 5 INTs in 2004. Was one of three players in the NFL to return 2 INTs for TDs on the season
- His 172 INT return yards in 2004 were the 4th-highest single-season total in team history and the 3rd-highest total in the league that year
- In 7 return opportunities in 2004, gained 214 yds. (30.6 avg.), including INT returns of 64 and 101 yds. and a punt return for 39 yds.
- Recorded the longest individual INT return in franchise history at Dal. (11/15/04), a 101-yard TD return (QB Vinny Testaverde)
- Became the 4th Eagle and the 1st since Eric Allen (4 in 1993) to return 2 INTs for a TD in a single season

SPEED DEMON

As lightning fast as he is on the field, Sheppard has a need for speed off the field. A self-proclaimed "thrill seeker," he loves fast cars and more passionately fast motorcycles. The owner of a top-of-the-line Suzuki sportbike, a GSX-R1000, he knows there's a time and place for his desire to go fast.

"I'm going to take it easy with the bikes now," said Sheppard. "I'll wait until my playing days are over. I like the adrenaline rush and someday I'd like to try organized racing."

- Drilled QB Jonathan Quinn on a blindside hit for his 1st career sack at Chi. (10/3/04)
- Started 9 games in 2003 and notched a career-high 15 passes defensed
- Registered his 1st career INT at Atl. (11/2/03 - QB Kurt Kittner) and returned it 34 yds leading to a TD

SHORT'S LONG ROAD TO THE NFL

After working for a year in his father's concrete business in 2001, Short ended up playing for the Peoria Pirates of the AFL2 in 2002. He saw action at running back and linebacker for the Arena Cup champions.

"I was making $170 per week and could have made more money working with my father," said Short, "but I wanted an opportunity. I played well even though I didn't know the rules. I had about three penalties in my first game, blitzing from the linebacker spot."

After his stint in Peoria, received a call "out of the blue" from Sam Rutigliano, the former Browns head coach who was assisting with Barcelona in NFL Europe. Played defensive end and linebacker for the Dragons, recording 27 tackles and 2.5 sacks in 2003.

Following tryouts with four other teams, signed with the Eagles following the 2003 NFLE campaign, and spent that season on the practice squad.

"Those experiences in Arena ball and Europe humbled me a little, but I always believed I'd make it to the NFL. And I appreciate it that much more."

Corey Simon, the club's first round draft choice in 2000, has registered 270 tackles, 32 sacks, 105 hurries and 6 forced fumbles during his first five seasons in Philadelphia. His sack total trails only Andy Harmon (40) among defensive tackles in team history. He has missed only two games during his pro career, starting 78 regular season games and 12 postseason contests. Simon recorded a sack on his first play from scrimmage as a pro and shattered the club rookie record with 9.5 sacks. In 2003, Simon earned a trip to the Pro Bowl. "When he has his game turned up, he is very difficult to block," said Fox Sports analyst Daryl Johnston. "He is a big, quick, physical, off-the-ball down lineman."

BIRDSEED:

- Before he ever made a living hunting quarterbacks, Simon had his dream set on offense. "I wanted to be Tony Dorsett," said Simon. "I didn't even like the Cowboys, but I thought I was a running back. I was living a fantasy. The first day of JV practice, my coach said, 'OK, let me teach you a three-point stance. He put me in the dirt and I've been there ever since."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- With 32.0 career sacks as an Eagle, ranks 2nd in team history for career sacks by a DT behind Andy Harmon (40.0)
- Dropped QB Vinny Testaverde for a sack and also caused a FF by FB Darian Barnes vs. Dal. (12/19/04)
- Posted 2 sacks of QB Brett Favre vs. GB (12/5/04). It marked the 2nd time in his career he had back-to-back 2-sack games
- Notched 2 sacks and 4 pressures of QB Eli Manning at NYG (11/28/04). Also dropped WR Jamaar Taylor for an 8-yd. loss on a reverse
- Delivered a tremendous block on Panthers T Jordan Gross to lead CB Lito Sheppard into the end zone for a 64-yd. INT return for a TD vs. Car. (10/17/04)
- Was named to the NFC's Pro Bowl squad in 2003 with a team-high 7.5 sacks, the 2nd highest total among all NFL DT's. Also tied career highs in hurries (25) and forced fumbles (2) and posted the 2nd-highest tackle total (64) of his career
- Teamed with Darwin Walker in 2003 to register 13.5 sacks, a total that ranked the tandem atop the NFL
- Dropped QB Tim Hasselbeck at Was. (12/27/03) and forced a fumble that was recovered by N.D. Kalu
- Sacked QB Jeff Garcia and forced a fumble that was recovered by LB Carlos Emmons vs. SF (12/21/03)
- Tied a career high with 7 solo tackles at NYG (10/19/03) including a sack (QB Kerry Collins), and recovered a fumble caused by LB Mark Simoneau at the Eagles own 10-yard line keeping the Eagles within 3 pts. late in the game

SPREADING THE GOOD WORD

When Simon was drafted by Philadelphia in 2000, he and some of his teammates organized a Bible study group that met weekly at his home. Now the group has grown so large (150 members) that they started a church, the Morning Star Church of Greater Philadelphia. The congregation meets at River of Life Church in Mt. Laurel once a week on Monday.

Always a believer, his devotion became more focused during his latter college years. "I sensed my life had a greater purpose," said Simon. "There is a great deal of attention paid to us as athletes. I realized that I could use the field as a pulpit."

- Posted career highs in hurries (25) and batted passes (5) in 2002, despite missing two games with an ankle sprain
- Collected 5 tackles and added a sack of Michael Vick in the NFC Divisional playoff win vs. Atl (1/11/03). He was inspired by the birth of his first child, Corey Jr., at 5:00 am the morning of the game
- With 7.5 sacks in 2001, ranked tied for 3rd among all NFL DTs behind John Randle (11) and La'Roi Glover (8) on his way to earning All-NFL honors from Football Digest
- Made 7 tackles, including 4 for a loss, and 3 hurries vs. Dal. (9/30/01)
- Recorded 2 sacks in consecutive games vs. Was. (11/25/01) and at KC (11/29/01), and halted a Chiefs drive by chasing down speedy RB Priest Holmes 16 yards downfield and forcing a fumble. Tied a career-high with 9 tackles vs. Was.
- Made 5 solo tackles vs. TB in the NFC Wild Card game (1/12/02) and helped to limit their rushing total to just 63 yards
- Set a team rookie record and recorded the 5th-highest sack total for an Eagles DT with 9.5 sacks in 2000, surpassing Mike Mamula's 5.5 in 1995. Trailed only Saints DE Darren Howard (11) in sacks among NFL rookies and tied for 5th among all NFL DT's. Among Eagles DTs, only Andy Harmon (11.0 and 11.5), Jerome Brown (10.5) and Ken Clarke (10.5) finished with more sacks in one season
- Among his rookie honors were selections to the Howie Long Tough Guy Team (FOX Sports), All-NFL Rookie Team (Pro Football Weekly and Football News), and Top 16 Rookies (Football Digest)
- On his very first play from scrimmage as a pro, he sacked Cowboys QB Troy Aikman at Dal. (9/3/00)
- Although he ranked 2nd on the team with 9.5 sacks in 2000 (behind Hugh Douglas' 15), he would have been the sack leader for 17 of the other 30 teams
- Earned NFL defensive rookie of the month honors in November, 2000, tallying 26 tackles and 2.5 sacks
- Collected a career-high 9 tackles during OT win at Pit. (11/12/00)
- Was the first defensive tackle and second defensive lineman taken in the 2000 draft (Cleveland selected DE Courtney Brown #1 overall)

SIMON SAYS ... SUCCESS

Away from the football field, one of Simon's top priorities is the forming of the Corey Simon Success Center in Tallahassee, FL. The center, which is being renovated from an abandoned warehouse, will host underprivileged children from that city and offer after-school and summer programs to help them enhance their education and lives in general.

"I'm building this for kids who are struggling so they can understand that there's a way out," says Simon, who hopes to officially open the 40,000 square foot center in the Fall of 2008. "Just being able to let them know and teach them how to get out of their rut and let them understand that their calling is bigger than the front yard of their neighborhood. And giving them the tools necessary to go out there and succeed in life. This was something that was given to me, so it was only fitting for me to do everything in my power to make it happen for them.

Simon has spent a great amount of time in the offseason with architects and engineers, working on the rezoning details and making sure the building is structurally sound. Until the center is completed, the Tallahassee Museum of History & Natural Science serves as the students' meeting place. Simon's dream is closing in on reality.

"This is something God put in my heart a while ago. My wife and I definitely have a heart for kids and we want to see this next generation succeed."

Hosted the first annual CSSC Celebrity Golf Tournament this past spring, which featured Lito Sheppard, Jeremiah Trotter, Brian Dawkins, Ike Reese, Henri and Zack Crockett, Derrick Brooks, and Anthony McFarland.

College: Rutgers
High School: Highland Park, Highland Park, NJ
NFL Experience: 3rd (3rd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: 02-03 (61st selection overall)

With size and an ability to stretch the defense, L.J. Smith is poised to become one the best tight ends in the NFL. The team's 2nd round draft choice out of Rutgers, Smith has hauled in 73 passes and 7 TDs (including playoffs) over his first two NFL campaigns while sharing time with three-time Pro Bowler Chad Lewis. "He's a guy who is very athletic," said quarterback Donovan McNabb. "And you feel good about him when you have him matched up against a linebacker. When the ball is in his hands, he has the acceleration to pull away and turn it into a big play."

BIRDSEED:

- Enjoys cooking and learned at a young age how to be creative in the kitchen from his grandmother. "I would consider myself a very good cook. I'm always looking for my new favorite dish."
- With his 28 combined wins in just two seasons in an Eagles uniform, Smith quadrupled his 4-year collegiate win total at Rutgers (7)

THE LONG ROAD TO THE NFL

Growing up in the small town of Highland Park, NJ (2 square miles, population 14,500), Smith graduated from the local high school as part of a 115-person class. He had thought about a career in basketball, but turned down interest from Division I hoop schools to settle on football tenure at Rutgers.

Although Rutgers won just seven games during his 4-year career with the Scarlet Knights, Smith persevered and earned attention from NFL scouts. The team captain performed very well against some of the nation's finest teams, including a 7-68 receiving day at Tennessee, despite being double teamed and in the spotlight of defensive coordinators.

"I always looked outside the Rutgers box," said Smith. "I knew I could play on the NFL level. But I knew I had to really prove myself heading into the draft. Had I gone to Miami or Florida State, it would have been a different story. It was tough not performing in the Senior Bowl with a hamstring injury, but I worked out very well at the Combine."

Smith was the 3rd tight end drafted in 2003, behind Dallas Clark (Colts) and Bennie Joppru (Texans).

- Aspires to one day produce his own music and would like to learn more about the audio and technical parts of the business. "The world would be a boring place without music. Music can inspire people in many different ways." His favorite artists include Tupac, Biggie, 50 Cent/G Unit, Brian McKnight, and Jagged Edge

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Set career highs in receptions (34), yards (377) and TDs (5) in 2004. His TD total was the most in a season by an Eagles TE since Chad Lewis posted 6 in 2001
- Made an impressive diving reception in the back of the end zone for the Eagles 1st TD in Super Bowl 39 vs. NE (2/6/05)
- Hauled in a 2-yd. TD pass from Donovan McNabb at Was. (12/12/04)
- Scored on a 2-yd. shovel pass from McNabb at Cle. (10/24/04)
- Bowled over Vikings' defenders to reach the end zone vs. Min. (9/20/04)
- Snagged his 2nd career TD on a 14-yd. toss from McNabb vs. NYG (9/12)
- Led all drafted rookie tight ends in yards per catch (11.9 - min. 25 recepts.) in 2003
- Led the Eagles in recepts. in 4 games (all Eagles wins) in 2003

- Recorded a 25-yd reception from McNabb at NYG (10/18/03) and ran over FS Omar Stoutmire on the play, to set up a TD

PERSONAL:

- Single and lives in Cherry Hill, NJ, in the offseason
- Credits his mother, Kathy, most for being the player and person he is today. "She was always there to help with any problem. She was tough but very understanding as well. I will always remember when she drove me to AAU camps that were hours away."

INJURY REPORT:

Had low back disc surgery by Dr. Frank Cammisa on 2/16/05. Suffered groin and leg injuries at Mia. (12/15/03) and was inactive the following week vs. SF (12/21/03).

WORKIN' 9 TO 5

It's no surprise that L.J. Smith decided to pursue his college degree in labor studies. As a young man growing up in Highland Park, NJ, he learned the value of a hard days work. Although football would eventually become his career, he held a number of part-time jobs throughout his college and high school years.

"When I was growing up I liked the idea of being independent," said Smith. "There were things that I wanted to provide for me and my family. I never wanted to trouble my mother with the little things. Instead, I wanted to help her with the things she wanted."

- Landed his first job when he was 14 years old. He painted fences for $5 an hour
- When he was 16 years old he worked in the produce section at ShopRite
- During winter break throughout high school, delivered books to New York City libraries
- Throughout high school worked at a furniture warehouse, scotchguarding and wrapping furniture for delivery, and at a local department store, Rickel's, loading and unloading trucks
- As a freshman in college, worked at The Limited, a women's clothing store, as a stockboy
- Towards the end of his freshman year and throughout his sophomore year, worked at a bagel shop, The Bagel Bazaar

On what it's like to be an O-Lineman: "It's a position where you are working the whole time while everything is happening around you. You know that if you do your job the right way good things are going to follow. You are able to see the results of your hard work."

A native of Liberia who moved with his mother and two sisters to the United States when he was just nine years old, Thomas Tapeh has indeed taken a long road to the NFL. The Eagles 5th round draft choice in 2004, Tapeh has the ability to play fullback and running back and did so during his first NFL campaign before suffering a dislocated hip during a December 27th game at St. Louis. After a grueling rehabilitation program under the care of Eagles head athletic trainer Rick Burkholder, Tapeh eyes a return to the Eagles backfield.

BIRDSEED:

- Grew up playing soccer in Liberia before moving with his mother, Cecily Woiwor, and his two sisters, Vickey and Winifred, to St. Paul when he was 9 years old. Said Tapeh of that transition, "I had to learn how to speak English. I was alone. All I had was my mother and sisters. I really did not fit in with the other kids and I did not have any friends. So it was real hard for me."
- Credits cartoons for helping him learn English. "Cartoons helped me a lot. There was 'Tailspin.' There was 'Thundercats.' All those cartoons, that's what I watched, and I mimicked how they spoke. Later on I figured out how the words were put together."

- Was a USA Today second-team All American and Minnesota State player of the year at Johnson High School in St. Paul. Holds the St. Paul City Conference records for points in a career (296), season (158), game (37), and TDs in a game (6)

Big Tra Thomas has made a nice living out of being Donovan McNabb's blindside bodyguard. One of the most accomplished left tackles in his profession as well as in Eagles team history, Thomas is a three-time Pro Bowl selection and has proven his durability by missing just one game due to injury during his seven-year NFL career. A mainstay at the left tackle spot since being selected in the first round in 1998, Thomas' goals are much loftier, "I want to be the league MVP as an offensive lineman. I want to get nine or 10 Pro Bowls under my belt. When people talk about the greatest linemen of all time, they talk about Anthony Munoz and Art Shell and Bob Brown. I want my name in there, too."

IN THE TRENCHES

His definition of an O-lineman: "We are the toughest guys and the hardest working guys on the team. We play every snap, every down, every game. We are sometimes anonymous but we are asked to protect the 100 million dollar quarterbacks from getting hit."

His favorite NFL O-lineman: Larry Allen. "I like his game and it seems like he's been playing forever. I'd add Willie Roaf for the same reasons."

A Friendly Little Game: An avid dominoes player, he ranks himself, Terrell Owens, Hank Fraley, Greg Lewis, Todd Pinkston, and newcomer James Whalen as some of the best in the Eagles locker room.

Career Games Played/Started: (Eagles 1998-2004); 1998 (16/16), 1999 (16/15), 2000 (16/16), 2001 (15/15), 2002 (16/16), 2003 (15/15), 2004 (15/15); Total: (109/108). Playoff Games Played/Started: 2000 (2/2), 2001 (3/3), 2002 (2/2), 2003 (2/2), 2004 (3/3); Total: (12/12).

BIRDSEED:

- When Thomas was young he was too big for Pop Warner football, but that didn't stop him from establishing his athletic prowess. "He got his first trophy when he was 4 for swimming," recalled Ethyl Thomas, Tra's mother

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Earned his 3rd selection to the NFC Pro Bowl squad in 2004, but did not play in the game. Also named All-NFC by Pro Football Weekly
- Was integral in the success of one of the most productive offenses in the NFL in 2004, an offense that posted a team record 4,208 passing yds. and the 3rd-highest point total in team history (386)
- Was inactive at StL (12/27/04) for personal reasons
- Played in his 100th NFL game at Cle. (10/24/04). Made his 100th NFL start vs. Bal. (10/31/04)
- Was part of an offensive line that protected QB Donovan McNabb and helped pave the way for the "Three Headed Monster" RB attack that posted a combined 1,618 rushing yds. and 2,465 total yds. from scrimmage
- Earned his 3rd Pro Bowl selection his first as a starter, in 2002. He, RT Jon Runyan, and RG Jermane Mayberry were the first trio of Eagles offensive linemen to ever go to the Pro Bowl in one season
- Also an All-Pro selection in 2002 by AP, The Sporting News, USA Today Sports Weekly. Was also named All-NFC by Pro Football Weekly

- Started all 16 games in 2002 and helped pave the way for the league's 4th-highest scoring offense (25.9 pts./game), the best output in team history (415)

- The 2002 offensive line allowed the team's lowest sack total (36) in a 16-game season since 1981 (22)
- Made his first trip to the Pro Bowl following the 2001 season. Was originally selected as the first alternate behind the Rams Orlando Pace (starter), the Redskins Chris Samuels (starter) and the Bears James Williams (reserve). When Pace withdrew from the game due to injury, Thomas filled in just days before the game
- Missed the first game of his career, at TB (1/6/02) as many starters were rested
- Helped RB Correll Buckhalter to a team rookie rushing record 134 yds. vs. Arz. (10/7/01). Buckhalter, (129-586) also broke the Eagles single-season rookie rushing record set by Keith Byars (177-577) in 1986
- In 2000, was selected as the first alternate to the NFC Pro Bowl squad behind Pace, William Roaf, and Korey Stringer
- Was a member of an offensive line that started all 16 regular season games (and both playoff contests) in the same combination in 2000. As such, the Eagles were just one of four clubs to have the unit stay intact throughout the season and, since the NFL went to a 16 game schedule in 1978, became the first Philadelphia team to accomplish that feat
- Helped open up holes during one of the greatest rushing performances in club history as Staley gained 201 yds. in the season opening win at Dal. (9/3/00), as the team ran for over 300 yds.

- In the 4th game of his rookie season vs. KC (9/27/98), held Chiefs all-pro LB Derrick Thomas without a sack or tackle

- Tra and his wife, Rosa Chanea, have two sons
- His father, William "Crane" Thomas, was an offensive tackle at Florida A&M and attended Atlanta's training camp in 1974

A RENAISSANCE MAN

If you asked Tra Thomas to describe himself he would probably say, "I'm just a guy who likes to hang out." But recently Thomas has begun to transform himself into quite a renaissance man, crediting maturity, relocation, marriage and good fortune for his evolution. Some of his new eclectic hobbies include: French lessons, bass guitar lessons, Broadway shows, the opera, and chess.

"The French lessons started because my wife and I wanted to go to France [a trip that is still being planned]. I'm getting good." After he learns French he ambitiously is looking forward to taking on the Spanish language. "Maybe I can be an overseas ambassador for the NFL someday," joked Thomas.

"I want to expose my kids to these things. Growing up in a small town, there weren't many opportunities to explore different things. I just played pool and went swimming. I'm fortunate to be able to explore these opportunities with my family."

Among the Broadway shows that Thomas has seen are "Aida," "Beauty and the Beast," and "Julius Caesar." "My wife picks out the shows. The one thing I don't like is that the seats are too tight."

- His 550-lb. bench press was a FSU record
- Was a two-way tackle at Deland (FL) HS
- Majored in criminology
- Full name: William Thomas III

COLLEGE:

Polished his pass blocking skills during Florida State practices against top-flight defenders such as Andre Wadsworth, Peter Boulware, Reinard Wilson, and Greg Spiers (Boulware and Wilson were NFL 1st round picks in 1997 by Baltimore and Cincinnati, respectively; Wadsworth was the third selection overall in 1998 by Arizona; and Spiers was taken in the 3rd round by New England in 1998). Played the "tight" tackle position, switching from left to right tackle in order to match up against opponents' top pass rushers. As a senior, earned 2nd team All-America honors, 1st team All-Atlantic Coast Conference recognition, and the Jacob's Trophy given to the ACC's top offensive lineman. Helped the Seminoles' offense lead the ACC and rank 8th in the nation with 452.1 total yards per game. Switched to offense after originally being recruited as a defender.

INJURY HISTORY:

Diagnosed with a blood clot in his leg and missed both mini-camps of the 2005 offseason. Was inactive at Mia. (12/15/03) due to back spasms.

High School: Hooks, Hooks, TX

A powerful middle linebacker with three Pro Bowls on his resume, Jeremiah Trotter is back home in Philadelphia for a 2nd stint wearing midnight green. Trotter, considered by many to be the "pulse" of the Eagles defense, was a remarkable story for the Eagles in 2004. Despite starting just 9 games at middle linebacker after re-signing with the Eagles in July, he earned a Pro Bowl berth after he solidified the run defense with 80 tackles, including a team-leading 10 behind the line of scrimmage. Trotter spent the previous two seasons in Washington before being released by the Redskins following the 2003 season. Without a contract offer, he somehow contacted Eagles head coach Andy Reid while Reid was fishing in a remote part of Utah where cell phone use was extremely limited to say the least. Trotter signed a one-year contract at that time and has since parlayed his Pro Bowl season in 2004 into a five-year deal this past offseason. "I can't stress enough how much I wanted to be here and how much I fit into this [defensive] system and this town," Trotter, originally a third round draft choice of the Eagles in 1998, said. "This city has the same attitude I have. I play with a passion ... this is where my heart is."

BIRDSEED:

- Learned the value of hard work - while also developing his massive upper body - by chopping wood for the family business run by his late father, Myra. After a big play, Trotter honors the work ethic he was taught by his father by motioning as if he was chopping wood with an ax. Said Jeremiah, "Football really wasn't that hard. Running and lifting, that was easy compared to the work I did at home ... I did anything I could do to make money, anything I could to help the family. It was hard work. I didn't play a lot of games. I worked. Looking back, I don't think I'd want it any other way."
- In 2000, began his first business venture, "T & I Unisex Salon," in Willingboro, NJ. In 2003, he opened "Trott Spot Car Wash" in Cherry Hill, NJ, and has plans to open another at Strawberry Plaza in North Philadelphia. His newest venture, a construction company, is currently in the development stages. "It's a good chance to get my feet wet in the business world," said Trotter. "I'm very hands on."

Born: 6/15/77 in Walterboro, SC
College: Tennessee

NFL Experience: 6th (6th as an Eagle)

"Engineered to sack." That's the slogan that adorns his personal website. It's what motivates the three-year starter at defensive tackle, who earned his degree in civil engineering and is a vice president and chief development officer of Pennoni Associates, Inc., a highly successful Philadelphia-based consulting engineering firm. With 19 sacks since 2002, Walker has been a key player in the middle of the Eagles defensive line. Not bad for a player that was claimed off waivers from Arizona on 9/12/00. He was rewarded with a 7-year contract extension in 2002 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2008.

BIRDSEED:

- With his structural engineering firm, has developed a passion for negotiating business deals, "There's nothing like that rush from closing a deal. It's almost as good as sacking the quarterback."

ENGINEERED TO SACK

Growing up in a family-owned construction company in South Carolina, Walker went on to earn his degree in civil engineering from Tennessee and later passed the stringent Fundamentals of Engineering examination.

When asked about similarities between his two occupations, Walker pointed to one aspect - teamwork. "One engineer doesn't do the whole project," said Walker. "It's a collaboration of minds. Teamwork is so vital to our success. Same with football."

PEG recently formed a strategic alliance with Pennoni Associates Inc., an Engineering News Record Top 150 consulting engineering firm headquartered in Philadelphia. In the spring of 2005, Walker was hired by Pennoni as Vice President and Chief Development Officer, and in turn became a stockholder in the company.

Pennoni has been engineering projects that have shaped the landscape of the Delaware Valley region since 1966 and has recently contributed to several highly publicized projects in the area including the NovaCare Complex, the new headquarters building for Comcast, the Cira Centre, Citizens Bank Park, and the National Constitution Center.

In addition to his relationship with Pennoni, Walker is also owner and founder of Darwin Walker Properties LLC, a civil engineering firm that is involved with a number of different developmental projects through investment, design and construction.

- Gained strength as a youth by mixing mortar for his father, James, a brick mason by trade. "It taught me how to develop a good work ethic," said Walker, who was 8-years old when he began his summer job. "I'm glad he made me do it. And he paid me too! He also gave me his car after the work day was done. That was a big deal for me." Walker's post-sack celebration simulates raking mortar
- Keeps a set of over-sized "Hulk Hands" in his locker. When he hits something with the gloves they sound like he is breaking through a wall. "They were given to me by a fan. I'm as powerful as the Hulk, so why not? (laughing)"

Position: Cornerback
Height, Weight: 6-2, 210
Born: 12/2/82 in Santa Monica, CA
College: UCLA
High School: Loyola, Los Angeles, CA
NFL Experience: 2nd (2nd as an Eagle)
Acquired by Eagles: 03-04 (89th selection overall)
Originally joined NFL: Same as above

Equipped with good size and toughness from the cornerback position, Matt Ware spent the majority of his rookie season learning the intricacies of the Eagles defensive scheme while contributing on special teams (15 tackles).

BIRDSEED:

- Growing up, his father, Bernard, became ill and unable to work. Matt's parents felt it would be beneficial for Matt to move in with his grandmother, Iola, in Culver City, CA, where Bernard was raised. "I owe a lot to my grandmother," said Matt. "She raised me when my father was sick. My parents knew how well my grandmother would take care of me and that the level of sports in Culver City would really prepare me to succeed."
- While in high school worked at Gladstones, one of the hottest restaurants in Santa Monica, as a host. Each night he sported "Gilligan's Island outfit," consisting of a white t-shirt, shorts and sneakers. "It was so crowded all the time because it was right on the beach. I really learned to be patient with people when I worked there."
- Grew up a Dallas Cowboys fan, mainly because of his father's love for the team. "I hate the Cowboys now, for obvious reasons. I loved them because my dad did. What great players they had. Emmitt, Michael Irvin, Harper and Aikman. I loved watching Reggie White go up against Erik Williams."

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

- Finished 2004 ranked t-5th on the team in special teams tackles (15) and 6th in production pts. (132)
- Made four solo tackles in SB39 vs. NE (2/6/05)
- Notched a career-high 5 tackles with 1 FF and 1 FR at StL. (12/27/04)
- Played in his 1st NFL game vs. Car. (10/17/04) and notched 1 tackle on defense and 1 on special teams

PERSONAL:

- Single and resides in Malibu, CA, and Sicklerville, NJ, in the offseason
- Attended Loyola HS in Los Angeles. Playing quarterback and free safety, earned USA Today and Parade All-America honors. Also named the LA Times All-Central City player of the year, while earning CIF-SS Division I player of the year. Most colleges recruited him to play QB but chose to go to UCLA because they promised him he would play defensive back
- As a senior in HS, passed for over 1,000 yards and 16 TDs and rushed for 1,161 yards and 17 TDs. Added 59 tackles, 4 INTs, and 6 FFs on defense. Also lettered in track and baseball
- His parents both earned degrees from UCLA and now work in the legal field. His father, Bernard, is a lawyer now in independent practice who previously worked in medical malpractice, and his mother, Julie, is a legal assistant

PREPARED TO SUCCEED

An all-around athlete at Loyola High School in Los Angeles, Matt Ware was selected in the 21st round of the 2001 Major League Baseball Draft by the Seattle Mariners as a center fielder. He went on to spend the summers of 2002 and 2003 playing the outfield for the Peoria (AZ) Mariners.

"My experience in minor league baseball really taught me how to be a pro," said Ware. "Seeing how things worked first hand, helped me a great deal in preparing to become a professional football player. I loved baseball but football was where I wanted to succeed."

- A number of his family members went to UCLA, including his father, Bernard. The only member of his family to have any ties to USC was his grandfather, Theodore Reid, who happened to be the head of dentistry at the school. "If I had even taken a visit to USC when I was being recruited out of high school, my family would have killed me. When I was deciding to enter the draft as a junior, one of the reasons I was thinking about staying was to get another chance to play against SC."
- The first part-time job he can remember is painting fences in his neighborhood when he was 10 years old. "My dad wanted me to have a good work ethic."
- Majored in sociology
- Full name: Matthew Jesse Ware

A three-year starter at both cornerback and free safety, Ware recorded 117 tackles, 1 sack, 8 interceptions and 2 blocked kicks during his career. In 2001, became the first true freshman to start every game and was named Pac-10 freshman of the year by The Sporting News and earned first-team freshman All-America honors by the Football Writers Association. Grabbed 5 INTs and also saw action as an option quarterback. Was switched to free safety for the first 3 games in 2002 before returning to cornerback. Despite the position change, earned first-team All-Pac 10 honors with a career-high 51 tackles, 1 INT, 1 sack, 2 forced fumbles and a blocked punt. Notched 34 tackles and 2 INTs in 2003.

"He never did learn how to walk," said his mother, Zelda. "He ran to do everything." And he has not stopped. In his first full season as the Eagles featured back in 2004, Brian Westbrook proved himself to be one of the NFL's most explosive weapons and capped the year with his first trip to the Pro Bowl. He was the only NFL player to accumulate 700+ yards in both rushing and receiving in 2004 and has 24 touchdowns over the last two seasons (including playoffs). "He creates more mismatch problems than any other player on the field," said FOX Sports and HBO Sports analyst Cris Collinsworth. "For a quarterback, what greater luxury is there than to have a guy like Brian Westbrook who can catch the football, make somebody miss, and add 10 yards to your stats?" A third round draft choice in 2002, Westbrook was one of the most decorated players in NCAA Division I-AA history at nearby Villanova. Said head coach Andy Reid, "For the first ten yards, there are not a lot of people in this league that are as explosive as him."

BIRDSEED:

- Received several write-in votes in the 2003 Philadelphia Mayoral election. Also received write-in votes for Supreme Court Justice, Superior Court Judge, Traffic Court Judge, and registrar of wills. Said Westbrook of the news, "That's great! Maybe one day I'll decide to switch careers, but for now, I'm happy as an Eagle."
- Posed with his mother, Zelda, for a Mother's Day photo shoot for Philadelphia Magazine. Said Westbrook after seeing the picture with his mother, "That was a great experience to be in Philadelphia Magazine for Mother's Day. It was a great opportunity for people to see what a great influence she has been in my life."
- In 2003, organized "The Westbrook Bowl," a celebrity bowling tournament that benefits the Variety Club of Philadelphia
- His high school coach, William McGregor II of DeMatha HS, was named the 2004 NFL High School Coach of the Year. McGregor was nominated for the award by Westbrook. Said Westbrook of McGregor's honor, "Bill was, and continues to be, an inspiration and source of support to me."
- Nicknamed "Seabiscuit" by defensive coordinator Jim Johnson following his last-minute, game-winning gallop down the sidelines to beat the Giants with an 84-yd. punt return for a TD

A dominant presence in the middle of the defensive line, Mike Patterson helped USC win back-to-back National Championships in 2003 and 2004. Despite not playing football - or even having a real interest in the game - until his freshman year of high school, Patterson quickly developed into one of the nation's best defensive linemen, earning All-America honors as a senior. NBC Sports football analyst Pat Haden had a unique way to describe his style of play, "Mike Patterson is like hair in the sink. He just kind of clogs things up."

BIRDSEED:

- After attending a summer football camp in Southern California prior to his freshman year of high school with his cousin, Jorrel Knight, decided to move in with his cousin's family (Aunt L'Tanya and Uncle Fredie, a seargent in the Army) and attend Los Alamitos HS to play football. "The first year was hard, but I was still with family. I never thought about sports when I was up north. Then I started realizing what football could do for me."
- An all-state wrestler in high school, he credits that experience with helping him in football. "Wrestling taught me how to stay low. It's the same technique as the defensive line. You have to stay low and use your hands. I was originally an offensive lineman in high school, but as soon as the football coaches saw how aggressive I was when I wrestled, they moved me over to defense."

2004 GAME-BY-GAME REVIEW

GAME 1

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 31, NEW YORK 17
LINCOLN FINANCIAL FIELD • 67,532

The Eagles high-octane offense debuted with 454 yards of total offense in a 31-17 thumping of the Giants at Lincoln Financial Field. Donovan McNabb completed 72% of his passes for 330 yards and 4 TDs, Terrell Owens lit up the scoreboard in his Eagles debut with 3 touchdowns, and RB Brian Westbrook registered his first career 100-yard rushing game with 119 yards on 17 attempts. After the Giants took an early 7-0 lead on a 3-yard touchdown run by Ron Dayne, the Eagles tallied 24 unanswered points on four straight possessions. First, Owens hauled in a 20-yard scoring grab from McNabb in the first quarter to tie the game. That TD was set up by a 50-yard scamper by Westbrook. On the Eagles next possession, the Eagles drove 56 yards on 5 plays as McNabb scrambled away from pressure by Michael Strahan, near the Giants sideline, and threw a strike across his body to Owens for a 3-yard scoring play. McNabb's 14-yard TD completion in the back corner of the end zone to a diving L.J. Smith gave Philadelphia a commanding 21-7 lead in the 2nd quarter. The Eagles made it four scores in four straight possessions after David Akers booted a 45-yard field goal late in the first half. Armed with a two-touchdown lead heading into the 3rd quarter, McNabb connected with Owens for the third time (a 12-yard TD pass) to make the score 31-10 late in the 3rd quarter to seal the game.

NOTES: Owens' 3 touchdown receptions tied a career high and were the most by an Eagles wide receiver since Irving Fryar in 1997 ... McNabb's 4 touchdown passes moved him into 4th place on the Eagles all-time list past Tommy Thompson (90) ... The Eagles posted their first opening-day win since 2000 ... The Eagles posted a 300-yard passer and a 100-yard rusher for the first time since 2000 ... The Eagles offense converted 7 of 13 third-down opportunities (54%), were 4 of 4 in red zone appearances, and did not commit a turnover ... The Giants scored just 7 points in 4 red zone opportunities.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 27, MINNESOTA 16
LINCOLN FINANCIAL FIELD • 67,676

The Eagles defense withstood 70 plays in just under 38 total minutes of clock time to hold the high-powered Vikings to 17 points in a hard-fought victory on Monday Night Football at Lincoln Financial Field. The Eagles pressured Daunte Culpepper all night long (4 sacks) and did not allow a completed pass of over 22 yards, but their effort was highlighted by two goal line stands, including a key forced fumble by Nate Wayne as Culpepper was nearing the goal line late in the 2nd quarter. Down 3-0 early in the first quarter, the Eagles used 44 yards on 6 touches by RB Brian Westbrook in a 72-yard drive which culminated in an 11-yard TD pass to TE L.J. Smith. The Vikings embarked on another long drive of their own and were set up with a 1st and goal situation at the PE2. But the Eagles stopped RB Onterrio Smith twice for no gain before FS Brian Dawkins crashed into Culpepper at the one yard line to force a short field goal. The Eagles answered with a field goal of their own – a 37-yard shot by David Akers – to take a 10-6 lead midway through the 2nd stanza. After a fumble by Westbrook, the Vikings once again had a 1st and goal on the 2 yard-line, only to have Culpepper fumble the ball after a hit by LBs Nate Wayne and Mark Simoneau while scrambling toward the end zone. The Eagles opened the 2nd half with a 46-yard kickoff return by rookie J.R. Reed, which led to a 20-yard touchdown run by McNabb and a 17-6 lead. After a field goal by Vikings K Morten Andersen cut the lead to eight points late in the 3rd quarter, the Vikings drove deep into Eagles territory once again early in the 4th stanza. But four penalties left them with a 44-yard field goal attempt which Andersen fell short on. McNabb and Owens made the Vikings pay on the ensuing possession as they connected on a 45-yard TD strike giving Philadelphia a commanding 24-9 lead. Culpepper connected with Randy Moss on a 4-yard TD late, but Akers responded with a 47-yard field goal to seal the victory.

GAME 3

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 30, DETROIT 13
FORD FIELD • 62,472

The Eagles stormed out to a 21-0 lead and did not look back in posting their first win in Detroit since 1971. Donovan McNabb completed 29 of 42 passes (69%) for 356 yards and accounted for 3 touchdowns (2 passing and 1 rushing), while Jevon Kearse posted the first 3 sacks of his Eagles tenure to lead an impressive defensive attack. Late in the first quarter, the Eagles posted 2 touchdowns in a span of just 43 seconds. First, McNabb capped off an impressive 7-play, 88-yard drive, in which he completed all five of his pass attempts for 88 yards (including a 48-yard strike to Freddie Mitchell), with a one-yard touchdown plunge to put Philadelphia on top. After an unforced fumble by Lions QB Joey Harrington on the next possession which was recovered by CB Roderick Hood, McNabb connected with Terrell Owens for a 29-yard TD. Owens snared 6 passes from McNabb in recording his first 100-yard receiving game (107) with the Eagles. McNabb then completed 8 of 9 pass attempts in directing a 12-play, 87-yard drive early in the 2nd quarter that resulted in a one-yard TD pass to 3rd-string TE and long snapping specialist Mike Bartrum. Harrington fired a 12-yard scoring pass to rookie WR Roy Williams in the final seconds of the first half to put the Lions on the scoreboard. Eagles K David Akers booted three field goals (26, 47, 39 yards, respectively) in the first four possessions of the 2nd half to put the game out of reach at 30-7.

NOTES: Both teams entered the game 2-0 as the Eagles made their first visit to Detroit since 1984 ... Eagles tight ends combined for 9 catches for 111 yards and 1 touchdown ... Kearse's 3 sacks were the most by an Eagle since N.D. Kalu posted three vs. St. Louis in 2002 ... Eagles LDE Jerome McDougle and his older brother, Stockar, a RT for the Lions, matched up against each other for the first time since high school ... Eagles DT Hollis Thomas played in his 100th career regular season game.

GAME 4

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 3, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 19, CHICAGO 9
SOLDIER FIELD • 61,894

The Eagles used four field goals by David Akers, 178 total yards of offense from RB Brian Westbrook, and a stingy defensive performance in a 19-9 victory over the Bears at a windy Soldier Field. Akers' four field goals all came from 40- yards or more, including a 51-yard boot to open the scoring late in the 1st quarter. The Bears, who started Jonathan Quinn at quarterback in place of an injured Rex Grossman, struggled to move the ball for most of the afternoon. In fact, three of their first four possessions ended after just 3 plays. Bears RB Thomas Jones, who entered the game leading the NFC in rushing, was held to just 32 yards on 13 carries (2.5 avg.). But the Eagles could not convert their defensive prowess into touchdowns as Akers 42-yard field goal early in the 2nd quarter upped their lead to just 6-0. Finally, after a costly turnover by Bears punt returner R.W. McQuarters (recovered by Dhani Jones) the Eagles reached the end zone. Donovan McNabb completed an 11-yard TD strike to WR Terrell Owens to increase the lead to 13-0. After another 3- and-out by the Bears, McNabb hit Owens on a 44-yard strike down the right sideline to set up Akers with another 42-yard FG. McNabb ended the first half completing 18 of 22 pass attempts for 185 yards and a TD as the Eagles took a 16-3 lead into the locker room. Philadelphia managed just 3 points in the 2nd half, but the defense held the Bears off the scoreboard until the waning moments of the 4th quarter when Quinn connected with FB Bryan Johnson on a 2-yard TD pass. The Bears failed to convert the two-point conversion and the ensuing on side kick as the Eagles held on for the win.

NOTES: It was the Eagles first visit to the refurbished Soldier Field ... Owens became the first Eagle with consecutive 100-yard receiving games since Irving Fryar in 1997 ... With Westbrook (115 yards rushing) and Owens (110 yards receiving), the Eagles featured a 100-yard rusher and receiver for the first time since October 1, 2000 (Brian Mitchell and Torrance Small vs. Atlanta) ... Eagles LB Ike Reese played in his 100th consecutive regular season game and CB Lito Sheppard posted his first career sack ... McNabb was intercepted early in the 3rd quarter after a batted pass bounced into the hands of Bears CB Nathan Vasher. It was first his INT in 163 regular season pass attempts going back to 2003 ... The Eagles defense registered six 3-and-outs in the Bears 11 possessions ... The Eagles registered their fourth consecutive double-digit point victory for the first time since 1953 ... The Eagles 37:21 time of possession was the most since 39:34 at Arizona (10/15/00) ... Akers earned NFC special teams player of the week honors for his efforts.

GAME 5

Sunday, October 17, 2004
Philadelphia 30, Carolina 8
Lincoln Financial Field • 67,707

Lito Sheppard led a stellar defensive effort with 2 interceptions, including a 64-yard return for a touchdown, to lead the Eagles to a 30-8 victory over the visiting Carolina Panthers. In all, the Eagles totaled 4 interceptions off of Jake Delhomme and did not allow the Panthers past the Eagles 39-yard line until the 4th quarter. They even came within 2 minutes and 48 seconds of their first shutout since 1996 before Delhomme tossed a 2-yd TD pass. Big plays set the tone for the Eagles all day, as they amassed five plays of 40-yards or more that resulted in five different scores (3 TDs and 2 FGs). Rookie returner J.R. Reed took the opening kickoff 66 yards to set up a 48-yard field goal by David Akers. On the Eagles next offensive series, Donovan McNabb connected with Terrell Owens on a 53-yard bomb that led to a one-yard TD run by Dorsey Levens and a 10-0 lead. Late in the 2nd quarter, McNabb and Owens struck for a 51-yard connection on a 3rd-n-10 play that set up the Eagles deep in Panther territory. But the Eagles settled for another Akers field goal and a 13-0 lead heading into halftime. The Eagles began the 2nd half with a surprise onside kick that was recovered by Jeremiah Trotter at the Panthers 48-yard line. The Eagles could not convert that opportunity into points, but did after an interception by Roderick Hood on the Panthers ensuing possession. Hood's 20-yard return to the Panthers 29-yard line set up another field goal by Akers to give the Eagles a 16-0 lead. On the Panthers next possession, Sheppard recorded the biggest of the big plays, intercepting Delhomme and returning it 64 yards down the sideline behind a great block by Corey Simon and into end zone for a commanding 23-0 lead. It was the first TD of Sheppard's career. After Carolina finally scored late in the 4th quarter, the Eagles sealed the win with a 42-yard TD scamper by Brian Westbrook and Sheppard's 2nd INT, halting the Panthers final drive.

NOTES: The four interceptions were the most by the Eagles since 2000 vs. St. Louis ... Sheppard's 2 INTs were a career high as he entered the game with just one INT during his first 32 regular season games. He earned NFC defensive player of the week honors ... Owens, with 4 catches for 123 yards, posted three consecutive 100-yard receiving games for the first time in his career.

Lito Sheppard earned NFC defensive player of the week honors with two interceptions, including this one that he returned 64 yards for a touchdown in the 3rd quarter.

GAME 6

Sunday, October 24, 2004
Philadelphia 34, Cleveland 31 (OT)
Cleveland Browns Stadium • 73,394

David Akers boomed a 50-yard field goal attempt with 5:02 remaining in overtime to lift the visiting Eagles to a 34-31 victory in front of a raucous crowd at Cleveland Browns Stadium. Donovan McNabb threw for 376 yards and 4 touchdowns, while completing passes to 10 different receivers in the shootout. Browns quarterback Jeff Garcia was effective as well, guiding Cleveland to 394 yards of offense, including a 4-yard TD run with 30 seconds left in the 4th quarter to send the contest into overtime. The Eagles stormed out to an early lead with 2 touchdowns during their first 6 offensive plays from scrimmage. McNabb and WR Todd Pinkston connected on a 65-yard pass on the first play before the Eagles signal caller found TE Chad Lewis all alone in the end zone from 10 yards out. After the Browns responded with an 11-yard TD run by William Green, McNabb and the Eagles drove 72 yards in four plays as he connected with Terrell Owens on a 39-yard scoring play. During the first quarter, McNabb was 8-8 passing for 163 yards and 2 TDs. After a Browns field goal early in the 2nd quarter shrunk the Eagles lead to four, McNabb and Owens combined on a 40-yard TD pass to give Philadelphia a 21-10 lead. That TD was set up by a clutch, 24-yard grab by Greg Lewis on 3rd and long. The Browns fought back, though, to take the lead after a touchdown run by Lee Suggs in the 2nd quarter and a 21-yard TD pass from Garcia to TE Steve Heiden midway through the 3rd period. The Browns ended the 3rd quarter with a 24-21 lead as the Eagles trailed for the first time after a quarter in 2004. That deficit did not last long, though, as McNabb shoveled a pass to TE L.J. Smith for a 2-yard scoring play early in the 4th stanza. The lead quickly increased to seven after a forced fumble by Keith Adams on the ensuing kickoff set up a 38-yard field goal by Akers. After holding Garcia and the Browns off the scoreboard for a long portion of the 4th quarter, the Eagles appeared to have sealed the win after an incomplete pass on 4th down with just over 2 minutes remaining. But Eagles S Brian Dawkins was whistled for a questionable roughing the passer call on Garcia, who promptly drove the final 17 yards for the tying touchdown. After both teams traded punts in overtime, Philadelphia used a 28-yard scramble by McNabb, 18 yards rushing by Dorsey Levens, who replaced an injured Brian Westbrook (chest contusion), and 18 receiving yards by Reno Mahe to drive to the Browns 32-yard line, setting up Akers' heroics.

GAME 7

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 15, BALTIMORE 10
LINCOLN FINANCIAL FIELD • 67,715

The Eagles won their seventh consecutive game to start the season for the first time in franchise history, as they overcame a hard-fought defensive struggle with the Ravens for a 15-10 win. "It felt like The Longest Yard out there," said Eagles LB Ike Reese of the hard-hitting contest. Terrell Owens broke open a 9-3 game early in the 4th quarter with an 11-yard TD catch from Donovan McNabb and the Eagles defense held on in the final minutes to preserve the win. With a 6-3 lead heading into the 4th quarter, the Eagles upped that to a six-point lead with a 43-yard field goal by David Akers. On the Ravens ensuing possession, Eagles S Brian Dawkins forced a fumble by Ravens RB Chester Taylor that was recovered by DT Hollis Thomas. The Eagles then marched 65 yards on 9 plays to Owens' TD. The Ravens rebounded with a touchdown pass from Kyle Boller to TE Dan Wilcox with just under 6 minutes remaining and threatened in the final minute, but Eagles CB Sheldon Brown deflected a 4th down pass attempt.

NOTES: Owens set a team record with his 5th consecutive 100-yard receiving game and became just the 4th NFL player since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970 to do so ... McNabb became the 4th fastest QB since 1970 to record 50 wins (71 games) ... The Eagles donned black jerseys for the first time in 2004 ... The Ravens began all 12 of their drives inside their own 30-yard line ... Dorsey Levens started for the first time since 2001 in place of Brian Westbrook (rib) at running back ... Besides 3 field goals, Akers boomed 3 kickoffs for touchbacks.

HEINZ FIELD • 64,975

The Steelers scored touchdowns on their first 3 possessions en route to a 27-3 romp over the Eagles at Heinz Field in Pittsburgh. Jerome Bettis rushed for 149 yards as part of a 420-yard offensive attack and rookie QB Ben Roethlisberger tossed 2 touchdown passes in the Steelers victory. The Eagles fell behind 21-0 early in the 2nd quarter on a pair of touchdowns by WR Hines Ward (1 rushing and 1 receiving) and one by TE Jay Riemersma before they registered a first down. After a field goal by David Akers finally got them on the scoreboard midway through the 2nd quarter, the Eagles were primed for more points after an interception by Brian Dawkins gave them good field position. But the Eagles failed to convert a 3rd-n-2 opportunity and were forced to punt the ball away. Although the Steelers could not reach the end zone after their frenzied start for the rest of the day, they did tack on two field goals in the 2nd half and played stingy defense (4 sacks and 1 interception) to preserve the win.

NOTES: The Eagles entered the contest as the last undefeated team in the NFL ... Steve Sciullo made his first start as an Eagle as he replaced an injured Jermane Mayberry (calf) at right guard ... Dawkins moved past Joe Scarpati (402) and into 3rd place on the Eagles all-time interception return yards list ... Former Eagles RB Duce Staley was deactivated by the Steelers with a hamstring injury ... DT Sam Rayburn recorded a career-high 2 sacks after inking a 5-year contract extension one day earlier.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 49, DALLAS 21
TEXAS STADIUM • 64,190

The Eagles registered the most points ever by a visiting team at Texas Stadium as they routed the Cowboys, 49-21, on Monday Night football. The Eagles scored touchdowns on six of their first nine possessions, including a stretch of five straight as they amassed 485 yards of offense, highlighted by four plays of 40 yards or more by four different players. Donovan McNabb lit up the Cowboys secondary with 345 yards passing and 4 touchdowns, including a trio to Terrell Owens, who set a record with his seventh consecutive MNF game with a touchdown catch. Owens got the Eagles on the scoreboard in the 1st quarter as he grabbed a McNabb pass at midfield and raced past a slew of Cowboy defenders for a 59-yard score. The Eagles took advantage of three Dallas turnovers on the night, including a muffed punt by Lance Frazier deep in Cowboys territory that was recovered by Roderick Hood. Philadelphia responded with five consecutive touchdowns: a 4-yard run by Dorsey Levens after the fumble, a 27-yard reception by Owens, a 59-yard catch by Pinkston, a 1-yard plunge by Brian Westbrook, and a 16-yard grab by Owens that gave Philadelphia a 42-21 advantage midway through the 3rd quarter. Westbrook's touchdown was set up by a remarkable play by McNabb, who evaded the rush from sideline to sideline for 14 seconds and threw a perfect strike downfield to Freddie Mitchell for a 60-yard gain. Lito Sheppard put the final dagger in the Cowboys with a 101-yard interception return for a touchdown off of Vinny Testaverde in the 4th quarter.

NOTES: The Eagles tied franchise regular season records with 35 points in the first half (10/23/49 vs. Washington) and 28 points in the 2nd quarter (11/19/67 vs. New Orleans) ... Sheppard's INT return was the longest by a single player in Eagles history. James Willis and Troy Vincent combined on a 104-yard return at Texas Stadium on 11/3/96. Sheppard also became the 4th Eagle and the first since Eric Allen (4 in 1993) to return two interceptions for a touchdown in a single season ... Neither team attempted a field goal in an Eagles game for the first time since 11/4/01 at Arizona.

Donovan McNabb lit up the Cowboys for 345 yards and 4 TDs passing, including an 60-yard bomb set up by a 14-second, sideline-to-sideline scramble.

GAME 10

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 28, WASHINGTON 6
LINCOLN FINANCIAL FIELD • 67,720

The Eagles outscored the Redskins 21-0 in the 2nd half and utilized a stingy defensive effort en route to a 28-6 victory at Lincoln Financial Field. Donovan McNabb tossed four touchdown passes and completed 69% of his pass attempts, while Todd Pinkston scorched the Redskins secondary with 5 catches for 106 yards. Meanwhile, RB Brian Westbrook registered 105 yards of offense and 2 touchdown receptions in the win. The defense muzzled the Redskins vaunted ground game all day long (51 yards) as star RB Clinton Portis finished with just 37 yards on 17 carries, his lowest total in 35 career starts. Washington did manage to take a 3-0 lead after an impressive opening drive that led to a 35-yard field goal by Ola Kimrin. But the Eagles answered with a 13-play, 67-yard drive that ended with a 2-yard TD catch by TE Chad Lewis. Philadelphia survived 7 first half penalties and two turnovers by McNabb (a fumble in the 2nd quarter and an INT in the 3rd) as they held a slim 7-6 advantage late in the 3rd quarter. But McNabb connected with Terrell Owens in the back of the end zone from 10 yards out to give Philadelphia a 14-6 lead. But Washington would not quit as they drove to the PE10 on the ensuing drive. But three penalties and 3 incomplete passes pushed the Redskins back to the 30-yard line, where Kimrin misfired on a 48-yard field goal attempt. The Eagles took control for good as a 30-yard pass interference penalty on CB Fred Smoot set up a 1-yard scoring pass to Westbrook. After stopping a QB sneak by Patrick Ramsey on 4th-n-1 on the Redskins ensuing drive, the Eagles scored on a 14-yard pass by McNabb to Westbrook to finish the scoring

NOTES: The Eagles converted 9 of 15 third down situations, including an 8-8 effort on their scoring drives ... Owens became the 2nd NFL player all-time (Jerry Rice) to post five-or-more 13 TD seasons ... Philadelphia did not allow a touchdown to a regular season opponent for the first time since December 21, 2002 at Dallas ... The Eagles defense played without 3 injured regular contributors: LBs Mark Simoneau and Nate Wayne and DE Jerome McDougle ... Philadelphia lost the turnover battle for the first time in 2004.

GAME 11

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 27, NEW YORK 6
GIANTS STADIUM • 78,830

Donovan McNabb threw for one touchdown and ran for another as the Eagles clinched their fourth straight NFC East title and their fifth consecutive playoff berth, with a 27-6 win over the Giants at the Meadowlands. It was certainly a tale of two halves as New York outgained Philadelphia 225-155 in the first half. But it was all Eagles in the second half, as Philadelphia enjoyed a 235-47 advantage in the final 30 minutes. Brian Westbrook accounted for a pair of scores, David Akers added a pair of field goals and the defense overwhelmed rookie QB Eli Manning with two interceptions and five sacks. After both teams went scoreless on their first possessions, the Giants struck with a 22-yard field goal by Steve Christie. The Eagles then took over on their own 47-yard line, and seven plays later McNabb faked a handoff to RB Dorsey Levens, rolled to his right and pranced into the endzone, giving the Eagles a 7-3 advantage early in the second quarter. The Giants answered with a 31-yard field goal by Christie. The Eagles began the second half quickly with a 47-yard Akers field goal on their first possession. Moments after taking a 10-6 lead, FS Brian Dawkins intercepted Manning to set up another Akers field goal, this time from 42 yards out. As the Giants offense continued to struggle, the Eagles special teams chipped in as Jevon Kearse lined up on the punt block unit for the first time in his career and blocked a Jeff Feagles' punt, which was then recovered by Hugh Douglas. Seven plays later, Brian Westbrook reached paydirt from one yard out and the Eagles were in control with a 20-6 lead they would not relinquish. New York went three-and-out on its next possession as the Eagles defense continued to bring pressure. McNabb, who completed 12 of 16 passes for 160 yards in the second half, capped the scoring with a screen pass to Westbrook, who dodged several defenders and raced into the end zone for a 34-yard touchdown.

Notes: Jevon Kearse became the first Eagle to block a punt since Ike Reese (vs. NYJ 10/26/03), on his way to earning NFC special teams player of the week honors ... For the first time since 1990 (weeks 14-15), the Eagles held their opponent without a TD in consecutive games ... The Eagles held the Giants and Eli Manning to just 6 completions, the lowest total surrendered by the Eagles since 12/26/93 vs. New Orleans (6) ... S Quintin Mikell registered his first career INT, out-jumping Jeremy Shockey in the end zone.

GAME 12

Sunday, December 5, 2004
Philadelphia 47, Green Bay 17
Lincoln Financial Field • 67,723

Donovan McNabb had a record-setting performance as the Eagles piled up 47 points and 542 yards of total offense in a nationally televised tilt vs. the Packers at Lincoln Financial Field. McNabb broke Joe Montana's NFL record with 24 consecutive completions as he started the game with a franchise record 14 straight connections (he finished with 10 straight completions in the last game at NY). He also passed for a franchise-record 464 yards and set personal bests with 5 TD passes (all in the first half) and a 147.8 QB rating in the rout. Terrell Owens and Brian Westbrook were on the receiving end of a good deal of McNabb's completions as the duo became the first pair of Eagles to each post 150 yards receiving in a single game since 1962 (Tommy McDonald and Timmy Brown). Westbrook snagged a career-high 11 receptions for 156 yards and accounted for 3 of Philadelphia's five touchdowns in the first half, scoring from 9, 41, and 12 yards out. Owens, who finished with 8 grabs for 161 yards, opened the scoring with a 41-yard catch and run for a score after Brian Dawkins intercepted a pass from Brett Favre. Favre had one of his worst days as a pro, completing just 14 of 29 pass attempts for 131 yards, while being intercepted twice and sacked three times. The Packers had allowed just five sacks heading into the contest, but permitted five against a stingy Eagles defense. Another INT by Favre set up the Eagles second touchdown. Sheldon Brown leaped in front of Donald Driver at the Philadelphia 7-yard line to thwart a Packers scoring attempt. The Eagles promptly drove 93 yards on 9 plays, ending with a Westbrook touchdown. Philadelphia's high-powered offensive attack allowed them to mount a 35-0 lead until the Packers notched a field goal late in the 2nd quarter. Although Philadelphia could not reach the end zone in the final 30 minutes, David Akers finished their first four Eagle possessions with field goals, as the Eagles took a 47-3 lead early in the 4th quarter. The Packers, led by backup QB Craig Nall, fired two TD passes against the Eagles 2nd string defense late in the game.

NOTES: Andy Reid passed Greasy Neale (66) for most wins by a head coach in franchise history ... With their 11th win of the year, the Eagles string of five consecutive 11-plus win seasons is only the 4th such occurrence in NFL history (Dallas 1977-81 and 1991-95, San Francisco 1994-98) ... The Eagles broke Brett Favre's streak of 36 consecutive games with a TD pass and held him to his lowest QB rating (32.4) since a 26.8 rating vs. Seattle on 11/1/99 ... Owens set a franchise record with his 14th TD catch of the season. His 7th 100-yard receiving game of the season represents a career high and a franchise record ... McNabb's five-TD performance in a half was the 8th such occurrence in NFL history. He also moved past Norm Snead (111) and into 3rd place on the club's all-time list for TD passes. McNabb earned NFC offensive player of the week honors ... Westbrook's 156 receiving yards were the most by a NFL RB since Marshall Faulk had 204 on 12/26/99

GAME 13

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 12, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 17, WASHINGTON 14
FEDEX FIELD • 90,089

The Eagles survived a 2nd half scare from the Redskins in a nationally televised Sunday night contest as they gutted out a 17-14 win in front of 90,089 fans at FedEx Field. Trailing by 3 points with just under four minutes remaining in the 4th quarter, the Redskins drove to the Eagles 27-yard line poised to tie or take the lead. But Brian Dawkins made a leaping interception in the back of the end zone in front of Redskins receiver Chris Cooley to stop the rally. The Eagles, however, could not run out the clock on their ensuing possession as they were forced to punt from their own 24-yard line. Punter Dirk Johnson boomed a 51-yard kick that had to be fair caught by Redskins returner James Thrash at their 25-yard line. From there, Washington threw three incomplete passes and was sacked once to end the game. The Redskins started the game with a 70-yard kickoff return by Ladell Betts and took a quick 7-0 lead after a 5-yard TD run by Clinton Portis. The Eagles quickly responded with a 2-yard TD pass from Donovan McNabb to TE L.J. Smith that was set up by a 47-yard pass interference penalty by Shawn Springs on Terrell Owens. Owens and the Eagles missed out on a opportunity to take the lead early in the 2nd quarter as he fumbled after a tackle by Redskins LB Antonio Pierce at the 'Skins 6-yard line. Both kickers each misfired on a field goal attempt in the 2nd quarter (David Akers from 48 yards and John Hall from 43 yards) as the teams ended the first half even at 7-7. But Akers rebounded to give the Eagles the lead for good, nailing a 38-yard attempt to cap off the opening drive of the 3rd quarter. Later in that quarter, McNabb connected with WR Greg Lewis on a 25-yard catch down to the Redskins 1-yard line. From there, Dorsey Levens plunged in for a touchdown and a 17-7 lead. Nursing that 10-point lead with possession of the ball early in the 4th quarter, the Eagles handed the Redskins a big opportunity after McNabb was intercepted by Springs near midfield. Portis then cut the Eagles lead to 17-14 after his 2nd touchdown run (2 yards) of the night. But the Eagles defense, decimated along the defensive line with early game injuries to DTs Corey Simon and Hollis Thomas, did not permit points on the Redskins final four possessions sealing the victory.

NOTES: McNabb's 80-yard completion to Pinkston in the first quarter was a career long for each player ... Dawkins tied a career high with his 4th interception of the season ... Eagles punt returner Dexter Wynn returned 5 punts for 81 yards (16.2 avg.), including a 30-yard return ... Redskins RB Clinton Portis was held to 17 rushing yards in the 2nd half (9 carries) after exploding for 63 yards on 14 attempts in the first half ... Eagles LB and key special teamer Jason Short was lost for the season after breaking his leg ... The Redskins committed 12 penalties for 137 yards, compared to the Eagles 5 infractions (41 yards).

GAME 14

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 19, 2004
PHILADELPHIA 12, DALLAS 7
LINCOLN FINANCIAL FIELD • 67,723

The Eagles clinched home field advantage throughout the NFC playoffs with a hard-fought, come-from-behind win vs. the Dallas Cowboys. In the process, the Eagles posted their first-ever 13th regular season win and swept all games in the NFC East (6-0) for the first time in franchise history. Down 7-6 with just over 6 minutes remaining in the 4th quarter, the Eagles took possession at their own 36-yard line after a missed 46-yard field goal attempt by Cowboys K Billy Cundiff. From there, Donovan McNabb led the Eagles on a game-winning 9-play, 64-yard TD drive that was fueled by back-to-back scrambles by the Philadelphia signal caller that netted 31 yards. Dorsey Levens plunged into the end zone on a 2-yard run to cap the comeback. McNabb's pass attempt on the ensuing two-point conversion failed, but Lito Sheppard intercepted Vinny Testaverde in the waning seconds to seal the win. The Eagles took a 6-0 lead early in the 2nd quarter after McNabb connected with TE Chad Lewis on a 2-yard scoring pass. The extra point was blocked by Cowboys DE Greg Ellis, ending David Akers streak of 153 consecutive PAT conversions. Later in the 2nd quarter, McNabb was sacked by Ellis, forcing a fumble which was recovered by the Cowboys at the PE23. Five plays later, Testaverde connected with Keyshawn Johnson on a 7-yard TD pass to give Dallas a 7-6 halftime lead. McNabb survived two interceptions and an ankle injury to star WR Terrell Owens in the 3rd quarter to keep the Eagles in the game. CB Sheldon Brown chipped in as well with a sack and a crucial interception late in the 3rd quarter to set the stage for Eagles 4th quarter comeback.

NOTES: Eagles LB Ike Reese became the 16th player to record at least a partial sack this season, most in franchise history (not including the strike season of 1987) ... Brown and Sheppard, the two starting cornerbacks, recorded an INT in the same game for the first time. Brown earned NFC defensive player of the week honors ... Eagles P Dirk Johnson pinned 3 of his 5 punts inside the Cowboys 10-yard line.

RB Dorsey Levens' two-yard TD plunge capped the comeback win vs. the Cowboys at Lincoln Financial Field.

GAME 15

MONDAY, DECEMBER 27, 2004
ST. LOUIS 20, PHILADELPHIA 7
EDWARD JONES DOME • 66,129

With homefield advantage already secured for the NFC playoffs, the Eagles rested many of their starters as they fell to the host St. Louis Rams, 20-7, on Monday Night Football. Donovan McNabb played just one series – a 12-play, 63-yard drive that was capped by a 7-yard TD pass to WR Freddie Mitchell tying the score at 7-7 in the first quarter. On that drive Eagles RB Dorsey Levens, starting in place of an inactive Brian Westbrook, registered 49 yards of offense. The Eagles answered the Rams, who ran the ball 10 straight times after the opening kickoff, concluding with a 5-yard TD run by Steven Jackson. The rookie running back finished the night with 148 yards on 24 carries, while QB Marc Bulger, who returned to the Rams lineup after missing two games with a shoulder injury, completed 20 of 27 passes for 225 yards. His 7-yard TD pass to Isaac Bruce in the 3rd quarter broke open a tight, 10-7 contest. Rams K Jeff Wilkins connected on a pair of short field goals after misfiring on a 44-yard attempt in the 2nd quarter. Koy Detmer and Jeff Blake shared the quarterbacking duties for the Eagles after McNabb departed and combined for just 46 yards passing during the final three quarters.

NOTES: The Eagles snapped Rams RB Marshall Faulk's streak of 158 straight games with at least one reception (it had been the longest such current streak in the NFL) ... Eagles reserve defensive ends Jerome McDougle and Jamaal Green each recorded a sack. For Green, it was the first of his career ... Besides Westbrook, the Eagles deactivated LT Tra Thomas (excused for personal reasons) and six injured regulars: WR Terrell Owens, RG Jermane Mayberry, RDE Derrick Burgess, DT Hollis Thomas, LB Nate Wayne, and S Quintin Mikell. LDE Jevon Kearse dressed but did not play ... Before the game, Eagles owner Jeffrey Lurie retired the #92 of All-Pro DE Reggie White, who died suddenly at the age of 43 one day earlier. A moment of silence was held for White just prior to kickoff.

GAME 16

Sunday, January 2, 2005
Cincinnati 38, Philadelphia 10
Lincoln Financial Field • 67,074

With homefield advantage already secured for the NFC playoffs, the Eagles rested many of their starters for the 2nd straight week as they lost, 38-10, to the visiting Cincinnati Bengals. The Eagles outgained the Bengals, 342-308, in total yardage, but lost the turnover battle decisively (5-0). Cincinnati scored 17 points directly off those turnovers in the game to build a 38-3 lead. Rudi Johnson scored three rushing touchdowns and gained 99 yards on 28 carries to lead the Bengals attack. Koy Detmer started in place of Donovan McNabb and threw for 202 yards as he played into the 3rd quarter. Jeff Blake led the Eagles to their only TD of the game, a 3-yard scoring pass to Freddie Mitchell.

NOTES: David Akers set an NFL record with his 17th field goal of 40-or-more yards during the season. Cary Blanchard (1996) and Ryan Longwell (2000) each had 16 ... Eagles RB Eric McCoo made his NFL debut with 54 yards on 9 carries ... Freddie Mitchell set career highs with 6 catches for 76 yards ... The Eagles deactivated the following key players: Terrell Owens, Brian Dawkins, Chad Lewis, Lito Sheppard, Jermane Mayberry, Hollis Thomas, Derrick Burgess, and Quintin Mikell. Dressing, but not playing were: McNabb, Brian Westbrook, Jevon Kearse, and Nate Wayne ... The Eagles wore #92 stickers on their helmets in honor of Reggie White.

WR Greg Lewis posted a career-high 6 catches for 53 yards in the regular season finale vs. the Bengals.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

SUNDAY, JANUARY 16, 2005
PHILADELPHIA 27, MINNESOTA 14
LINCOLN FINANCIAL FIELD • 67,722

In their fifth straight appearance in the NFC Divisional playoff round, the Eagles scored touchdowns on three of their first four drives and held Minnesota's potent offense to just 7 points through the first 57 minutes of the game, as they defeated the Vikings, 27-14, at Lincoln Financial Field. Donovan McNabb completed 21 of 33 passes for 286 yards and 2 scores, Brian Westbrook registered 117 total yards from scrimmage, and Freddie Mitchell hauled in 5 passes for 65 yards and posted two scores (one receiving, one fumble recovery) to lead an impressive offensive attack. On the Eagles 2nd possession of the game, McNabb's 2-yard touchdown pass to Mitchell opened the scoring early in the first quarter. On the final play of the quarter, McNabb connected with WR Greg Lewis on a 52-yard completion on a 3rd-and-5 play. That set up a 7-yard TD pass from McNabb to Westbrook. The Vikings cut the Eagles lead to 14-7 after Daunte Culpepper scored on a 7-yard run, but Philadelphia bounced right back with a bizarre scoring play on their next drive. TE L.J. Smith caught a pass from McNabb deep inside Vikings territory, but was forced to fumble by Minnesota CB Antoine Winfield. The ball popped up in the air and into the end zone, where Mitchell grabbed it for another touchdown. Late in the 2nd quarter, Minnesota blew a scoring chance after being set up with a first and goal opportunity at the Eagles 8-yard line. On 4th down, the Vikings faked a field goal as holder Gus Frerotte threw an incomplete pass. The Eagles marched right back down the field on their ensuing possession, but ran out of time after a completion to Dorsey Levens at the 4-yard line. The Eagles defense preserved the 21-7 halftime lead in the 3rd quarter as linebackers Ike Reese and Jeremiah Trotter each intercepted Culpepper. After Trotter's INT, the Eagles appeared to score on the next play as Mitchell took a pass from McNabb and raced 31 yards, but fumbled as he stretched for the end zone. An official review of the play confirmed the ball went out of the end zone for a touchback. Culpepper and the Vikings were thwarted on their next possession, however, as FS Brian Dawkins sacked Culpepper to take Minnesota out of field goal range and forced them to throw out of the end zone on 4th-and-22. The Eagles added two short field goals by David Akers (21 and 23 yards) in the 4th quarter to take a 27-7 lead.

NOTES: Under Andy Reid, the Eagles have a 9-0 record (3-0 in the playoffs) in games following a bye week and have compiled a 4-1 record in the Divisional playoff round ... The victory represented the 70th overall of Reid's career ... Reese's interception snapped a string of 131 pass attempts by Culpepper without an INT ... Mitchell's 2nd TD was the first fumble recovery for a score in Eagles postseason history. McNabb earned NFL offensive player of the week honors for his efforts ... McNabb's Eagles are 3-0 (including playoffs) vs. Culpepper's Vikings since both were selected in the first round of the 1999 draft.

LB Jeremiah Trotter's interception was one of two critical take-aways during the 3rd quarter vs. the Vikings.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

SUNDAY, JANUARY 23, 2005
PHILADELPHIA 27, ATLANTA 10
LINCOLN FINANCIAL FIELD • 67,717

The Eagles earned their first trip to the Super Bowl in 24 seasons as they upended the Atlanta Falcons, 27-10, at a frigid Lincoln Financial Field in Philadelphia. One day after more than a foot of snow pounded the Philadelphia area, the Eagles defense blanketed Falcons quarterback Michael Vick throughout the game, limiting him to just 162 yards (136 passing, 26 rushing), while sacking him four times in a wind chill that reached single digits. The Eagles took an early 7-0 lead as Dorsey Levens used an extra effort to score on a 4-yard TD run. The Falcons answered back with a 17-play, 64-yard drive that resulted in a 23-yard field goal by Jay Feely. On that drive, Atlanta was set up with a first and goal at the Eagles 2-yard line, but DT Hollis Thomas came up with a sack and a tackle for a loss to force the field goal attempt. Facing a 3rd-and-11 situation on Philadelphia's next possession, Donovan McNabb scrambled away from rushers and fired a 13-yard completion to Freddie Mitchell. One play later, McNabb connected with Greg Lewis on a 45-yard completion down to the Falcons 4-yard line, setting up a 3-yard TD pass from McNabb to TE Chad Lewis, who just barely kept both feet in bounds. But the Falcons responded again with a 10-yard TD run by Warrick Dunn to make the score 14-10 heading into halftime. The Eagles drove 60 yards on the opening drive of the 3rd quarter, leading to a 31-yard field goal by David Akers. RB Brian Westbrook accounted for 48 yards on that possession and totaled 135 yards from scrimmage on 21 touches in the game. After an interception by Brian Dawkins late in the 3rd quarter, Akers added another field goal (34 yards) to build a 20-10 advantage. The Eagles defense harassed Vick and the Falcons in the 2nd half, limiting them to no points, 86 total yards, and 3 first downs. Philadelphia sealed their trip to Super Bowl 39 with a 2-yard TD connection between McNabb and Chad Lewis.

McNabb and the Eagles raised the NFC Championship trophy for the first time in 24 seasons by defeating the Falcons.

SUPER BOWL 39

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 2005
NEW ENGLAND 24, PHILADELPHIA 21
ALLTEL STADIUM • 78,125

In their first Super Bowl appearance in 24 years, the Eagles were decimated by four turnovers, including three in their opponent's territory, as they fell to the defending champion Patriots, 24-21, at ALLTEL Stadium in Jacksonville. The victory by New England represented their 3rd world championship in a span of four years. The Eagles, who welcomed the return of Pro Bowl WR Terrell Owens to the lineup, outgained the Patriots, 369-331, but could not convert valuable scoring opportunities early in the game. Owens accounted for 122 of those yards on 9 catches, after courageously returning from a serious ankle surgery just six-and-a-half weeks prior. Philadelphia moved the ball well early in the first half as they marched to the Patriots 8-yard line late in the first quarter. But a 16-yard sack by LB Mike Vrabel and an interception by SS Rodney Harrison at the 3-yard line thwarted a valuable scoring attempt. Later in the first quarter, Eagles TE L.J. Smith fumbled at the Patriots 38-yard line to stop another potential scoring drive. The Eagles did recover to take a 7-0 lead early in the 2nd quarter as Donovan McNabb connected with Smith on a 6-yard strike. That play capped off an impressive 9-play, 81-yard drive that was highlighted by a 40-yard connection from McNabb to WR Todd Pinkston. On the ensuing possession, the Patriots drove to the PE4, before Tom Brady fumbled a hand off attempt. Eagles DT Darwin Walker recovered the loose ball. But New England regained possession late in the 2nd quarter and this time scored on a 4-yard completion from Brady to WR David Givens to tie the score at 7-7 heading into the locker room. New England took the lead on the first possession of the 3rd quarter as Brady converted two 3rd-and-long situations en route to a 2-yard TD toss to Vrabel. The Eagles bounced back later in the 3rd stanza as McNabb and the offense drove 74 yards on 10 plays, leading to a 10-yard TD catch by Brian Westbrook. Tied at 14 heading into the fourth quarter, the Patriots scored 10 points in a span of 5 minutes to take a 24-14 lead. McNabb was then intercepted by LB Tedy Bruschi at the Pats 24-yard line, hurting their comeback attempt. But WR Greg Lewis hauled in a 30-yard TD reception from McNabb with 1:55 remaining to give the Eagles life. An unsuccessful onside kick attempt and another interception by Harrison ended the Eagles season.

NOTES: Both teams were tied at the conclusion of the 3rd quarter for the first time in Super Bowl history ... McNabb's 357 passing yards were tied for the 3rd highest total in SB history. His 51 pass attempts were the 2nd-most ever (58 by Jim Kelly in SB26) and his 30 completions were the 3rd most ... Owens' 9 catches were tied for the 8th-most in SB history ... Eagles DE Derrick Burgess' sack of Brady was the 4th of his Eagles playoff career, tying him with Reggie White and Hugh Douglas for 1st on the club's all-time list ... Dawkins set a team playoff record for playing in his 13th career postseason game.

Brian Westbrook's 10-yard touchdown grab tied the score at 14-14 in the 3rd quarter.

WHAT WAS THE PLAYOFF BOWL ?

Following the 1961 and 1966 seasons, the Eagles participated in the Playoff Bowl. If case you never heard of the Playoff Bowl, here's the scoop. From 1960-1969, the National Football League took each conference's runner-up and matched them up in a consolation game at the Orange Bowl in Miami. The Eagles, by the way, lost both of their Playoff Bowl appearances (38-10 to Detroit in 1962 and 20-14 to Baltimore in 1967).

A 9th round draft pick of the Bengals out of Syracuse in 1972, Walters joined the Eagles via trade in 1975. He went on to play in 122 consecutive regular and post-season games for Philadelphia at left tackle and anchored the team's offensive line during the late 1970s and early 1980s. A key member of the 1980 NFC championship squad that participated in Super Bowl XV, he was honored by his peers following the 1978 and '79 seasons when he was selected to the Pro Bowl. He was born May 27, 1948 in Rutherford, NJ.

Canter, 1946-50
Pro Football Hall of Fame Inductee: 1968
Honor Roll Inductee: 1987

A two-time All-America selection at Fordham where he was the center on the famed `Seven Blocks of Granite' line, Wojciechowicz was the Lions top draft pick in 1938. One of football's original "iron men," he joined the Eagles in 1946 as a linebacker and helped the Eagles capture back-to-back NFL championships in 1948 and '49. Born August 12, 1915, in South River, NJ, he organized the NFL Alumni Association.

1948 AND 1949 NFL CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

Honor Roll Inductee: 1999

No NFL team before or since ever posted consecutive shutouts in championship play. No NFL team can claim to be more dominant over a two-year period. The Eagles won back-to-back NFL Championships in 1948 and 1949, first shutting out the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, and then blanking the Los Angeles Rams, 14-0. The foundation of this team began in 1947, when the Eagles lost to the Cardinals, 28-21, in the championship game. Under legendary head coach Greasy Neale, Philadelphia finished the 1948 regular season with a 9-2-1 record and took on the Cardinals in the championship game with a foot of snow covering Shibe Park. Superstar running back Steve Van Buren scored the game's only touchdown on a 5-yard TD run, while the defense limited the Cards to just 6 total first downs. The Eagles continued their dominance in 1949 with an 11-1 record in the regular season and a victory over the Rams in the championship game on a rain-soaked Los Angeles Coliseum field. Van Buren again led the Eagles' offensive charge as he rumbled for 196 yards on 31 carries. In those two seasons, the Eagles outscored their opposition 761-290. They were lovingly called "the duffel-bag dynasty." Many players were young men who had served their country in World War II and returned home trying again to settle into a regular life. Said Hall of Fame LB Chuck Bednarik, a rookie on the 1949 team, "I think we belong with the best teams ever. Look at what we accomplished."

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1933 — Frankford Yellowjackets' franchise in the NFL awarded to syndicate headed by Bert Bell and Lud Wray for $2500. Club christened "Eagles" in honor of the symbol of the New Deal's National Recovery Act. Eagles and Chicago Bears play in Philadelphia's first Sunday game (Nov. 12) at Baker Bowl. Game ends in a 3-3 tie.

1935 — General manager Bert Bell proposes an annual college draft to equalize talent in the league. Proposal is adopted on May 19 for the 1936 season.

1936 — Eagles have first choice in the inaugural college draft and select University of Chicago back Jay Berwanger but fail to sign him. Bell becomes sole owner of the team with $4,000 bid. Playing site for home games moves from Baker Bowl to Municipal Stadium.

1939 — Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's All-America quarterback, signs with the Eagles for a reported $12,000 per year salary and percentage of the gate. O'Brien plays in every game and sets NFL passing yardage record with 1,324 yards. On October 22, the Eagles play in the first televised pro football game and fell to the host Brooklyn Dodgers, 23-14, at Brooklyn Ebbets Field. Allan "Skip" Walz broadcasts the game for NBC from Ebbett's field to the approximate 1,000 TV sets then in Brooklyn.

1940 — Home playing site switches from Municipal Stadium to Shibe Park (later known as Connie Mack Stadium). Pittsburgh owner Art Rooney buys half interest in the Eagles after selling the Steelers franchise to Alexis Thompson of New York, a 30-year old heir to a six million fortune in steel stocks.

1941 — Bell and Rooney swap franchises with Thompson, Rooney returning to Pittsburgh and Thompson taking over the Eagles. Bert Bell joins Rooney as a full-time partner in Pittsburgh. Thompson hires Earl (Greasy) Neale as head coach of the Eagles.

1943 — Eagles merge with Pittsburgh Steelers to form the "Steagles" due to manpower shortage during World War II. Merger dissolved at end of season.

1944 — First draft choice Steve Van Buren debuts as Eagles' halfback. Team finishes in second place with 7-1-2 record.

1945 — Team again finishes in second place with 7-3 record and leads league in scoring with 272 points. Van Buren leads NFL with 838 rushing yards and 110 points.

1947 — Rookie end Pete Pihos, Van Buren, and Bosh Pritchard combine with an overpowering defense to lead Philadelphia into the NFL championship game for the first time but the Chicago Cardinals earn the NFL title with a 28-21 victory at icy Comiskey Park.

1948 — Eagles win their first NFL championship, defeating the Chicago Cardinals, 7-0, in a blinding snowstorm at Shibe Park.

1949 — Thompson sells the team to 100 buyers, each of whom paid $3,000 for one of the 100 shares. They were called the "Happy Hundred" or the "100 Brothers." Their leader was James P. Clark, a Philadelphia sportsman and business executive, and the 100 investors included some of the leading names in Philadelphia business, government and politics, including Leonard Tose. Vince McNally is named general manager. University of Pennsylvania All-America C/LB Chuck Bednarik is a 1st round draft choice. The Eagles win their 3rd straight Eastern Division title and defend their NFL championship with a 14-0 win over the Los Angeles Rams.

1951 — Alvin (Bo) McMillan replaces Greasy Neale as head coach. McMillan becomes ill the night before the season opener and is replaced by Wayne Millner. End-placekicker Bobby Walston is named rookie of the year.

1953 — Bobby Thomason and Adrian Burk combine to pass for a league-high 3,089 yards. Pete Pihos catches 63 passes for 1,049 yards and 10 touchdowns to lead league. Eagles finish in second place and snap Cleveland's 11-game winning streak with 42-27 win in season finale.

1955 — Pihos again leads all NFL pass receivers with 62 catches for 864 yards. Joseph A. Donoghue, Eagles' vice president/secretary, is elected assistant treasurer of the NFL.

1957 — Rookie QB Sonny Jurgensen highlights a 4-8 season by passing Eagles to a 17-7 upset of the NFL Eastern Division Champion Cleveland Browns.

1958 — Buck Shaw signs as head coach replacing Hugh Devore. Eagles acquire quarterback Norm Van Brocklin in trade with Los Angeles. Team moves home games from Connie Mack Stadium to University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and attendance almost doubles.

1959 — With Pete Retzlaff and Tommy McDonald his chief targets, Norm Van Brocklin passes Eagles to 7-5 record and second place tie with Cleveland.

1960 — QB Norm Van Brocklin and Chuck Bednarik, who plays 60 minutes at center and linebacker, pace the Eagles to their first Eastern Division title in 11 years. The Birds then win their third NFL championship with a come-from-behind 17-13 victory over Green Bay at Franklin Field. Van Brocklin, the league's MVP, and head coach Buck Shaw both announce their retirements at the end of the season.

1961 — Nick Skorich is named head coach and Sonny Jurgensen takes over as the starting quarterback. Despite Jurgensen's record-setting season as a passer and a 10-4 record, the Eagles fail to repeat as division champions.

1963 — RB Timmy Brown sets a then NFL record for total offense (2,436 yards; 841 rushing, 487 receiving, 11 passing, 945 kickoff returns, and 152 punt returns) in a season. With the club's 91 outstanding shares now held by 65 stockholders, club president Frank L. McNamee said it would be put up for sale with an asking price of 4,500,000. Jerry Wolman, a 36-year old builder and self-made millionaire from Washington outbid Philadelphia businessman Jack Wolgin and became the new owner. The sale price was $5,505,000.

1967 — Quarterback Norm Snead and flanker Ben Hawkins set team passing and receiving records, respectively, but injuries to other key players contribute to a disappointing 6-7-1 record and a second place finish.

1969 — After Wolman's empire fell into serious financial trouble, a bankruptcy referee in U.S. District Court in Baltimore oversees the team's sale to Leonard Tose, a millionaire trucking executive. The price was a reported $16.1 million, at the time a record price for a professional sports team. Tose names former Eagles' receiving great Pete Retzlaff as general manager and Jerry Williams as head coach.

1971 — The Eagles leave Franklin Field for a new home at Veterans Stadium. After three consecutive crushing losses at the beginning of the season, assistant Ed Khayat replaces Jerry Williams (who had led the club to only a 3-10-1 mark in 1970) as head coach.

1972 — After a stormy 2-11-1 season, Tose accepts general manager Retzlaff's resignation and releases the entire coaching staff. A bright spot, however, is Harold Jackson who leads the NFL in receptions and receiving yards (62-1,048).

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1973 — Under new coach Mike McCormick and new quarterback Roman Gabriel, the Eagles have an exciting offensive season but can muster only a 5-8-1 record. In his first year as a full-time receiver, Harold Carmichael becomes the second consecutive Eagle to lead the NFL in receptions (67).

1974 — Under newly appointed general manager Jim Murray, the Eagles trade with Cincinnati and acquire LB Bill Bergey. Bergey bolsters the defense and wins Pro Bowl honors along with TE Charle Young, who becomes the third consecutive Eagle to lead the league in pass receptions (63).

1976 — After a 4-10 season in 1975, Tose appoints 39-year old Dick Vermeil of UCLA as head coach but the Birds again earn a 4-10 mark.

1977 — QB Ron Jaworski is obtained from the Los Angeles Rams in exchange for the rights to TE Charle Young. Bill Bergey, keying the newly-installed 3-4 defense of coordinator Marion Campbell, wins all-pro and all-conference honors and is selected to play in his third Pro Bowl.

1978 — The Eagles post a 9-7 record, their first winning season since 1966, and make the playoffs for the first time since 1960. They lose the NFC Wild Card playoff game in Atlanta, however, 14-13 as the Falcons score two 4th-quarter TDs and Eagles' Mike Michel misses a 34-yard FG try with 1:34 to play. Wilbert Montgomery, in his first starting season, rushes for 1,220 yards to become the first Eagle since Steve Van Buren to surpass 1,000 in a season. CB Herman Edwards provided the "Miracle of the Meadowlands" when he scooped up a fumbled handoff from Joe Pisarcik to Larry Csonka and raced 26 yards for the winning touchdown with 20 seconds left to play before a stunned Giants Stadium crowd of 70,318.

1979 — With an 11-5 regular season record — their best since 1961 — the Eagles tie Dallas for first place in the NFC East and go to the playoffs as a wild card team. After beating Chicago, 27-17, in the Wild Card Game, the Birds are upset at Tampa Bay, 24-17 in a divisional playoff round. Wilbert Montgomery sets a club record with 1,512 rushing yards, and Harold Carmichael sets a then NFL record on Nov. 4, catching a pass in his 106th consecutive game. Rookie barefoot kicker Tony Franklin boots the second longest FG in NFL history — 59 yards — in a 31-21 victory at Dallas. Dick Vermeil is voted NFL coach of the year.

1980 — The Eagles win 11 of their first 12 games and go on to a 12-4 mark and the NFC East championship. The Birds trounce Minnesota 31-16, in the divisional playoff round and then upend Dallas, 20-7 at Veterans Stadium, to win the NFC title and a berth in Super Bowl XV. The Oakland Raiders prevail in that game, however, 27-10. Ron Jaworski leads the NFC with a 90.9 passing rating while throwing for 3,527 yards and 27 touchdowns. He is named NFL player of the year by the Maxwell Football Club and NFC player of the year by UPI. Harold Carmichael's then-record NFL receiving streak is snapped at 127 games when he fails to catch a pass in the regular season finale at Dallas after sustaining a back injury in the first half.

1981 — After building a 6-0 record early in the season, the Birds struggle in their final eight games, post a 10-6 record and appear in the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year but are upset at home in the NFC Wild Card Game by the NY Giants, 27-21. The Birds' defense ranks first in the NFL in fewest yards allows (4,447) and fewest points allowed (221). On offense, Harold Carmichael enjoys the third 1,000-yard receiving year of his career and Wilbert Montgomery rushes for 1,402 yards.

1982 — An NFL players' strike takes place after two games and stops play for eight weeks. When play resumes on November 21, the long layoff hurts the Eagles. After splitting their first two games of the season, the Birds come back from the strike to lose four in a row and miss the playoffs for the first time since 1977. A 24-20 Eagles' victory at Dallas on December 26 is the last victory in the Philadelphia career of head coach Dick Vermeil, who resigns shortly following the season after compiling a 55-51-0 overall record.

1983 — Marion Campbell replaces Dick Vermeil as head coach after six seasons as the Eagles' defensive coordinator. Owner and president Leonard Tose announces in January that his daughter, Susan Fletcher, the Eagles' vice president and legal counsel, would eventually succeed him as primary owner of the Eagles. After winning four of their first six games, the Eagles become mired in a seven-game losing streak and finish with a 5-11 record. The Birds' offense is highlighted by first-team all-pro and AFC-NFC Pro Bowl selection Mike Quick, who leads the league and sets club records with 1,409 yards receiving on 69 catches.

1984 — After a 1-4 start, the Eagles post a 5-5-1 record over their final 11 games. Philadelphia's swarming defense sets a then club record of 60 quarterback sacks. Wilbert Montgomery establishes the Eagles' career rushing record for yards (6,538) and attempts (1,465) surpassing the marks set by Pro Football Hall of Famer Steve Van Buren from 1944-1951. Kicker Paul McFadden establishes an Eagles' season scoring record with 116 points (tops among rookies), surpassing Bobby

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

Walston's 30-year mark of 114, and is named NFC rookie of the year. Ron Jaworski suffers a broken leg at St. Louis in week 13, snapping his streak of 116 consecutive starts (believed to be an all-time record for NFL QBs).

1985 — On March 12, Leonard Tose, the Eagles' owner since 1969, announces an agreement to sell the team to Norman Braman and Ed Leibowitz, highly successful automobile dealers from Florida for a reported $65 million. After obtaining the approval of the other NFL owners and fulfilling the terms of the transaction, Braman officially becomes the Eagles' new owner on April 29. That same day, Braman elevates Harry Gamble, general manager since February 4, to vice president-general manager overseeing day-to-day operations of the club. All-time Eagles' rushing leader Wilbert Montgomery does not report to training camp and is traded to Detroit for LB Garry Cobb in preseason. The Eagles again overcome a 1-4 start, but fall off the pace and finish 7-9. Head coach Marion Campbell is released on December 16, and Fred Bruney takes over as interim head coach for final game at Minnesota.

1986 — Buddy Ryan, defensive coordinator of the Chicago Bears' Super Bowl XX Champions, is named the 17th head coach in Eagles' history on January 29. On July 16, Norman Braman becomes the sole owner of the team, purchasing the remaining 35 percent from his brother-in-law Ed Leibowitz. Harry Gamble is promoted to president-chief operating officer. Ryan makes sweeping changes in the Eagles' roster, keeping young players and releasing several veterans. The youthful Birds struggle to a 5-10-1 record against the toughest schedule in the league. The Birds place two players on the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl roster: WR Mike Quick and DE Reggie White. White ties a Pro Bowl record with 4 sacks and is named MVP of the game.

1987 — In March, Ron Jaworski, who set nearly every club passing record from 1977-1986, is put on waivers after the club decides not to guarantee his contract. The Eagles split their first two games of the season before the NFL was beset by a players strike. After all games of Week 3 were cancelled, the NFL resumed play with replacement teams for the next three weeks. The Birds' replacement team goes 0-3 and sets the stage for a surge by the regular players when they return to work. Philadelphia's regulars proceed to win three straight after the strike and move into a tie for 2nd place in the NFC East. They go on to finish 7-8 overall (7-5 in non-strike games) and due to a tie-breaking system, rank 4th in the NFC East behind Dallas and St. Louis who also posted 7-8 marks. Offensively, WR Mike Quick earns his fifth consecutive trip to the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl while QB Randall Cunningham (Pro Bowl 1st alternate) emerges as a rising talent. Cunningham threw 23 TD passes and became the first QB to lead his team in rushing (505 yards) since the Bears' Bobby Douglas did so in 1972. The defense was led by DE Reggie White, who was named the NFL's defensive player of the year. White's 21 sacks set an NFC record and fall one shy of the NFL mark.

1988 — The Eagles post the NFL's best mark (6-1) over the final seven weeks of the regular season en route to a 10-6 record and the NFC Eastern division title. But their playoff fate is not sealed until moments after the conclusion of their 23-7 victory at Dallas in week 16. It is then that NY Jets' QB Ken O'Brien throws a TD pass to Al Toon to defeat the Giants and ensure the division title for the Eagles. Philadelphia then travels to Chicago for an NFC divisional playoff game against the Bears and a place in NFL history. The game, which begins in sunny, 29 degree weather, would later be dubbed "The Fog Bowl," after a thick fog rolls off Lake Michigan late in the 2nd quarter. Due to the fog, visibility on the playing field was extremely difficult and the Bears prevail, 20-12. The shining season included the selection of QB Randall Cunningham, DE Reggie White and TE Keith Jackson as starters in the Pro Bowl. Cunningham, who sets a number of Eagles' single-season passing records and leads the club in rushing for the second straight season, earns Pro Bowl MVP honors. He also wins the Maxwell Football Club's Bert Bell Award as the NFL's top player. White leads the NFL in sacks for the second consecutive year and Jackson sets an Eagles' receiving record with 81 catches en route to earning rookie of the year honors from The Sporting News.

1989 — The Eagles used an aggressive, ball-hungry defense — which led the NFL in takeaways (56) and interceptions (30), and set a team record with 62 QB sacks — to finish 11-5. Philadelphia, however, finished second to the Giants in the NFC East (despite two victories in head-to-head competition) and faced the LA Rams in the Wild Card playoff. Although playing a postseason game at Veterans Stadium for the first time since 1981, the Birds fell 21-7. QB Randall Cunningham posted similar numbers to his superb '88 campaign despite missing receivers Mike Quick and Keith Jackson for most of the season due to injuries. A deeper loss came on Dec. 9, when quarterback coach Doug Scovil passed away. The second alternate to the Pro Bowl, Cunningham started for the NFC squad when injuries kept the other QBs from playing. CB Eric Allen led the NFC in interceptions with 8.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1990 — In February, Buddy Ryan hired Rich Kotite as offensive coordinator to improve the Eagles' sluggish attack. At season's end, the offense led the NFL in rushing (2,556) and time of possession (33:19) and the NFC in scoring (396) and TD passes (34). The defense led the NFL in stopping the run thereby making the Birds the first team to lead the league in both rushing categories since Chicago did so in 1985. A 10-6 record put Philadelphia in the playoffs once again, but the Eagles suffered their third opening round defeat in as many seasons. The 20-6 Wild Card Game loss to Washington signaled an end to the five-year Ryan era. QB Randall Cunningham flourished with an NFC-leading 30 TD passes and 942 rushing yards, while rookie WRs Calvin Williams and Fred Barnett combined to make 17 TD receptions. RB Keith Byars tied a team record with 81 receptions and also threw 4 TD passes.

1991 — On January 8th, team owner Norman Braman opted not to renew the contract of Buddy Ryan, the Eagles' head coach since 1986. On the same day, Braman promoted then-offensive coordinator Rich Kotite, making him the 18th head coach in club history. They opened with a 3-1 mark, their best start since 1981, despite having lost QB Randall Cunningham for the year due to a knee injury suffered at Green Bay on opening day. After coming on to lead the Eagles to their solid start, backup QB Jim McMahon was also injured in game 5. With McMahon sidelined, the Birds suffered through a four-game skid. By midseason, Philadelphia had used five quarterbacks in eight games and seen its record sink to 3-5. The Eagles regrouped, however, and surged into contention for a playoff spot with a six-game winning streak (the club's longest since the start of '81) that upped their record to 9-5. But a loss at home to Dallas in game 15 ended Philadelphia's playoff hopes. With a record of 10-6, the Eagles joined the 49ers as the only NFL clubs to post 10-or-more wins in each of the last four seasons. The defense finished the season ranked #1 in the NFL in terms of fewest yards allowed overall, vs. the run, and vs. the pass. As such, the Birds became only the fifth club in NFL history and the first since 1975 to accomplish this rare triple. In addition, the Eagles' defense led the NFL in sacks and fumble recoveries and tied for the league lead in takeaways. Five members of that defensive unit represented the Eagles in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl – DEs Reggie White and Clyde Simmons, DT Jerome Brown, and LB Seth Joyner were selected as starters while CB Eric Allen also made the NFC squad. The selection of White, Simmons, and Brown marked only the sixth time in NFL history that three defensive linemen from one team were elected to the Pro Bowl.

1992 — The Eagles were dealt a huge blow before the season even began as all-pro defensive tackle Jerome Brown was killed in an automobile accident on June 25th in his hometown of Brooksville, FL. The tragedy overshadowed the promise of the upcoming season which included the return of QB Randall Cunningham - out almost the entire '91 season with a knee injury - as well as the addition of RB Herschel Walker whom the Eagles acquired as a free agent just three days before Brown's death. They finished second in the NFC East with an 11-5 record and returned to the playoffs, earning a Wild Card victory over the Saints before dropping a Divisional Playoff to the eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys. The win over the Saints was the team's first postseason victory since 1981 and its first road playoff conquest since 1949. Offensively, Walker became the fourth Eagle to top 1,000 rushing yards in a season and the first since Earnest Jackson in '85. Off the field, a September 24th ruling by U.S. District Judge David Doty paved the way for free agency in the NFL by finding the league's "Plan B" policy in violation of federal antitrust laws and provided the four plaintiffs in the suit with an opportunity to sign with another club. Among those four was Eagles TE Keith Jackson, who four days later inked a deal with the Miami Dolphins.

1993 — In January, the NFL and the Players Association signed a Collective Bargaining Agreement, a 7-year deal that would institute a form of limited free agency to replace the "Plan B" system. The most prominent NFL player affected by the settlement was the Eagles' all-time sack leader Reggie White, who went on to sign with the Green Bay Packers on April 5th. On the field, the Eagles produced an 8-8 record. After a flying start in which the Birds jumped out to a 4-0 record on the strength of three consecutive dramatic come-from-behind wins, season-ending injuries to QB Randall Cunningham, WR Fred Barnett and others were followed by a six-game losing streak (their worst skid since '83). Nonetheless, backup QB Bubby Brister led them to wins in 4 of their final 6 contests, a stretch that kept them in the playoff hunt until the final week of the season.

1994 — A new chapter in Eagles history began on April 6th when Norman Braman, the team's owner since 1985, reached an agreement in principle to sell the franchise to Jeffrey Lurie, a Boston native and president of a Hollywood-based movie production company. Once NFL owners voted to approve the sale on May 6th, Lurie officially took over the club on May 17. Despite losing the opener, the Birds bounced back to win 7 of their next 8 contests, including a 40-8 thumping of the eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers. However, the Eagles went on to drop their last 7 games, finishing 7-9 and out of the playoffs. Two days after the season finale, Rich Kotite's 4-year reign as head coach ended when he was dismissed. RB Herschel Walker etched his name into the NFL record books as the first player in the 75-year history of the league to record a 90-plus yard run, reception, and kickoff return in a single season. Only one other player - Hall-of-Famer Bobby Mitchell - had previously recorded that trifecta in a career. With back-to-back 100-yard rushing performances at SF and vs. Wash., rookie RB Charlie Garner became only the 7th back in NFL history to eclipse the century mark in his first two contests. DE William Fuller, a free agent acquisition from Houston, notched at least one sack in 7 straight games and subsequently broke the club record of 6 consecutive games shared by Reggie White and Clyde Simmons.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1995 — On February 2, owner Jeffrey Lurie named Ray Rhodes as the 19th head coach in team history. Eleven months and a playoff victory later, that decision resulted in NFL coach of the year honors for Rhodes. In his first season , the former San Francisco 49ers defensive coordinator battled through a sluggish 1-3 start to put the Eagles back on the winning track. Rodney Peete took over at QB for Randall Cunningham and led them to 9 wins in their final 12 games. RB Ricky Watters, one of the NFL's most prominent free agent acquisitions of the year (he left the 49ers for the Eagles on 3/25/95), combined with Charlie Garner to give Philadelphia the league's 4th best rushing attack. In the postseason, the Eagles routed the favored Detroit Lions, 58-37, in a Wild Card game. Philadelphia's season, ended, however, a week later as they bowed out to the eventual Super Bowl champion Cowboys, 30-11, at Texas Stadium. At season's end, Watters, DE William Fuller (an NFC-high 13 sacks), and LB William Thomas (whose 7 INTs were the most by an NFL linebacker since 1983) represented the Eagles in the Pro Bowl. Off the field, team owner Jeffrey Lurie and his wife, Christina, oversaw the formation of Eagles Youth Partnership (EYP). The charitable wing of the Eagles, EYP was formed in order to improve the quality of life and enhance opportunities for children in the Greater Philadelphia region.

1996 — For the second consecutive year the Eagles compiled a 10-6 regular season record and earned a Wild Card playoff berth. As such, Ray Rhodes became the first coach to lead the Eagles into the playoffs in each of his first two seasons at the helm. In the NFC Wild Card game, however, the Eagles fell to the host San Francisco 49ers, 14-0, in rain-drenched 3Com Park. For the third time in six seasons, the Eagles lost their starting QB to injury early on as Rodney Peete ruptured a tendon in his right knee vs. Dallas. Ty Detmer led the Birds to four straight wins and teamed with WR Irving Fryar and RB Ricky Watters to fuel the conference's #1 offense (351.7 yds/game). Fryar recorded career highs in TDs (11) and receptions (a team-record 88) and also tied a Birds' single-game record with four TD catches vs. Miami on 10/20. Watters a Pro Bowl berth with personal bests in rushing atts. (353), rushing yards (1,411), TDs (13), and total yards from scrimmage (a league-leading 1,855). DE William Fuller again led the team with 13 sacks en route to his 3rd straight Pro Bowl. MLB James Willis' interception in the end zone in the final moments of game 9 at Dallas sealed a big win. Willis' theft off QB Troy Aikman and subsequent lateral to CB Troy Vincent resulted in a 104-yard TD return. The Eagles were one of the NFL's most aggressive teams in free agency. The signing of Vincent along with that of Watters the previous year, made Philadelphia the only team to land another club's "transition" free agent in 1995 and '96.

1997 — After a 4-6 start clouded the club's shot at the post-season, the Eagles turned to 2nd-year QB Bobby Hoying. A 2-0-1 record in his first three starts brought them back into contention, but ended the year with a 6-9-1 record. Injuries plagued the club as 42 different players started, including three different QBs (Ty Detmer, Rodney Peete and Hoying). WR Irving Fryar posted 86 receptions for a career-high 1,316 yards and RB Ricky Watters became the first Eagle to top the 1,000-yard rushing plateau in three consecutive years. The defense's most memorable performance came in a win vs. Green Bay as they held the Pack without a TD, snapping a string of 85 games (incl. playoffs) in which they had scored a TD.

1998 – A disappointing 3-13 season led to the dismissal of head coach Ray Rhodes on December 28th, one day after the season finale. In Rhodes' fourth season at the helm, the Eagles started 0-5 before posting their first win. RB Duce Staley led the Eagles in rushing (1,065 yards), receptions (57), total yards from scrimmage (1,497), and TDs (6) as he became the first Eagle draft pick to top the 1,000-yd. rushing plateau since Wilbert Montgomery (1981). On defense, the Eagles procured one of the DE Hugh Douglas in a trade with the Jets. Douglas led the Eagles and finished 7th in the NFL with a career-high 12.5 sacks, including a club-tying record of 4.5 at San Diego.

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

1999 – Former Green Bay quarterback coach Andy Reid was named head coach on January 11th. Three months later, the club used the 2nd overall draft choice to select QB Donovan McNabb, one of the most accomplished athletes to ever come out of Syracuse. Their 2-7 start prompted Reid to insert McNabb into the starting lineup for six of the final seven contests. In his first start on Nov. 14th vs. Washington, McNabb sparked the Eagles to a 35-28 win over the Redskins. RB Duce Staley garnered his second straight 1,000-yd. rushing season and accounted for a NFL-best 41% of his team's offense. New defensive coordinator Jim Johnson turned up the heat as his troops accounted for a league-best 46 take-aways, including 28 interceptions (3rd in NFL), five of which were returned for TDs (a team record). FS Brian Dawkins and CB Troy Vincent earned their first Pro Bowl selections. Vincent's 7 INTs tied for the league lead and became the first Eagle to top the entire NFL in INTs since 1972 (Bill Bradley). Although the Eagles finished 5-11, Reid implemented a positive attitude in his young group of players that included 14 true rookies on the season-ending roster.

2000 – Andy Reid, the NFL's coach of the year, led the Eagles to the greatest turnaround in franchise history, finishing 2nd in the NFC East at 11-5. The season started with a perfectly executed onsides kick by David Akers to kickoff the season opener at Dallas, leading to a 41-14 win. The Eagles won 10 of their next 13 contests and earned the top Wild Card spot in the NFC. In the playoffs, the Eagles overwhelmed Tampa Bay, 21-3, before losing to the eventual NFC Champion NY Giants in the Divisional Playoffs. After RB Duce Staley went down for the season with a foot injury in game 5, Donovan McNabb became a legitimate MVP candidate (he finished 2nd in AP voting to Rams RB Marshall Faulk). McNabb accounted for 74.6% of the team's total net yards. TE Chad Lewis led all NFC tight ends in receptions (69) and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. The defense featured 3 Pro Bowlers in CB Troy Vincent, DE Hugh Douglas (15 sacks, 2 in playoffs), and MLB Jeremiah Trotter. First round draft choice DT Corey Simon recorded a rookie team-record 9.5 sacks.

2001 — The Eagles captured their first NFC Eastern Division Championship since 1988 and their first appointment in the NFC title game since 1980. Adversity hit this club early and often. The first preseason game was cancelled due to problems with the Veterans Stadium NeXturf. Starting C Bubba Miller was lost to a season-ending foot injury. And they dropped their season opener in overtime to the Rams before true adversity devastated the entire world on September 11th when terrorist attacks struck the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. As a result, a week's worth of NFL games were postponed. The Eagles were 2-2 before beating the Giants, 10-9, on Monday Night Football for the first time since 1996 (a span of nine games). The Eagles won 8 of their last 10 games, including a dramatic 24-21 win over the Giants on December 30 to clinch the NFC East title. In the playoffs, the Eagles defeated the Bucs again, 31-9, and in the Divisional playoffs, Donovan McNabb made his homecoming to Chicago a sweet one, winning 33-19 at Soldier Field. The Pro Bowlers on defense were DE Hugh Douglas, MLB Jeremiah Trotter, CB Troy Vincent, and FS Brian Dawkins. The unit allowed the 2nd fewest point total in the NFL (208), including a league low 64 points permitted in 8 road games. In fact, their 7-1 road record was the best in franchise history. David Akers earned his first Pro Bowl berth and set a club record with 17 consecutive FGs made.

2002 — In the 31st and final season at Veterans Stadium, the Eagles set a team record for points scored (415) and sent a league-high 10 players to the Pro Bowl. However, they fell in the NFC Championship game for the second consecutive season. Andy Reid, the consensus coach of the year, proved the Eagles were not a one-man show, winning five of six games without Donovan McNabb (broken ankle). McNabb returned for the playoffs and directed a win in the Divisional playoff after 3rd QB A.J. Feeley started the final five games, winning his first four. Although the Eagles lost their season finale to the Giants, they were still able to clinch home field after the Jets trounced the Packers in the same stadium one day later. The defense finished in the top five in numerous categories and sent four players to the Pro Bowl: CB Troy Vincent, CB Bobby Taylor, FS Brian Dawkins, and DE Hugh Douglas. The offensive line also featured multiple Pro Bowl selections for the first time since 1980 with Tra Thomas, Jon Runyan and Jermane Mayberry. David Akers set a team record with 133 points to a Pro Bowl berth.

2003 — In a season marred with injuries, controversy, and a slow start, the Eagles captured their third consecutive NFC East division title and third straight trip to the NFC title game, a loss to Carolina. Lincoln Financial Field officially became the Eagles new nest with a season-opening Monday night contest vs. Tampa Bay. But the Eagles not only lost their first two contests, they were left without the services of Pro Bowl defensive backs Brian Dawkins and Bobby Taylor for a large chunk of the regular season (foot injuries). After various other injuries, two key players, LB Carlos Emmons (ankle) and

YEAR-BY-YEAR HISTORY

RB Brian Westbrook (triceps), were felled by season-ending ailments in December. After a 2-3 start, the Eagles rattled off nine straight wins, tying a team record previously set in 1960. That win streak was propelled by an improbable win at NYG on October 19. Trailing the Giants 10-7 with 1:34 remaining, no timeouts and a sputtering offense, Westbrook fielded a bouncing punt and raced 84 yards for the dramatic, game-winning score. During that win streak, the Eagles toughed out a crucial win at Green Bay with a last-minute, game-winning drive directed by Donovan McNabb and ended up earning home-field advantage in the playoffs for the 2nd straight season. After suffering through a paltry QB rating of 51.1 in the first six games, a nagging thumb injury in his throwing hand, and disgraceful, racial commentary by former ESPN analyst Rush Limbaugh following the 0-2 start, McNabb thrived. He garnered NFC offensive player of the month honors in November, leading Philadelphia to a 5-0 month. He engineered a come-from-behind playoff win vs. Green Bay before suffering a rib injury a week later vs. Carolina that sidelined him in the 4th quarter. The Eagles employed a unique running back trio (Westbrook, Correll Buckhalter, and Duce Staley), dubbed the "three-headed monster," that racked up 1,618 rushing yards, 2,465 total yards from scrimmage, and 29 total TDs. Despite giving up the ball 8 times during their 0-2 start, the team established a club record for fewest turnovers in a season with 22. They also turned in a franchise-record 6 games without a give-away.

2004 — One of the most eventful off-seasons in team history helped propel the Eagles to their first NFC Championship and subsequent Super Bowl appearance in 24 years. Although they lost a hard-fought battle to the Patriots, 24-21, in Jacksonville, the Eagles milestones were plentiful as they captured their 4th consecutive NFC East division title and won a franchise record 13 regular season games, while Andy Reid became the all-time winningest coach in franchise history surpassing Greasy Neale. The season started on the first day of the free agent signing period as they inked DE Jevon Kearse to a lucrative 8-year contract. After signing Giants LB Dhani Jones, the Eagles bolstered their offense in a highly-publicized trade with Baltimore and San Francisco on March 16th that sent WR Terrell Owens to Philadelphia for a 5th round draft choice and DE Brandon Whiting. Owens hauled in 3 TD passes on opening day vs. the Giants and ended up with 77 catches for 1,200 yards and 14 scores. His regular season was cut short on December 19, though, with a broken ankle that required surgery. Just over 6 weeks later, Owens courageously returned in time for Super Bowl XXXIX and posted 9 catches for 122 yards. Owens' battery mate, Donovan McNabb, also turned in a stellar campaign, completing 64% of his passes for 3,875 yards (both franchise records), 31 TDs and just 8 INTs for a career-high 104.7 QB rating. He became the first player in NFL history to finish a season with 30+ TD passes and fewer than 10 INTs and his 24 consecutive completions over a span of two games set an NFL record previously held by Joe Montana (22) in 1987. Brian Westbrook, in his first year as the Eagles featured back, piled up 1,515 total yards from scrimmage and 9 TDs, while leading all NFL RBs in receptions with 73. Those three, plus LT Tra Thomas earned Pro Bowl berths on the offensive side of the ball. The defense meanwhile, was led by Kearse (7.5 sacks), a trio of Pro Bowl defensive backs (FS Brian Dawkins, SS Michael Lewis, and CB Lito Sheppard), and MLB Jeremiah Trotter, who earned a Pro Bowl berth despite not being inserted into the starting lineup until game 9. Trotter returned to the Eagles in July after being released by the Redskins. The defense finished 2nd in the league in points allowed (16.3 per game) and sacks (47). K David Akers, who set a NFL record with 17 FGs of 40-yards-or-more, and LB Ike Reese both earned Pro Bowl berths from the special teams. In all, a league-best 10 Eagles earned trips to Hawaii. The Eagles stormed out to a 7-0 record before losing, 27-3, at Pittsburgh. After a win at NYG on November 28, the Eagles clinched the NFC East title with 5 games remaining. They went on to clinch home field advantage in the NFC after compiling a 13-1 record. In the playoffs, the Eagles topped Minnesota in the Divisional playoff round and Atlanta in the NFC Championship game.

EAGLES TELEVISION NETWORK

It has been 8 years since the Philadelphia Eagles formed the Eagles Television Network (ETN) and since then there have been amazing progressions for the Team based production group.

Starting this season ETN will call WPVI ABC-6 (Philadelphia's ABC affiliate) their Official Broadcast Partner. In the outlying markets, WOLF - Scranton/Wilkes Barre and WPMT Harrisburg/York/Lancaster will be network members.

ETN combines state of the art programming with exclusive access to the field, locker room and the personal lives of our players and coaches. To date ETN has earned over 80 regional Emmy nominations and has taken home over 20 awards. Other accolades include 27 national Telly Awards over the past six years as well as multiple local awards in the Philadelphia region.

ETN is housed within Lincoln Financial Field and is headed by Director of Broadcasting and Executive Producer, Rob Alberino. Along with Alberino, ETN is host to 7 full time employees that execute the Network's productions not only for broadcast but within the stadium as well.

In 2005, ETN will produce the following programs:

Eagles Preseason Games - The Eagles Television Network will broadcast three preseason games in 2005. WPVI, ABC-6 will carry the games in Philadelphia while WPMT airs the games to the fans in Harrisburg, York and Lancaster, and WOLF airs the games in Scranton-Wilkes Barre. Each game is re-aired after the live broadcast on the previously mentioned ETN affiliate stations.

ETN programming will include The Donovan McNabb Show, hosted by WPVI's Gary Papa. This program will not only bring viewers closer to one of the League's biggest stars, it will also go inside the locker room as well as go on location with Eagles players and coaches. This half hour show will air every Saturday evening at 11:35 pm on WPVI, and is a showcase of some of the best ETN has to offer.

The Eagles will also have a weekly highlight based show airing on WPVI on gamenights at 11:35 (or TBD on non-Sunday gamedays.) Eagles Total Access presented by Sovereign Bank will be the fastest half-hour on television and viewers will be able to see all of the highlights from the game, one on one interviews with players and exclusive locker room access that only ETN cameras can provide.

A magazine format show, The Andy Reid Show, will also showcase ETN's exciting style. The show will take viewers into the players' lives as well as the coaches' offices. Off the field features, historical segments, insightful analysis and an in depth look at the Eagles will be only a few things offered by this award winning show.

Lastly, new to the ETN family is The Eagles Kids Club. This half hour program will feature animated characters, instruction on the rules and fundamentals of the game from the players themselves and a host of other exciting segments for younger viewers. Created just for kids, this program will also offer question and answer segments with the players and a chance to learn about the guys on the team in a way that no other program can offer! It's the Eagles Kids Club where Kids become part of the team and it is coming this season!

EAGLES IN THE COMMUNITY

Eagles' Philosophy of Community Involvement Starts at the Top

In addition to being responsible for the founding and operation of Eagles Youth Partnership, the club's non-profit, charitable wing, Eagles Chairman/CEO Jeffrey Lurie, and team President Joe Banner, are both personally committed to improving the lives of children.

Foremost among Lurie's passions is the fight against autism, a biological disorder of the brain that impairs communication and social skills, basically rendering children, and later adults, unable to communicate their feelings and emotions. It is a fight he takes personally since he has a brother who is autistic. A director of both the NLM Family Foundation and the Autism Research Foundation, Lurie's involvement has been lifelong. In 2003, Lurie and his wife Christina chaired The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia Daisy Day Luncheon benefiting autism. In 2000, the Lurie family donated $1,000,000 to autism research.

Similarly, Banner's passion revolves around City Year, a non-profit community service organization that brings together young adults from diverse backgrounds for a challenging and rewarding year of community service. Throughout the country, over 1,500 corps members, from all races, economic and social backgrounds, tutor, mentor and support children of all ages. They help them develop their potential and play a more active role in their schools, homes and neighborhoods. Banner serves as Co-Chair of City Year Greater Philadelphia.

Tackling Breast Cancer

Last year, the Eagles organization embarked on a mission to raise awareness and funds to help the fight against breast cancer by launching the Tackling Breast Cancer campaign, which kicked off when the team hung a 30x40 foot pink ribbon banner on the south face of Lincoln Financial Field. In October, an estimated 2.4 million people were exposed to the ribbon. The Eagles also donated $5 from the sale of each pink Eagles hat towards the cause. Fan support from across the country led to sales of more than 32,000 pink hats resulting in a $208,000 donation from the Eagles and Lincoln Financial Group, to the Abramson Cancer Center of the University of Pennsylvania.

Eagles and our Players in the Community

In addition to taking part in various events on behalf of EYP, the Eagles and our players participate in community events. Here's a brief list of some of those activities:

- Eagles Help America Vote - In support of The Help America Vote Act, the Eagles mobilized this non-partisan effort, to register fans at a home game and encourage them to vote.
- AchieveAbility - Kids from AchieveAbility's after school program participated in the Eagles Jr. Training Camp, and heard from team representatives about career opportunities, and the skills needed to work for a football team.
- Stay Fit! - HHS Secretary Tommy Thompson and DE N.D. Kalu talked to 5th grade students about the importance of physical activity at an event to announce two federal fitness grants.

Spc. Sarro from Alpha Company was one of hundreds of soldiers honored as an Eagles Hometown Hero in 2004.

- Military Day at Training Camp - 350 Eagles fans serving in the military were treated to a VIP day at training camp. The group watched practice and was invited on the field at the end to be thanked personally by each player on the team.
- Fans Helping Fans - The Eagles and Fans Helping Fans teamed up to surprise FHF's first grant winner with a tour of the NovaCare Complex hosted by C Hank Fraley.
- Hopeline Cell Phone Drive - Verizon Wireless and the Eagles teamed up for the 2nd season to fight domestic violence through a phone collection. Fans donated wireless phones which were given to victims of domestic violence or sold with profits benefiting domestic violence advocacy groups.
- Eagles Women's Association Food Drive presented by Campbell's Chunky Soup - Each Thanksgiving, the Eagles hold a stadium-wide food drive to benefit the Greater Philadelphia Food Bank. This year's record-breaking event yielded 12,000 pounds of food.
- Book & Toy Drive and Donation - Each holiday season, the Eagles host a Book & Toy Drive which last year resulted in tens of thousands of toys and over $24,000 in donations to the U.S. Marines "Toys for Tots" effort. This was also the 2nd year staff participated by buying toys for children at Temple's Children's Medical Center. P Dirk Johnson also donated money to purchase these toys and delivered them along with G Shawn Andrews.

EAGLES IN THE COMMUNITY

Eagles fan Herb Osterhout got to live out a dream as he was invited to practice to meet Dononvan McNabb and the entire Eagles 2004 squad.

• Santa McNabb - Eagles QB Donovan McNabb made his annual holiday visit dressed as Santa Claus to the Whitman branch of the Free Library of Philadelphia (2004). McNabb distributed a new book to each child there and donated thousands of dollars of books to the Library benefitting all neighborhood children.

• NASDAQ Open - Eagles SVP/ CFO Don Smolenski joined LB Jeremiah Trotter, two Cheerleaders and SWOOP, as they presided over the opening bell of the NASDAQ Stock Market.

• Grassroots Grant - The Calhoun Street Field will receive a renovation, thanks to a $100,000 grant from the Eagles and the NFL's Grassroots Program.

• Community QB - Wayne Doebler of Senior Adult Activities Center of Montgomery County was the 2004 winner of the Eagles Community Quarterback Award. His work with Meals on Wheels won his organization a $10,000 grant donated in his name. Doebler and 9 other finalists awards at a ceremony at the NovaCare Complex.

• TreeVitalize - Eagles S Michael Lewis and CB Sheldon Brown joined state, city and school officials at Richard Wright Elementary School to announce the Eagles donation of $125,000 to plant 300 trees at sites across the city as part of TreeVitalize and the team's Go Green initiative. Later, the team visited Bregy Elementary School to plant 10 ceremonial trees.

• Ticket Donations - The Eagles visited Ft. Dix at an event to give away 450 tickets to the NFC Championship Game to community outreach workers and military personnel as a reward for their hard work and commitment to service. Included in that group were soldiers from the Army's 358th Civil Affairs Brigade who had recently returned from Iraq and received the Presidential Unit Citation for their outstanding service.

• SuperBowl XXXIX - Each day the 11 Eagles on the Injured Reserve list visited schools with the Eye Mobile or Book Mobile, or visited a local community group, such as the JFK Aircraft carrier, a seniors community center, and the Ronald McDonald House. Additionally, members of the organization, including Christina Weiss-Lurie, joined the Ponte Vedra Rotary Club to cleaning up a stretch of road and "Adopt-A-Highway."

United Way

As part of the NFL's partnership with the United Way, the Eagles work closely with the Southeastern PA chapter of this nationwide charity. The Eagles participate annually in the Hometown Huddle event. On this day, each NFL team partners with local United Way agencies to positively influence their community. In 2004, the Eagles worked with Caring People's Alliance, an after school program. LB Jeremiah Trotter joined the children for an afternoon of fun and learning, using word and memory games.

Additionally, this year, All-Pro safety Brian Dawkins represented the club in the NFL's series of PSA's. In Dawkins' PSA, the safety is drafted by the parks department, "fulfilling his lifelong dream" of giving the kids of Philadelphia a safe, clean place to play.

Magee Eagles Rugby Team

The Magee Eagles Wheelchair Rugby team is a competitive wheelchair team that wears authentic Eagles jerseys provided by the Philadelphia Eagles. Sponsored by Magee Rehabilitation Hospital and the Philadelphia Eagles, the Magee Eagles participate in numerous tournaments, including the Beast of the East Wheelchair Rugby Tournament here in Philadelphia.

Eagles All-Pro linebacker Jeremiah Trotter joined kids from Caring People's Alliance for Hometown Huddle in 2004.

WHO EVER THOUGHT "GO GREEN" WOULD BE MORE THAN JUST AN EAGLES CHEER?

Upon our move into Lincoln Financial Field, the Eagles launched a "Go Green" initiative. The entire Philadelphia Eagles organization made a commitment to become an environmentally responsible company.

Our mission? "To create and sustain championship performance on the field and in the community through programs that promote the quality of life in our region, green the environment and improve our impact on the planet."

Such a program, by its nature, requires breaking new ground. As we enter our third season, the program has produced a shift towards greener procurement practices, cleaner energy from wind sources, printing of our publications on recycled paper, and active recycling around our stadium, headquarters, and training facilities. We have also donated more than $125,000 towards the TreeVitalize program, which will result in more than 300 trees being planted at 24 schools in the School District of Philadelphia.

As a result, green has become more the just the color of our jerseys. GO GREEN has become a rallying cry for our team and a good citizenship message for our community. We invite you to join us.

GO GREEN
